EXAMINING INTERIOR.

Agricultural College Experts Visit Central Oregon for Information.

Three members of the faculty of the Oregon Agricultural College are investigating Central Oregon—not for fraud but to ascertain its climatic and soil characteristics and the general conditions affecting agriculture. They are Professor C. E. Bradley, chemist, Professor H. D. Scudder, agronomist, and Professor J. Kraus, assistant horticulturist. They came into the Deschutes country by way of Shaniko, at Prineville obtained an auto and crossed the country to Sisters and thence to Bend, examining incidentally the Squaw Creek country and the Columbia Southern segregation. Here they looked over some near-by fields, taking a specimen of alfalfa from the Buckholz place for laboratory examination. From Bend they will go south and swing around by way of La Pine, Crescent and Silver Lake to Burns, and then return to Bend for further work.

The purpose of this visit is to learn what interior Oregon is—not from boomers or dreamers but by personal inspection of disinterested men trained in scientific agriculture. From the information thus acquired they will be able not only to speak with some authority of the capabilities of the country but may give advice as to treatment of the soil and selection of crops for the best results. This work can be done by the Oregon Agricultural College as no other agency could.

Water Protest to Be Tried.

A. M. Drake returned last Monday from Portland, bringing with him Attorney Fisher to represent him at the hearing of the protest against the D. I. & P. Co.'s proposal to impound water at Crane Prairie for reclamation of the Benham Falls segregation. This hearing will begin before Commissioner Ellis Thursday. The protest is against reducing the flow of the river below the normal minimum, not against impounding flood water.

FOR SALE—Team, harness buckboard, tent, etc.—P. C. BURT, Bend.

Misses Maude Vandeventer and Ione Fisher of Lava were Bend visitors Tuesday.

MARRIED.

JONES-JOHNSTON.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. O. Johnston, in Bend, at 2 p. m. on Monday, September 12, 1910, Mr. George A. Jones and Miss Helen D. Johnston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Anthony Mitchell. The young couple went at once to the up river ranch of the groom, where they will spend their honeymoon.

PAULKNER-BLACK.

Dr. W. W. Faulkner and Miss Ella Black were married at the Presbyterian manse in Prineville Tuesday afternoon of last week by the Rev. C. C. Babbidge. Dr. Faulkner recently came from Roseburg and established himself in Bend as a dentist. Miss Black, a Roseburg girl, has been a successful teacher in the Roseburg and Albany schools. The Faulkners returned to Bend last Wednesday night. They have taken the O'Neill cottage in Deschutes addition.

Railroad Crew Chased Cooks.

The crew of Montenegrins at McLaughlin's railroad construction camp, six miles north of Bend, became displeased with their cooks Monday noon and drew knives and started to carve them. The chief cook and two "flunkies" hiked out in lively style and have not returned. An attempt was made to send news of the rumpus to the Sheriff but it failed to get through and no official action has been taken.

Hold Grain for High Prices.

(Lakeview Examiner.) The ranchers of Summer Lake are nearly all through with their harvest and many of them are through with threshing their crop of grain. There seems to be an abundance of threshing machinery there as separators could be seen last week on three farms adjoining each other yet the crop seems to be close to the average despite the dry season which is the lowest in moisture since the summer of 1888. The ranchers are holding their grain for high prices and it is said that some are asking as high as 2½ cents for barley. The large added travel that is going into Christmas Lake and other Northern valleys is creating a demand for feed.

Street Lamps for Madras.

(Madras Pioneer.)

The council has voted to purchase six large gas lamps to light Main street. These lamps are to be the kind that are fed by hollow wires from pressure tanks, and are to be suspended over the middle of the street. The street committee is under direct orders from the council to purchase and install these lamps at once, and the order is backed up by the sum of nearly $2000 in the city treasury. The probable cost will be about $250.

If these lamps are actually installed and used to light the street it will be the first thing in the way of improvement the council has done.

Oregon Trunk Well at Metolius.

(Madras Pioneer.)

The big well of the Oregon Trunk Railway company at Metolius, is now down 843 feet, 9 and 7-8 inches. The plan is to put the hole down to the second flow of water, it being thought that the first vein will not furnish enough for the needs of the company. It is estimated that about twenty engines will take water from this station every twenty-four hours, each locomotive taking about 6000 gallons. Thus it will be easy to compute that the Oregon Trunk wants a well with a capacity for furnishing 200,000 gallons per day.

The News of Tumalo.

TUMALO, OR., Sept. 11.—We are having some very cloudy weather lately.

Most everyone are busy in these parts cutting grain and getting ready for the balers and threshers.

Geo. Campbell of Grants Pass, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wimer, is visiting at Tumalo.

Wimer's and Spaugh have received their new Lightning hay press and will begin baling this week. They have about 600 tons to bale in these parts.

We suppose the road is fixed up between here and Bend now, as some one put a guide board near Tumalo.

A dozen young ladies gave a banquet for Miss Marion Wiest last Wednesday night at the F. P. Smith residence. The repast was composed of six courses, catered by Mrs. Herring. Table decorations were purple asters and bachelor's buttons. Miss Williams was toastmaster and beside the guest of honor there were gathered at the board Misses Tot Tagert, Florence Young, Nona Richardson, Helen Johnston, Harriet Dolsen, Anne Markel, Cornelie Wilson, Gertrude Markel, Miriam Ewing, and Iva West. Half a dozen toasts were appropriately responded to.
