“Trifles Make Perfection and”
Perfection is no Trifle.

IF YOU really want to accomplish anything in this world—and most people have some sort of a desire to do something—just paste this in your hat and remember it. The more you remember it, the more you will accomplish. The man who thinks trifles don't count, makes the mistake of his life. The merchant who thinks trifles don't count, soon finds his customers going to the store where trifles do count. The housewife who watches the trifles in her household expenses will soon put her husband on easy street. “Watching the trifles” means buying her goods where the prices are right, where the stock is kept clean and fresh and the quality of goods always kept up to the highest standard. And another thing—some stores figure that when the goods are sold that ends it. I figure that the goods I sell must be worth what you pay for them. If they don't give you satisfaction I am here to make it right and I will refund your money if you want it. I buy the best goods I can get and I guarantee all my goods to give you satisfaction—just try me and see. You will always find me at

F. A. Young, a sheep man of Mitchell, Or., is very well satisfied with this section of the country as a sheep range. It is understood he has again leased the Mueller company's timber holdings for next season and has also rented several of the meadow ranches on the upper river, among them being the Dick and Walter Vandeventer places and G. W. Triplett's homestead. Young runs about 6,000 sheep in this section.
