THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS FOR PRIZE PRODUCTS

HOW THE BIG LAND SHOWS ADVERTISE THE NORTHWEST

The cool weather and abundant rains in the past few weeks assure the Northwest farmers good crops. More than usual returns will be had by many of the more progressive farmers, who will exhibit at the New York and other big land shows. The habit of exhibiting at these big shows is a good one to get—it brings honor and money to the enterprising farmer. In past years the Northwest farmers have won many prizes for the best wheat—oats—potatoes—barley—the finest apples—and prize winning corn, sugar beets, alfalfa and hops are also raised. Every time a Northwest farmer wins a prize at the big land shows more settlers come into the Northwest and many times they move close by the prize winner's farm. This increases the value of his land and brings him good, ambitious neighbors, who also get the prize getting habit.

exhibits and where to ship them. A $1,000 prize cup or $1,000 in gold is certainly worth trying for. Send a postal to him to-day.

Other Big Land Shows.

If the Northwest farmer will only get busy and get his good stuff together he can exhibit at most all the land shows. The Pittsburg Land Show will be between October 12th and October 29th. The Omaha Land Show will be between October 15 and 29, 1911. Then comes the New York Land Show with $11,000 in prizes; dates—November 3rd to November 12th. After the New York Land Show is the big Chicago Show, starting Saturday, November 18th, and ending December 9th.

The Northwest farmers' own show—the Northwestern Land Products Show, at St. Paul—will probably commence December 12th and continue to December 24th, 1911, and so, you see, a farmer or a community can exhibit at all the shows. Every good exhibit at any one of these shows is going to help bring new settlers to that place.

The Great Northern Railway is co-operating with the Commercial Clubs in an effort to get good displays from all sections.

$1,000 for the Best Wheat in the World.

Take the great new land show—the New York Land Show, which will be held between November 3 and 12, 1911. For the best hard wheat $1,000 in gold is offered to the farmers of the world. There is a big silver cup for potatoes—a $1,000 cup. The Northwest ought to win that potato cup, as well as the wheat prize money. Then there is the Earling cup for the best oats—the James J. Hill cup for the best 100 pounds of wheat—the Busch cup for hops—the Palst cup for barley. All these are beautiful cups, all worth $1,000, except the Palst barley cup—that's worth $1,500. Surely the Northwest should win these cups. Where else do they raise such potatoes, wheat, barley, oats, etc.?

$500 for Apples.

President Elliott, of the Northern Pacific Railway, has offered $500 in gold for the finest apples. The apples raised in Montana, Oregon and Washington are easily the best in the world. They bring the highest prices and have the best flavor, color and keeping qualities, as the National Apple Shows have demonstrated.

It is now harvest time, and the farmers of this section should go after these prizes. The Great Northern Railway will help the farmers in their territory win these prizes. No entry fee will be charged at the New York Land Show. The Great Northern Railway will make a special arrangement to handle these exhibits. Write at once to Ed. Leedy, the General Immigration Agent at St. Paul, Minnesota, who will tell you how to pack your

Women and Stocks.

Women speculators have a habit of giving to brokers orders with a string attached to them. A woman who owned some bank stock asked a broker to sell it at 250 if he thought she could not get any more for it. The market in this stock had been inactive for months, and 250 was the highest price ever recorded for it. The next day the broker had a chance to sell the stock at 250. It so happened that on the same day a lively demand for this bank stock developed, and before the day was over it was selling at 300. The broker wrote to his woman customer that he had sold her stock for $250 a share and would she send her certificate to him for delivery to the purchaser? She refused to deliver the stock.

"You ought to have known better than to sell it for 250," she retorted. "I am going to sell it today myself for 300."

It was not until the broker appealed to the courts that he succeeded in getting the stock from the woman.—Strand Magazine.

Pretty Fine Scratches.

Most people consider a polished surface as something absolutely smooth—that is, something with no scratches on it whatever. To polish a thing, however, the very reverse is done to it. It is filled with very fine scratches. All eyeglass lenses, glass for mirrors, furniture, etc., are rubbed with fine emery paper and later with an extremely fine powder which gives the finishing touches in the shape of very fine scratches. Now the question arises as to just how fine the scratches must be—that is, how far apart they must be, for big scratches a good distance apart give anything but a polished surface. The answer is that the scratches or ridges between must be less than one-quarter the wave length of the light that falls on the surface for the light to be reflected and thus give the effect of a polished surface. This is less than one two-hundred-thousandth of an inch for light waves. No breaking up of the waves is caused, and they consequently are reflected in their original form.—New York Tribune.

The Offense Defined.

General Craft, an attorney of Terre Haute, Ind., was once called into a jewelry store in the town to settle a dispute.

"See here, general," explained the proprietor, "if I take a watch from Mr. Smith here and make repairs that cost me 10 cents and then keep it hanging up for a week and charge him 50 when he comes to get it, what percentage do I make? We have been figuring for half an hour and only got up to 900 per cent, and that is but a dollar, so we decided to leave it to you."

"Well," said the general gravely, "you must know that it is a fact, and it has been demonstrated by calculating machines, that at certain points in progressive numbers the law governing them changes. In your case the law would change long before it reached the 90 and would run out of percentage and into what is known and designated as insanity."

Open Door and a Light.

The wives of north country colliers observe a very touching and pathetic custom when an accident occurs in the pit. Directly it is known to the wife of a collier that an accident has happened in the pit where her husband works and that his fate is uncertain she throws open the house door, and, however inclement the weather may be, she keeps the door open and a candle burning in the window night and day till the man is brought home, dead or alive. In some cases the door has remained open and the candle slight during several weeks.—London Graphic.

A Curious Superstition.

The ancients believed that the marrow of the human backbone often transformed itself into a serpent. Pliny ("Natural History," volume 10, page 66) says that the marrow of a man's backbone will breed to a snake. The Chinese (Worde's "Eastern Travels") burned the backbone to "destroy serpents that might hatch therefrom."

Amending Dickens.

Have a heart that never hardens, a temper that never tires and a touch that never hurts.—Charles Dickens. Dear, dear! How long Dickens has been dead! Writing for our day he would have said: Have a liver that never hardens, a tire that never punctures and a touch that never fails to land something.—Life.

He Was a Stayer.

She desperately:—Don't you believe they will worry over your absence if you fail to return home until such a late hour? He carelessly:—There's nobody to worry except the landlady, and I make a point to keep her worrying by always owing her a month's board.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Complex Accomplishment.

"I understand you speak French like a native."
"No," replied the student. "I've got the grammar and the accent down pretty fine but it's hard to learn the gestures."—Exchange.

The Cutthroat Game.

"What is the greatest get-rich-quick scheme you know of?" asked the flimsy financier of his partner.
"Taking money away from other people who want to get rich quick."—Wilmington Star.

To please, one must make up his mind to be taught many things which he already knows by people who do not know them.—Chamfort.
