

AN AD WRITING CONTEST

Open to Every Student in the Public Schools of Crook County.

FIRST PRIZE $5.00 CASH
SECOND " $2.50 CASH
THIRD " $1.00 CASH

Did you ever write an "Ad?" I venture to say you never did. Looks easy though, doesn't it—just scribble it off—take it over to Mr. Rowe and have him print it. Sounds easy—YES—BUT JUST TRY IT.

Now, I have a proposition to make to every boy and girl going to school in Crook county. I want you to write an Ad for me. Not a freak Ad, but the kind of an Ad you think the people will read—and I will pay you for it. Here is the proposition: I have reserved as much of this page as we shall need in next Wednesday's Bulletin and for two or three weeks thereafter if we need it. I want to use the entire page if you will help me.

I am going to divide it into spaces two columns wide and six inches long and I want you to write an Ad for one of these spaces. Remember—no freaks but a good, readable Ad, that you think will "get the business." Bring your "copy" to me at the store and I will go with you to Mr. Rowe and you can tell him just how you want it set up. No names will be published but each Ad will be numbered.

I am not going to be the judge. The people who read the Ads will vote on which is the best one and the Ad receiving the largest number of votes will be given $5.00 in cash, the next largest $2.50 in cash and the third largest $1.00. All votes must be registered at my store and coupons will be furnished for the voting. If I should get enough Ads to run for two weeks the winners of each week must compete the third week for the prizes. I will pay 50¢ for all the Ads I publish whether you win a prize or not.

This contest is entirely free—you don't have to buy anything to enter. Just write the best Ad you know how and bring it to my store. The only condition is, all votes must be registered at my store by the one casting the vote, or be sent to me by mail. Come into the store and I will tell you all about the merchandise that you want to advertise. You can't write an Ad for any goods if you don't know the goods.

SOME THINGS TO REMEMBER.

Write only on one side of the paper. The space your Ad will occupy is two columns wide and six inches long. Write your Ad to cover some particular kind of goods and do not try to cover everything in the store. Do not try to get too much in this space—a crowded Ad never looks good. Write your Ad just as if you were talking to a friend. Remember these things and you can write a good Ad and stand a good chance of getting that $5.00.
