

HAVE JOLLY TIME

Country Residents Dance All Night.
Leap Year Ball Soon.

The people living east of Bend on the Bear Creek road about 15 miles out, and those in that community, have enjoyed a number of social gatherings this winter and have others planned. The next affair will be a Leap Year dance on February 19, at which the women will have entire say. It will be held at the bachelor home of John Elder.

At Mr. Elder's last Friday night there was a big dance which lasted till 5 a. m. There were persons present from Powell Butte and other points and the affair was reported as a most enjoyable one.

One of the special features of the program was a dance for the large number of buckaroos who were there. Wearing their "chaps" and hats, they "tripped the light fantastic too" with their partners, making a most picturesque scene.

Those in attendance were: M. B. Mayfield, S. W. Rogers, Ovid Riley, E. C. Fought, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Woolley, L. G. Baker, Bert Powell, Ed Kopper, Henry Caslin, J. O. Matheny, W. A. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ferry, A. M. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shultz and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ritter, Mrs. M. L. Pyatt, Miss Edna Pyatt, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Johnson, Miss Lillian Ferry, Charlie E.

Pyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen, N. B. Beach, Ila Charlton, Fred Brown, W. L. Pyatt, C. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Green and Nathan Beach.

TUMALO NEWS NOTES

Government Advertises For Bids For New Mail Route.

TUMALO, Jan. 19.—Advertisements are out for bids on a new mail route. It is to be six trips per week from Deschutes to Laidlaw, Tumalo, Gist and Sisters. The round trip will be made each day.

George Higginson and family were business visitors at Bend Saturday last. Mr. Higginson has suspended work on his well drilling until settled weather.

Willard Houston of Bend was out at this place last Wednesday looking after his clearing contract which he took from G. W. Wimer & Sons.

Ira E. Wimer and family returned from a visit with Mrs. Wimer's relatives at Roseburg, a few days ago.

Mrs. Allie Baker is visiting her parents and brothers, G. W. Wimer and sons. Mrs. Baker has quit the management of the hotel at Deschutes, being succeeded by Portland people.

Poles are being set for a phone line from Deschutes to Laidlaw, another needed improvement.

Mr. Mock has been putting up some fine ice lately.

STEAM PUMP FISHING.

It Was Rapid, but Disastrous, and France Stopped It.

One of the most singular fishing devices imaginable was discovered by accident in France. Though extremely simple, the system is revolutionary.

A pond on the farm of La Marquette, bordered by rocky shores, was drained one year by the aid of a steam pump. Each stroke of the piston drew up twenty-five gallons of water, and the pond was emptied in a few hours, and not only was the water drawn off, but all the fishes also were transferred to a new element.

This was a revolution. The owners of ponds in the neighborhood followed suit, and the proprietor of the pump made a specialty of this sort of work. He "let" one of his pumps, modified for the purpose. The peasants of the region called it "the fish pump." Each stroke of the piston brought up torrents of water, in which were fish and crawfish, together with mud and debris.

One pond of several acres was cleared of fish at an expense of 36 francs, or $7.20. The process was ingenious, but as one cannot have his fish and eat it, too, and as such rapid consumption would have led to equally rapid extermination, the authorities stopped the practice.—Scientific American.

HACKNEY COACHES.

Tradesmen Protested When They First Appeared in London.

In a letter dated April 1, 1829, Mr. Garrard, writing to the Earl of Stratford, says: "Here is one Captain Baily. He hath been a sea captain, but now lives in London, where he tries experiments. He hath erected according to his ability some four hackney coaches, put his men in a livery and appointed them to stand at the Maypole in the Strand, giving them instructions at what rate to carry men into several parts of the town, where all day they may be had.

"Other hackney men seeing this way, they flocked to the same place and performed their journeys at the same rate, so that sometimes there are twenty of them together, which disperse up and down."

Citizen shopkeepers bitterly complained of this, saying: "Formerly when ladies and gentlemen walked in the streets there was a chance of customers, but now they whisk past in the coaches before our apprentices have time to cry out, 'What d'ye lack?'"

The word cab, a contraction of cabriolet, was not used until 1823.—London Standard.

He Liked Scotchmen.

The late Meredith Townsend had an affection for Scotsmen as contributors to the Spectator, of which he was for so many years proprietor and coeditor. Mr. Townsend's liking for the Scots was based on an experience he had in Leith when a boy. He was on a holiday and had run short of money for his return to London. He boldly boarded a London passenger boat, intimating his desire to the captain to go south, explained who he was and stated that he was without funds. Seemingly favorably impressed by the lad's tale and appearance, the captain, a Scot, said that would be all right and showed him to a cabin. "But," said young Townsend, "this is a saloon. As things are steered would do all right." "Na, na, my mannie," said the captain. "If I trust ye at all I'll trust ye first class!" London Spectator.

The First Henchmen.

Skeat derives the word henchman from hengstman (Anglo-Saxon), horseman, groom. It is probable that henchmen were in the first instance young nobles who at state ceremonies attended on the king as mounted pages. History speaks of these henchmen in this capacity, for we read that Henry VI. had three and Edward IV. six of them. We find, too, that they were mentioned in the royal ceremonies as belonging "to the riding household" and took part in tournaments. The last time "henchman" is mentioned in connection with the court is in the reign of Henry VIII., and gradually it came to mean an ordinary page. The word is used by Ben Jonson and Shakespeare in this sense.

A Wonderful Vine.

Grapes are known to live a great many years and bear almost yearly crops of good fruit. One of the oldest grapevines in this country, which grows on Roanoke Island, North Carolina, is claimed to be more than 300 years old. Its yield is still very abundant, and the vine appears to be in good health. Historians declare that it was planted by members of Sir Walter Raleigh's party, who sailed from England for the coast of the new world in the year 1584. Many persons have secured cuttings from this plant, but few will grow.—Harper's Weekly.

Natural Error.

"Will you take me to your circus, Mr. Merry?"
"Why, Willie, I have nothing to do with any circus. What makes you ask that?"
"Why, mother said you was a clown."—New York Times.

The Reason.

"That lawyer used to be a milkman."
"That accounts for the way in which he pumps his witnesses."—Baltimore American.

Not Particularly Cordial.

Geraldine—What did he say to you? Gerald—Well, he didn't send for the mayor of the city to make an address of welcome to me.—New York Press.

Haircuts and shaves at the Innes & Davidson barber shop are first class.
