EAST LINE NEXT

OREGON TRUNK TO REACH OUT TO BURLINGTON.

Portland Thinks Next Construction Will Be from Bend Easterly Affording Best Outlet for Deschutes Lumber.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 24.—In railroad circles the impression is strong that the next construction in the state will be upon the Oregon Trunk eastward from Bend. It is thought probable that the line south of Bend will not be built until after completion of the road to the East, and that when the south line is built it will be used jointly by the Hill and Harriman trains.

Connection with the Burlington appears to be the aim of the Oregon Trunk in reaching out eastward, and haste in that direction is said to be inspired by the recent effort of the Oregon Short Line to raise money for a road across Oregon. Obviously that would afford the shortest route between the Deschutes timber belt and the waiting markets of Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri, to say nothing of Colorado, Kansas and Illinois. The Burlington system is controlled by Hill. The official map appearing in the folder of the Burlington Route issued this month shows a projected line westward from Guernsey, Wyo., to the Big Horn river, in the western part of that state, the same as the road up the Deschutes to Bend, now nearing completion, is shown. This, of course, leaves a considerable gap between the Oregon Trunk and the Burlington, but it is easily possible to complete the connection before the mills have any large amount of Deschutes lumber ready to ship. After trains shall be actually in operation to Bend it will require a good deal of time and money for the construction of the manufacturing plants.

Two things stand out prominent in this new railroad plan, which is generally accepted as rational and probable though not yet officially proclaimed. One is that Bend for a considerable time will be the terminus of the north-and-south line, and the other is that mills must be at Bend to get access to the Eastern market. Both of these are of vast significance to Bend.

Another thing that must be considered in any large view of the situation is the fact that recent interpretation of the interstate commerce law upsets the old theory and practice that Eastern Oregon must pay on goods from the East rates equal to the through charge to the coast plus the local charge back from Portland. Thus, instead of having to pay higher freight charges than Portland does, Eastern Oregon points will hereafter pay less than coast cities do on freight from the East. This fact, applied to the Bend situation, means that the Deschutes town will become an important distributing point—a jobbing center for a large area.

RECORD GRAND JURY ADJOURNS.

PRINEVILLE, 3 P. M.—The Grand Jury has just adjourned after being in session nine days and evenings, bringing in 33 indictments and finding 12 not true bills.

The jury in the Anderson case has just gone out.

PHONE TO CRESCENT.

Pioneer Company Starts Construction of New Line South.

The Pioneer Telegraph & Telephone Co. is installing a new line from Rosland to Crescent. It is understood a line is planned from Klamath Falls to that point, with which it will connect.

This morning Manager Doonar left Bend with a crew to commence work, the first step in which will be the improvement of the Bend-Rosland line.

PICTURES POPULAR.

Big Audience Greatly Enjoys Episcopal Chapel Entertainment.

A most thoroughly enjoyable entertainment was given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Drake, to raise funds for the erection of an Episcopal chapel. Living pictures, for the most part portrayed by youthful artists, and many delightful musical numbers, followed by refreshments, made up a most pleasurable evening. About $37 was realized.

The program was as follows:

1. Violin Solo.....Robert Innes
2. Little Yamanato.....
3. Napoleon.....R. B. Gould
4. Duet, Piano { Miss V. Williams
Marion Lawrence
5. Little Bopeep...Sarah Worststaff

D. I. & P. AFFAIRS MANY PRIZES WON

REDFIELD'S REPORT SHOWS ASSETS AT $33,000.

The R. S. Howard Bonds May Get Insignificant Plum from Pie—Portland Report Intimates Some Stockholders May Get Left.

The following article relative to the affairs of the Deschutes Irrigation & Power Co. appeared in the Portland Oregonian of Oct. 18th.

After advertising the sale on the public bulletin boards of the Courthouse, the Burnside bridge and Steel bridge, Receiver C. M. Redfield yesterday reported to the United States Court that on October 4 he had sold the personal property of the Deschutes Irrigation and Power Company to Jesse Stearns and L. G. Addison for an aggregate of $20,000. Realty belonging to the concern was advertised in an obscure weekly publication at Redmond, Crook County, Or., and on October 7 at the Courthouse in Prineville. It was sold to the same people for $13,000. The total assets of the irrigation company, upon which reorganization of the concern is predicated, are therefore $33,000.

Against this cash bid there is an indebtedness of approximately $450,000, on account of the bond issue secured by the first mortgage given by the company, and an investment of approximately $2,500,000 for the construction of the ditches, laterals and purchase price of the lands.

Of that total of indebtedness R. S. Howard, Jr., is the representative of bonds to the par value of $25,000, which were purchased of the officers of the company upon the security of the first mortgage.

STOCKHOLDERS LEFT IN COLD.

