MEANS MUCH TO BEND.

Of much importance is the reaching of an agreement between the State Desert Land Board and the Central Oregon Irrigation Co., involving the biggest irrigation project in Central Oregon. According to the terms of the agreement, published elsewhere in this issue, the North Canal will be built. Water will be taken out of the Deschutes river below Bend and diverted to the Pilot Butte canal. This will give more water to the settlers around Bend, as more water can then be turned into the Central Oregon canal, which waters the land east of town. The taking of water for the North canal at a point below Bend means that the volume of water in the Deschutes passing here will not be diminished, thus ensuring a continuation of the enormous waterpower which at present exists.

The construction of this new canal will furnish labor for many people, creating a payroll that will greatly benefit this town as well as other parts of the county.

Under the amended proposition, 18,000 acres of additional land will be opened to settlement. This land will be watered under the North canal.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP.

The spirit of fraternity prevails in Bend more strongly perhaps than in the case in most other towns of this size. That the men and women of the city are very fraternal and social is evidenced by the existence of six lodges, each of which has a large membership, in which are included a large number of the best people of the town. Every night in the week except two there is lodge meeting, and at each of these gatherings something is undertaken toward the betterment of mankind and particularly as it is represented here. Men and women who may have business differences and bickerings of various kinds that would cause barriers to rise between them meet as lodge brothers and sisters. Antipathies are submerged or forgotten and the world is made better for it. In the number and character of its lodges Bend is fortunate.

WHY YOU SHOULD TAKE THE BULLETIN.

Because it gives you the neighborhood news.

Because it gives you the country news.

Because it gives you the state news.

Because it furnishes entertainment for you and your family.

Because it tells you where to get the best bargains.

Because it helps you to be a good citizen.

Because it boosts the town and community.

Because it stands for better roads, better streets, better homes, better farms and better business.

Because your patronage will help to make it a better paper and one more able to promote these and other desirable things.

HELLO TO LIVE TOWN.

(Harney County News.)

The Bend Bulletin called up the News office over the phone Saturday just to see how the new connection would work and it was found to be all right. Voices sound clear and distinct and this may become the popular way of communicating with Port land hereafter. It is pleasant to be able to say hello to a real live railroad station direct.

The theory that there is always room for one more leads many a man to take on a bigger load of wet goods than he is able to carry.

An old bachelor will stay out till 2 a. m. if he wants to, but he misses the fun of trying to sneak up stairs with his shoes off.

Anyway, a spinster can pretend that she would rather be her own boss.

DANCE PROVES BIG SUCCESS

ATTENDANCE SATURDAY NIGHT LARGE

Warehouse, With Hardwood Floor, Makes Excellent Dancing Hall and Many Couples Enjoy the Affair. —Ladies Serve Refreshments

Neither storm nor fire was able to keep the dance on Saturday night in the warehouse from being the biggest thing of the kind ever held in Central Oregon. There was an attendance of more than 300, and dancing was enjoyed till late.

The floor was in fine condition, after the first few dances, and the large space afforded ample room for all. With swinging lamps and automobile lights loaned by loyal citizens, the hall was well lighted, and several stoves heated the warehouse comfortably.

Owing to the complete tie-up of traffic, the railway officials who were expected to be present could not get here. The attendance was cut down largely by the fire breaking out at the mill just as the dance was starting.

Ladies Serve Refreshments.

The Ladies' Library Club, assisted by some of the young women, generously served refreshments during the evening. There were coffee, lemonade, tea, cakes and other good things. The ladies in charge were Mrs. Lara, Mrs. F. F. Smith, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Maddock, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Herring and Mrs. Lucas. The entire proceeds from the sale, $42.65, were turned over to the Commercial Club.

Music was furnished by the Bend Orchestra, and L. A. Jackson, C. H. Hunter and Prince Staats sang a trio. The dance program contained 20 numbers, with four extras.

Contractor White donated the use of the warehouse.

The club officials will next week print a statement of receipts and expenditures. They ask all having bills for the dance to present them at once.

PUBLICITY CONTINUES

Article Boosting Deschutes Valley Published in American Weekly.

The following boost for Central Oregon recently appeared in the American Weekly, published at San Francisco, under a Portland date line:

That in ten years the valley of the Deschutes river will rival the Willamette valley in the abundance and variety of its agricultural and horticultural products, is the prediction of William Deveny, who has returned from a thousand mile trip in Eastern Oregon.

"Twenty years ago," said Deveny, "I traveled over portions of Kansas and Nebraska where the soil is similar to large sections of Eastern Oregon. At that time I would not have paid 50 cents an acre for this Kansas and Nebraska land. Everyone thought it worthless and it was not wanted at any price. To-day, much of that land is worth from $100 to $150 an acre and is among the most valuable agricultural lands of these states. The same thing is going to happen in Eastern Oregon."

"The Deschutes valley is fast filling with settlers who are taking up these lands and, in my opinion, they will strike it rich. Much of this Central Oregon country is from 3,000 to 4,000 feet in elevation, but the soil is rich and comparatively free from rock. At one place I saw a pot to field from which over 500 bushels an acre had been taken. I was struck with the fine celery, onions and water melons grown there, and I saw the finest onions I have ever seen in all my wanderings. At Prineville I was served with native-grown celery that was superior to anything produced in the great celery section of the Mississippi valley."

Don't ever forget that the best barber shop in town is Innes & Davidson's, on Wall street.

STATE CERTIFICATES
