"Rest Room."

Thanksgiving
Thursday,
November 25

The
"Rest Room"
Is always warm.

This is the day when you want something on your table a little different from any other day of the 365. A few dainty "trimmings" to go with our old friend the "TURKEY." A relish and a bit of sweets add much to a meal. Where can you get these "out of the ordinary" dainties except at

The following interesting item appeared in the report of the last session of the county court. "Pursuant to statute the county court did this day burn and reduce to ashes the scalps of 358 coyotes and the front feet of 42 bob cats and 2 cougars."

L. H. McCann, who lives on an irrigated farm, raised a crop of fine potatoes this year. After digging them he sorted them into three grades. In one pile Mr. McCann has a thousand pounds and says there is not more than 1200 potatoes in the pile.

Rev. John Lewtas, an extensive traveler, writer, and lecturer, will begin revival services in the Bend church tonight. Rev. Lewtas enjoys the reputation of being an intensely interesting speaker, and the services he is about to inaugurate undoubtedly will do much good in Bend.

Several nights recently the mail stage from Shaniko has been very late, Bend people not being able to get their mail until the next morning. It would certainly be a great benefit to Bend if the postoffice department would establish that direct line from Shaniko, through Madras, to Bend.

The Merrill & Wilkinson Co. had a party of homeseekers out on the High Desert during the snow storm. They report that their new auto behaved nicely in the storm, plowing through the drifts like a whirlwind. They arrived home in good time, with no adventures worth mentioning.

D. L. McKay, western representative, and member of the firm of Muller Lumber Company, returned to Bend Saturday for a short business visit. He reports that Mrs. McKay has been in the hospital at Hot Lake for some time, and was improving in health when he left her. Mr. McKay's son Clyde is also in Bend.

J. N. B. Gerking of Laidlaw was a Bend visitor the latter part of the week. Mr. Gerking is a farmer of that section and has great faith in this entire section as a farming community. In the matter of fruit, he believes that more than enough for home consumption will be grown here. He is of the opinion that those who are selling their land since the rise in prices are making a great mistake.

Hunter & Staats received this week a postal card with a view of the room in St. Paul, Minn., which contains an exhibit of agricultural products of the Northwest gathered by the Great Northern Railway Co. The Deschutes Valley dry farming exhibit which was sent to Billings, appears in this collection. The postal was sent to Messrs. Hunter & Staats by John I. Springer, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Great Northern.

Special Notice.

Rev. John Lewtas will deliver a lecture to women only on next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Subject, "The Woman for the Twentieth Century." All women and young women are invited.

Every Good Bank

That conducts its affairs with the sole idea of receiving the deposits of the community and lending them out to its customers, engaged in legitimate enterprises, on good security, either of business credits or collateral, at reasonable rates of interest, will prove a benefactor to the community and will enjoy peace in its business affairs, knowing that its assets are real ones, and that the solvency of the Bank is absolute.

With this confidence in itself it will inspire confidence in others.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BEND runs this kind of a Bank, and attributes its steady growth to adhering to this policy.

Development in the Bend country will be rapid in 1910. Are you prepared to take advantage of the opportunities that will occur for the man with money?

If not, start an account with the First National Bank of Bend and add to it each week.