In the report of the receiver it is set out that he has "received $1891.30 for the benefit of the R. S. Howard bonds." A careful estimate of those figures, compared with the total of the bonded indebtedness, reveals the fact that the receiver must have received the sum of money named as a pro rata apportionment of the proceeds of the sale as reported. The sum of $1891.30 represents the exact interest the R. S. Howard, Jr., bonds bears to the entire bonded indebtedness.

In the report no provision is made for a pro rata division of receipts among the stockholders, with one exception. It is pointed out that there are more than 700 stockholders in the concern who are not cared for in the report of the receiver.

NEW STORE BUILDING

White Builds Next to Postoffice for C. D. Rowe.

John White has begun work on a new building to face on Oregon street immediately in the rear of the Arnold Restaurant and between that and the postoffice. The building of one story with dimensions 20x46 feet, will be occupied by C. D. Rowe.

It is Mr. Rowe's intention to conduct a variety store—often styled a "racket" store. He will have a fully furnished and modernly equipped shop, with a large stock of notions, household goods etc. His stock is now either in Shapiko or on the way thither. The new enterprise will open its doors probably early in December.

NEW D. I. & P. CO. NOW ON ITS FEET.

4 P. M.

An unofficial telegram from Portland states that the court has confirmed the sale of the D. I. & Co. property, that the Land Board has approved the new contract, and that articles of incorporation of the new company have been filed. The name of the new organization is as yet not known.

This probably means final adjustment and commencement of work at once. It is understood Roscoe Howard will be in charge.

SCALES LAVA BUTTE.

Railroaders and Wives have Day's Outing from Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Griswold, Miss Fluke, and G. O. Lintner were guests at Hotel Bend Monday night. Yesterday the entire party went to Lava Butte and climbed the interesting land mark, viewing the crater and the unique lava fields which surround the miniature mountain.

Mr. Griswold, who has been Oregon Trunk resident engineer at Madras since work began there, now is in charge of all the engineering work, under Chief Engineer Baxter. It is understood that G. O. Lintner, the engineer who has been at the head of work near Bend, will go to Portland early in November.

OPTION LAW O. K.

FIRST FIGHT TO FIND IT FAULTY FAILS.

Bradshaw Holds Election Valid—Initial Liquor Case Verdict Guilty After Jury is Out Eleven Hours—Murderer is Sentenced.

The first liquor cast of the 22 thus far given to the Circuit Court by the Grand Jury was tried yesterday in Prineville, and resulted in a verdict of guilty, brought in at 10 o'clock last night, after the jury had been out since 11 a. m. Up to 2 p. m. today no sentence had been pronounced.

The case was that of the State vs. John Billips for illegal liquor selling on the Deschutes near Warm Springs Indian Reservation. Defendant's attorneys were V. A. Forbes, W. H. Wilson and George L. Bernier; State's, F. W. Wilson, T. E. J. Duffy and W. P. Myers.

The case virtually decided itself into a test of the validity of the local option election of June 1, 1908, defendant's counsel maintaining it illegal through certain irregularities in the posting of election notices. After hearing extensive arguing, Judge Bradshaw Tuesday morning held that the election in question was regular, ruling that any technical mistakes which might have occurred were immaterial to the issue. It is understood that the defendant will take the case to the Supreme Court.

This morning the case of State vs. C. Anderson of Redmond, went to trial. The following jury hears the case: A. Moner, Madras; G. V. Dillon, Madras; P. Riley, Ashland; F. A. Shonquest, Bend; H. F. Mitchell, McKay; Joe Lester, Paulina; J. N. Williamson, Prineville; H. S. Jones, Redmond; A. C. Lucas, Bend; Wm. Claypool, Redmond; H. C. Davis, Prineville; N. J. Lambert, Powell Butte.

Should "guilty" be the verdict it is probable that the defendant will take the case to the Supreme Court, to seek an overruling of Bradshaw's decision regarding the legality of the option election. In which event the other 20 cases will plead guilty and abide by the decision of the test case in the higher court.

The jury in the Billips case were: J. W. Berry, Sisters, (foreman); F. M. Booth, Sisters; Geo. Bates, Bend; Fred Stewart, McKay; J. W. W. I. Sisters; N. S. McCorn; N. D. Nye, Bear Creek; Alec Hunter, Ashwood; Homer Claypool, Prineville; Walter Knox, Crooked River; Newt Cob, Sisters; R. C. Johnson, Pilot Butte. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting a jury.

The Basic Problem of Life.

THE GREATEST OF ALL PROBLEMS TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC IS THE BREAD AND BUTTER PROBLEM

INDUSTRY alone will not solve the bread and butter problem; but if one lays by something, however small, from the fruits of his industry, he has found the solution of this problem. To the man with a bank account opportunities arise, which would otherwise be beyond his reach. You have often heard a man say, that were it not for his family responsibility he would do this or that. With a bank balance to his credit the bread and butter problem is solved for the present, and he is therefore able to make it a less important problem in the future.
