LARA'S OF BEND

We want you to be absolutely certain that Lara's is "The Store of Better Values." Look around in every store that you can find—get prices—but don't forget to look carefully at the quality as well.

Price alone is no guarantee that the article you are buying is cheap. Take Men's Kahki Pants for instance. I can buy these goods to sell at $1.00 a pair—but under no circumstances would I offer my customers this class of goods.

A good Kahki Pant is worth $1.50. But I have the Genuine Government Kahki Pants heavier and stronger than any other made and my price for these is only, per pair .....

$1.50

The kind that sell for $1.00 are not worth 75 cents. The kind I sell for $1.50—the Government kind—are really worth $2.00 but my price is $1.50 a pair.

Watch the quality as well as the price and you will always buy your goods at Bend, Or., April 16.—With the price of eggs soaring and the problem of the increasing cost of living staring every one in the face even more fiercely than how to dodge the census man, a hen in the neighboring town of Tumalo yesterday took it into her head to break all records for big eggs. Her production in this line had the astounding dimensions of 8½ inches and 6½ inches around, in long and short routes, and weighed four ounces. It is reported that the proprietor of the prize, fowl has been offered enough money for her to buy a lot in Bend, but prefers to keep the famous egg-maker, believing that she will make a rich man of him.
