

NORTH CANAL PLANS FILED

DAM TO BE 300 FEET IN LENGTH

Concrete Will be Used in Construction—Water to Pass through Four Big Gates into Canal—Swalley Flume May Be in the Way.

The engineering plans of the North Canal have been filed by the Central Oregon Irrigation Co. with the Desert Land Board, outlining the development work which the company will do.

The plans call for a diversion dam 300 feet in length and 33 feet high across the Deschutes river just below Bend. It will be built of concrete. Four big gates will carry the water into the canal, the four having capacity of the entire volume of water in the river. There will be four similar waste gates. The canal will be concrete lined for 5500 feet with a capacity of 1600 second feet.

The specifications call for the completion of the dam within 750 days after contract is let. When work will start is not yet known, as there are a number of matters that must first be adjusted. One of these is an agreement with the Swalley ditch people. Where the C. O. I. Co. proposes to build the dam the Swalley company has its flume, which would be cut in two. A meeting of the Swalley directors and the C. O. I. Co. officials was to have been held at Deschutes Monday, but Manager Roscoe Howard was in Portland and the session was postponed until the latter part of the week. At that time an effort will be made to get the matter adjusted satisfactorily to all.

WILL MAKE CHEESE

Fort Rock and Fremont Ranchers to Start Factory Soon.

H. A. Chapman, a rancher of the Fort Rock country, in Lake county, who arrived in Bend today to secure supplies, brought the news that the ranchers of the Fort Rock and Fremont country were planning to start a cheese factory. A meeting was held Saturday at which a committee was appointed to canvass the farmers for subscriptions of stock. Articles of incorporation will be filed in a short time and the factory got started. It will be operated on a co-operative basis.

There are a large number of milk cows in that part of Lake county and the cheese factory is planned to furnish a market for the cream. On account of lack of railway transportation a creamery would not be successful, it is believed.

LEARNING TO WIG WAG.

The Boy Scouts are busy making flags for a wig wag system, which they will learn as soon as they have their equipment completed. The system is one of signaling by flags; it is used in the army and navy. The boys also are planning the purchase of a new American flag for their lodge.

"SHOW-ME'S" WANT LEAFLETS

"OUTSIDERS NEED INFORMING"---CAPPS

Bend Park Men in on Visit, Primed With Enthusiasm, Real Seattle "Boost" and Good Advice—Bright Six Months Ahead

L. E. Capps, manager of the Bend Park Company, accompanied by J. W. Fox, a Portland representative of the company, was looking over the local situation and the company's residential property here Monday.

Mr. Capps was very enthusiastic concerning the town's growth since his last visit.

"There has been more development and construction here during the last six months than ever before," said Mr. Capps. "And the best of it is the next half year will see still more."

The visitors, who are "boosters" from the word go, called particular attention to the fact that at present Bend has no leaflet or descriptive literature of any kind.

"Every day we have people who want some printed matter about Bend. And there is nothing to give them. The Willamette Valley districts all are represented with folders but there is little or nothing to tell of the east-of-the-mountains country. This spring is the important time to get after the location seekers, and if this section is to be settled up quickly with farmers, and if the town is to grow as it should, it is up to Bend to have something for the outsiders who want information."

May Get up Leaflet.

It is probable that, if it proves impossible for the Commercial Club or other organization to get up such a leaflet as Mr. Capps suggests, The Bulletin may publish one, taking orders for numbers of copies from different persons who may wish to distribute them, either with or without personal advertising added to the general text.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

Faulder shot Gebbert last August in the railroad construction camp on the Natron cutoff. He testified he believed Gebbert had poisoned his dog. Gebbert was camp cook and Faulder a workman.

GERMAN MUSIC.

Wherein It is Said to Surpass That of All Other Nations.

Hans von Bülow's remark that "Italy was the cradle of music and remained the cradle" was, of course, not intended to be taken literally, but simply as a witty exaggeration of an obvious truth. Italy gave the world the first operas, oratorios, cantatas, overtures, sonatas and most of the ecclesiastical forms, and in course of time it furnished master works in all these styles of musical architecture; yet it remained for the composers of Germany to write the most elaborate and fully developed specimens in each case. Italy can show no choral works equal to Bach's "St. Matthew Passion" or Handel's "Messiah"; no overture equal to those of half a dozen German masters; no songs equal to those of Schubert, Schumann or Franz; no operas like Wagner's; no symphonies like Beethoven's; no pianoforte pieces like Schubert's, Beethoven's or Schumann's.

On these points there can be no dispute whatever, and that is why Germany is now universally conceded to be the chief musical nation, even by those whose personal taste impels them to favor particular examples of Italian, French or Russian music. The greatest masters of Italy, France and Russia have been unanimous in looking up to the German masters as their masters—as the men to whose influence they largely owed their own education and development. — From Etuda.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE

Mrs. Scovell Heard by Large Audiences—Reception Monday.

Mrs. Scovell, the temperance lecturer, spent Sunday and Monday in Bend, delivering addresses that were heard by large audiences. Sunday morning and again in the evening she spoke at the Baptist church to the public on the evils of whiskey and tobacco. Monday night a reception was given in her honor at the church by the young women.

Preceding the reception there was a program by the little boys and the girls of the Loyal Temperance Legion. They sang and marched and eight of them took part in a silver medal contest. The winner of the prize was Ida Niswonger, the 10-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Niswonger.

After the exercises Mrs. Scovell spoke again, telling of her travels in the temperance cause.

There was a big crowd out, the majority of whom remained for the reception. Refreshments were served and a musical program was given. Misses Eastes, Black and Wiest each sang a solo, with trombone obligato by C. H. Hunter. During the exercises before the reception Misses Ruth Caldwell and Margaret Thompson sang a duet.

A young people's temperance society was formed with the following officers: President, Miss Gertrude Markel; vice president, Miss Angie Young; recording secretary, Miss Sidner; treasurer, Miss Holmes; corresponding secretary, Miss Arvilla Murphy.

Meetings will be held the first Friday evening in each month. The first meeting will be at the Market home on April 5.
