DOLL DRESSING HINTS.

Make the Clothes So They Will Come Off—The New Doll Muff.

It's doll dressing time, and every woman with a small toddler in her own family or time enough to look after some of those in other families is hard at it.

In making dresses for dolls it is the wise woman who knows that the usual order of the fitness of things should be reversed and that for the poor child the doll should have a silk dress, while for the doll of the well to do child the dress may be of pretty or gaudy, wool or dotted Swiss trimmed with narrow velvet ribbon.

A doll in a silk dress is the favorite child's dream of bliss. To her it is the unattainable and the glorious; consequently, whenever the scrap bag of silk pieces when dressing her a doll or use a discarded sash ribbon.

The child to whom silk is so rarely is better pleased with the daintiness of the organdy doll.

Such details as a sash with long loops and ends, bows on the shoulders and a jaunty one in the hair count for much in general effectiveness, and doll hats may be bought at many shops if one has not the ingenuity to make one of a bit of fancy braid and velvet, which is easily done.

A child's delight is to have a muff and bon resembling fur for the doll.

and these may be made of elderdown flannel with dashes of ink in imitation of ermine.

Remember above all things that nobody sews the clothes on to stay now a days. If you do not make the doll's outfit so that it will "button and unbutton" aias for the gratitude that you will receive. Then, too, no dresser of dolls in her senses would brave the scorn of the present day Maud or Mildred by presenting her with a doll that lacked "really truly" shoes and stockings of good style.

The little tot herself will be perfectly "crazy" about one of the new doll muffs. This affair is to be had in regulation size for a child from three to eight years old and is made of white fur. It differs from the usual muff because of the doll attachment. Dolly's arms and hands show at the top of the hand warmer, and her legs and feet, clothed in fur, dangle down at the bottom. Very cute is the rabbit pocketbook for the small girl's use when she goes shopping.

A LAST MINUTE GIFT.

An Easily Made Bag of Dainty Cretonne.

Nothing could be easier to make than the bag illustrated, and for this reason it is a splendid last minute gift. All you have to do is to double in half about a yard of figured cretonne and where the turn is made in the material overlap the edges together for half the length of the cretonne. In the center of the two sides of the cretonne gather the material to a piece of tape four inches deep, attach bows of some prettily colored ribbon, and when the hangers are sewed on the gift is completed.

Gift For Motorist.

Your friend who owns an automobile will appreciate a gift of one of the new tourist's luncheon or picnic outfits. These contain a half dozen, small white enamel plates, knives, forks and spoons, collapsible drinking cups, paper napkins and various articles for use on a day's outing.

These outfits are inclosed in leather or straw cases. Individual collapsible drinking cups are always acceptable to those who motor.

Very Useful Presents

One girl who believes in giving Christmas presents that can be used is making for several of her girl friends this year the daintiest possible flannel skirts.

Flannel skirts are supposedly out of favor, but the sensible girl knows better than to discard flannels. She insists, however, that they take up as little room as may be.

The skirts being made fill that need. They are of fine white flannel as wide as can be bought and are cut from a circular pattern, so as to fit snugly around the hips. The tops and bottoms are bound with inch wide wash ribbon in a delicate color, and the pocket and back seam are castitched in a color to match.

To avoid extra bulk the skirt fastens with a button and buttonhole rather than with ribbon ties.

One skirt, for the best friend, has a line or two of small embroidered dots done in pink mercerized cotton just above the pink satin binding at the bottom.

Another useful gift is handkerchiefs, of which one can never have too great a supply. The one illustrated is of fine handkerchief linen finished with a narrow hem, above which at intervals are two rows of hemstitching, between which are rows of featherstitching. The handkerchief has an edge of pretty princess lace.

Nevel Coat Hanger.

Now don't say that you are sick and tired of the sight of coat and skirt hangers. Probably you have seen and made a number of them, but have you ever turned out a coat hanger like the one pictured? It is covered, to be sure, with the regulation flowered ribbon gathered along the edges of the frame, and the loop from which the useful contrivance hangs is wound with narrow ribbon. But just make a note of the four dainty little sashet bags that are attached to the loop with bunches of baby ribbon, and if the effect is not novel and pleasing then look up another trifle for your Christmas offering.

Shirt Waist Basket For Gift.

The new shirt waist baskets make a delightful present for maid or matron. They have taken the place of fabric covered boxes. The baskets have two trays placed one above the other, but so carefully fitted that the weight of the upper one does not in the least injure the freshness of whatever is placed in the lower one.

The first tray is designed for the best blouses, those that are most expensive to do up. This tray is first covered with a heavy white linen, then with a sheet of lavender scented cotton batting and finally with dotted Swiss or embroidered muslin. Attached to the inner side of the tray are half a dozen little sheets or leaves of linen, one of which is laid over each freshly laundered blouse as it is placed in the basket.

The lower tray, which is several inches deeper than the upper one, is for the tailored waists and the different sort of outing skirts, and while it is sashet lined its covering is of lawn and the sheets are of the same substantial material.

Fillet Lace Covers.

Every woman is proud to own one or more soft cushion covers made from fine handkerchief linen and squares of fillet lace.

Nothing gives more distinction to a tea room couch than the addition of one of these cushions. Spreads for the bed can also be made of these lovely materials, which, if bought, would be quite beyond the average woman's pocketbook.

The fillet squares can be bought for little price. They show classic designs woven in solid, and often several different designs are used in the making of a bedspread. The work is done somewhat on the order of old fashioned patchwork, only it is much easier.

Strips of linen are sewed between the squares. The work is done on the machine if you are a busy woman, but if there is time to spare do it by hand, rolling the edges.
