THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE SPEAKS IN BEND.

Promises if Elected To Hold Court in Crook County Every Sixty Days and Avoid Present Delays and Hardships

Hon. Samuel W. Stark of Hood River, Republican nominee for Circuit Judge in this district, was in Bend this week. Monday night he addressed a large meeting of voters at the Commercial Club rooms, making a very favorable impression. Among other things he said:

"For the express purpose of bringing relief to conditions now existing in the Circuit Court of Hood River and Crook counties I accepted the urgent request of friends to become a candidate for Judge of the Circuit Court in the Seventh district, comprising the counties of Hood River, Wasco and Crook.
"Only two terms of Circuit Court are held in Hood River and Crook counties each year, and no adjourned terms, and the people are practically without means of redress. For instance, you commence an action in either Crook or Hood River counties, and the adverse party simply files a demurrer or motion and there the case stands for weeks waiting the next term of court. Then the demurrer or motion is argued before the court, and in most instances taken and kept under advisement by the judge until the next term six months later; and if not taken and kept under advisement, then the defendants are allowed from ten to thirty days in which to answer, and your case goes over the term, and it is always from one to three years before you can go to trial. During this time your witnesses have scattered, left the country, or probably died, and if you are able to go to trial at all, it is at great disadvantage.
"For illustration, take the case of J. E. Hall vs. Darr, commenced in Hood River county to recover wages earned in clearing land. The case was commenced, a demurrer filed, and the case tied up for weeks, until the next term of court. The demurrer was then argued and by Judge Bradshaw taken and kept under advisement for six months, until the next term of court, and then decided. Another motion was filed and taken under advisement by the court. During this time the man waited for his wages. This is only one case among the many cases on the docket in Hood River county existing under the same condition, and the people of Crook county have for years suffered the same treatment.
"This condition does not exist in Wasco county. The judge lives there and the court is always open for the transaction of business.
"There is no reason why relief cannot be given to Hood River and Crook counties, because the judge could hold regular adjourned terms in these counties at least every sixty days, and keep demurrers, motions and equity cases tried out, and not cause the people of these counties to suffer untimely delays. Only about one-fourth of the cases are tried by a jury, and no jury need be called at adjourned terms unless the business of the court urgently demands it.
"While no experienced lawyer can afford to accept the office, yet for the purpose of putting a live man on the bench and giving the attorneys of Hood River and Crook counties (as well as the attorneys of Wasco county) a chance to carry their cases through court without delay, I agreed to become a candidate for Circuit Judge, and if elected, to hold a regular adjourned term of court in Crook county every sixty days, and offer if necessary to dispatch the business of the court. And to hold a regular adjourned term in Wasco county every thirty days, and to keep the court open for the transaction of business in Hood River county, and was given the nomination without opposition, for which I thank the attorneys and appreciate their confidence in me.

"My opponent, W. L. Bradshaw, the Democratic incumbent, who has been in office over 18 years, for which the people have paid him over $42,000, with which he has made successful investments, and is now financially well fixed in his old days. His long reign in office is not due to his ability, because over fifty per cent of the cases appealed from his court have been reversed and sent back for new trial, but is because the experienced lawyers enjoyed a practice that did not warrant them in accepting the office, and he was elected three times practically without opposition. A term of office is six years, and no man should hold any office over two terms. And twenty years is long enough for the Democrats to fill an office in a three-to-one Republican district when an experienced lawyer is on the Republican ticket.

"In order for any judge to properly discharge the duties of his office I feel it absolutely essential that his time should be spent about equally among the counties of his district. This would enable him to personally know the condition in each county, and if elected I shall spend a great portion of my time in Bend, Reelmond, Madras, and Prineville. The outside world, and even you people, do not realize the immediate development of Central Oregon. You are situated here in the timber on the banks of the most beautiful river in the West, and in the center of one among the most fertile diversified farming districts of Oregon, where you can grow fruit, vegetables, alfalfa, clover, hogs and cattle in unlimited quantities. With the railroad coming to you bringing thousands of people hunting homes you are bound to develop beyond expectations."
