No Personal Grievance.

Dr. P. H. Dencer, chairman of the meeting of segregation settlers who organized the Water Users Association at Bend September 17, asks that the published report of one of his statements be given a little fuller so as to avoid wrong inferences. The report printed was that "the chairman spoke of the hardship of having to pay for water without getting it." Dr. Dencer says he has no personal complaint against the service of the irrigation company and his statement in the meeting was general and merely in recognition of the hardship that others claimed to have suffered.

Special Work By Freemasons.

There was special work at the local Masonic lodge last Saturday night, when Judge Ellis was made a master mason. Thirteen of the fraternal brethren came over from Prineville to assist in the ceremonies. These were Dr. Charles S. Edwards, T. M. Baldwin, D. P. Adamson, W. F. King, C. F. Smith, J. H. Haner, W. J. Pancake, J. H. Wigle, G. W. Noble, D. L. Wyld, Dale Jones, M. E. Brink and I. Michel. After the lodge session there was a spread at Taggart's, with covers for 33. The visitors returned to Prineville Sunday.

Progress of Railroad Work.

The Oregon Trunk contractors have been for the past week working on the V just south of town, where a spur is planned to go to the mill sites on the Siasmore place.

Work on the spur leading to the dam and power plant has been stopped until there shall be a right of way adjustment through the Lytle acre tracts.

The overhead crossing at Greenwood avenue has been completed to the satisfaction of the city council.

Tennyson Disturbed.

This story is told in Robert H. Sherard's book "My Friends the French." "A granddaughter of Wordsworth, being full of admiration for the young poet who was to succeed her grandfather in laureate honors, was once taken to see Mr. Tennyson by Mrs. Taylor, the wife of another poet of some distinction. Tennyson received them very badly, showing great irritation at being disturbed, and when Mrs. Taylor rallied him on his manner he said: 'Madam, I am a poor man, and as I can't afford to buy the Times I hire it from the stationer's. He charges me a penny for it, which entitles me to keep it for an hour. Why will people always select just that hour to come and call upon me?' After which he flung out of the room, leaving Mrs. Tennyson to apologize for his brusquerie."

Currency in China.

Writing from the interior of China, a traveler says: "Currency is primitive to a degree. Lump silver only is used and copper 'cash.' Coined money is not current. Even in Honan city, which is distant only two days by rail from Peking, lump silver, the same cumbersome currency that has been used for centuries, is still employed. It is cut into small pieces by hammer and chisel. Every town and village has its own weights and scales, and there is no pretense at uniformity."

The Man and the Parrot.

Exasperated Purchaser—Didn't you guarantee that this parrot would repeat every word he heard?
Bird Dealer—Certainly I did.
"But he doesn't repeat a single word."
"He repeats every word he hears, but he never hears any. He is as deaf as a post."

Life's Percentages.

It sometimes happens that a man plays an errorless game because he accepts mighty few chances. The man in the right garden is pretty sure to have a better fielding record than the shortstop—Aitchison Globe.
