

LIME ROCK FOUND.

Located Near Gypsum Deposit at Bear Creek Buttes.

Clarence Harvey of Prineville recently discovered the outcrop of a lime deposit in the Bear Creek butte district, near where the gypsum deposit was discovered some time ago. Samples of the lime were taken to Prineville and tested, with the result that the quality is pronounced to be of the very best. The Journal says Mr. Harvey does not know how extensive his find is yet, as he has not opened it up.

The discovery of an extensive body of lime rock in this county would upon development prove to be a valuable resource, as all of the lime used for building and other purposes in Central Oregon at present is freighted in from the railroad making the cost considerable.

Shorter Items of Interest.

The city marshal at Moro killed seven dogs in one week. Good work.

A small flow of oil has been struck in a Malheur test well, and the drillers expect to strike a gusher at any time.

The bonds for $3,000 for a new school house at Madras were sold on last Monday. The county treasurer advertised for bids, which were opened on that date.

Work is being pushed on an extension of the Mount Hood railroad in the upper Hood River valley, and it is believed at Hood River that this extension will ultimately form part of a railroad that will build into Central Oregon.

The Farmers' Union of Crook county has incorporated the Crook County Warehouse Company, with a capital stock of $2,000, and will build a warehouse at Shaniko. The main object is to handle the grain of the Madras country.

The showers of the past week or 10 days have been gratefully received at Madras. The Pioneer says the term "spotted" describes aptly the condition of crops in that section, yet there is going to be a good deal of grain produced there this year.

Rosland News.

ROSLAND, June 20.—Friday was gala day for Rosland folk. Being the last day of the Rosland school term, it was fittingly celebrated by a picnic given to the people of the vicinity. Many attended, and all had an excellent time and all the fish they could eat.

Steve Vancay's sheep passed through Rosland Saturday and Sunday.

E. G. Rourke returned from Portland the middle of the week and then went down to Bend after Dr. Turley, with whom he was to return today.

Will Taylor went down to Bend with Miss Florence Hunsell, who has been teaching the Rosland school for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Beech arrived in Rosland this afternoon and will stay in this vicinity for a week or 10 days. Mr. Beech is in the forest service.

Mr. and Mrs. Petit were up visiting Mr. and Mrs. Short on the Geo. Royce place above Crescent today.

Julius Poole was in town today for the first time for almost a year.

PORTER SHOTS TWO—DRUNK

Wounds Railway Officials at Shaniko, While Being Taken to Jail.

H. E. Brooks, a drunken Pullman porter, shot Bernard H. Trumbull and John S. McLaughlin at Shaniko early last Wednesday morning, the two wounded men being officials of the Illinois Central railway and stationed at Portland. The wounds are slight and both men will recover. Trumbull and McLaughlin had gone to Shaniko to be present at the wool sales, going in the wool buyers' special car, of which Brooks was porter.

Tuesday night Brooks became unruly and was too drunk to make up the berths, whereupon McLaughlin threw him off the train. The negro then began to make threats and the two men sprang from the car, seized Brooks by the arms, and started for the Shaniko jail with him. While on the way he slipped his hand into his pocket, drew a revolver and began shooting. He soon broke loose from the men, and shot Trumbull in the left leg just below the groin and also in the right leg. McLaughlin received a mild wound in the right leg several inches below the groin.

McLaughlin ran to the Columbia Southern hotel and secured help, and later the two men were hurried to Portland on a special. The negro escaped, and the last seen of him was at Sherar's bridge, where he was evidently heading for The Dalles.

Later—The negro was captured by the sheriff between Sherar's bridge and The Dalles.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Sneak Thieves Rob Homestead Cabin.

When Mrs. E. Herring went to her homestead up the river Sunday she found that during her absence her house had been robbed of several articles, including bed clothing and a bed spring. Mrs. Herring's homestead is in the neighborhood of H. C. Barney's place, the old soldier who recently had a half mile of his barbed wire fence cut between every post by some unscrupulous barbarian who wanted the little range the old man had fenced. It seems the "Jack-Pine Skinners," whoever that band of black-band pirates may be, are laboring under the hallucination that they can run the homesteaders out by harrassing them in this manner, but they will find in the

Mrs. Lois Erickson Wins Contest.

Secretary of the Interior Ballinger has finally rendered a decision in the contest of Lola D. Erickson vs. Cora J. Smith in favor of Mrs. Erickson. This is the case in which contest was instituted against Mrs. Smith's homestead on the Tumello, and has been strenuously fought beginning with the hearing before Commissioner Ellis and carried up through the various officers to the highest court, the secretary of the interior, Mrs. Smith has but one resource left, application for a review and rehearing of the case.

Turley Desert Claim Contested.

A contest case was heard before Commissioner Ellis last Thursday in which Richiellus E. Jones of Howard brought contest against the desert land entry of Dr. Turley, the land being in the Gist neighborhood. The contestant based his case on the allegation of falsity of annual proof, one of his claims being that Turley had listed certain improvements at a much higher figure than they were really worth. The land now under contest was secured by Dr. Turley two or three years ago through a contest brought by Turley against Jessie McAllister. It will be remembered that at that time he brought some five or six contests against the McAllisters, and lost in all of them except in this one, which is now being contested by Jones. Attorney Myers of Laidlaw appeared for Dr. Turley and Attorney Benson of Bend for Mr. Jones, in the present case.

Autos for Wenandy Stage Line.

J. H. Wenandy returned from Portland Tuesday evening, and announces that two automobiles will soon be put on his line between Madras and Bend, although he will run the machines to Prineville or any part of the county desired. The trip between Shaniko and Bend will be made in 12 hours. The autos will be put on in a few days.

Bridge Built at Dam Site.

Work on the power dam at Bend during the past week has consisted chiefly in building a sort of bridge across the river in the "exact location that the dam will occupy. Sets of three upright timbers, with a cross-piece on top, have been placed every few feet across the stream. These will act as supports for the bridge and a floor will be laid over the top. Wagons or cars loaded with rock will be driven upon this bridge and dumped into the river, the height of the bridge being the appropriate height of the dam. The workmen are now blasting out rock on the west side of the river to be used in the dam.
