

What Every Woman Knows

Who has seen the "REDDISODE" COTTON BATTS, is that they are far superior to the ordinary kind. The superiority lies in the stitching. The batt is delivered to you ready for the cover. The endless trouble of preparation is done away with. And it is so sanitary. The cover may be removed and washed without in any way disturbing the cotton.

The Revolutionary Quilt Contest

that we are conducting this week was originated by the makers of "Reddisode." If you have an old quilt, that you value on account of its historic associations let us enter it in the contest. Five hundred dollars in prizes are offered and we want at least one prize to come to Bend. Come in and let us tell you about it. The quilts will be displayed on the second floor of our building.

Abstract Talks

The Object of the "Title Talks."

If there is one subject of more vital interest than any other it is that of TITLES—titles to the home that shelters you or the farm or business that yields support.

Do you really own the land you think you own?

That is the vital question. Our abstracts of title answer the question for every acre of ground in Crook county.

And back of our answer is the entire capital of the company, and the equipment of our up-to-date plant.

Watch this space each week and we will show you the great need of proper security in the ownership of real estate.

Miss Davies Surprised.

Last Thursday evening, a very unique farewell party was given Miss Mary C. Davies, at the home of Mrs. M. J. Kelly. When Miss Davies returned at 8:30 o'clock she found the darkened hall crowded with unexpected young folks. After the surprise all repaired to the parlor, where games were played until it was announced that the girls would pass to the hall and get the lunches. These proved to be regular school lunches, wrapped in brown paper.

After lunch, a shower of useful school articles was given Miss Davies. Among these were two bunches of switches, which caused much merriment. Those present were:

Misses Ulla Hotaling, Helen Bozell, Emily Schreder, Pauline West, Ange-Young, Margaret West, Susie Kelly, line Mary Davies, and Messrs. Fred and Ralph Lucas, John Linster, Julius Corman, Claude and Lloyd Kelly, Carl Young, Max Richardson and Warren Wheelock.

Miss Davies leaves next week for Bear Creek where she intends to teach school this winter. In the spring, she will return to her home in Portland.
