HAMPTON PICNIC
SETTLERS OF VALLEY CELEBRATE.
 Seventy-two Gather on Lizard Creek and Spend Fourth of July on Outing—Officers Elected—Song By Cowboys is Feature of Day
 ROLYAT, July 11.—The people of Hampton Valley celebrated the Fourth of July with a picnic on Lizard Creek. The spot chosen was ideal and people came for twenty-five miles around. They met and visited like old-time friends and soon all felt thoroughly acquainted. At noon the picnickers climbed upon a plateau and spread their dinner under a large juniper tree. A fine view of the valley was obtained from that eminence, adding to the enjoyableness of the feast. After the meal it was decided to organize and the following officers were elected: A. S. Fogg, president; Paul Held, vice president; Tom Ewing, treasurer; Mrs. Horace Brookings, secretary.
 Probably the most enjoyable feature of the day was a song by ten cowboys. These young men happened to be mounted and in line when a song was called for and, led by Seth Dixon, "The Girl I Love" was sung.
 Seventy-two people were present, as follows:

MAIL POUCHES.
 They Cost From a Few Cents to Thousands of Dollars Each.
 Uncle Sam has twenty-eight different kinds of mail bags in service, and they range in cost from 22 cents to $2,100 each. There are mail pouches for almost every conceivable use, and you can ship almost anything that comes within the postal regulations with a minimum of loss and breakage, says Harper's Weekly. Probably the most peculiar mail bag is the one arranged for carrying bees. Sending bees by mail was a difficult operation before the "bee bag" was adopted. Usually the bees arrived at their destination dead or so exhausted that they were of little use. Now these little honey makers can be shipped by mail several thousand miles in the "bee bag" without suffering and can obtain air and a good supply of food during their transit.
 Mail bags are made of various materials. The cheapest are of cotton and the most costly of leather. Those used in fast express are reinforced with metal so that they can be hung from fast moving trains without damage. Even then these bags, or "vibrator pouches," do not last much more than a year and a half, while some of the cotton bags used for the work will remain in service upward of ten years.
 In parts of the west, where the mail must be carried for many miles on horseback, special pouches are in use for slinging over the animal's flanks. In the far frozen north special bags are made for sled transportation, and in the cities a bag in use for pneumatic tube service is made of a composition called "jetthoroid." The ordinary cotton mail bags are woven so closely that they are practically waterproof, and in the worse there are thirteen stripes of blue. Each country marks its own mail pouches in some individual way, so that if one gets lost in a far country its ownership can be readily detected.
 Nearly 65,000,000 mail bags are used each year by the whole country, and as they are being worn out all the time the supply has to be kept up. There are mail bag hospitals, where tens of thousands of them go every week. One such mail bag hospital repairs upward of 5,000 a day. Those crippled bags are in all sorts of dilapidated conditions. A railroad wreck may injure several hundreds or thousands, and these must all go to the hospital before entering active life again. Christmas is responsible for much damage to the mail bags, owing to the hard service they get, and immediately after the midwinter holiday season several hundred thousand bags go to the hospital.
 Mail bags are the most traveled of all articles in use today. They are constantly moving, and it would be impossible to estimate the number of miles a bag ten years old has traveled.
