

The Bend Park Company

HAVE been actively engaged in buying and selling property in BEND for the last five months, during which period they have sold upwards of 1100 lots. They are the largest owners of close-in business and residence property in the city. They have been the means of bringing many settlers to BEND and Central Oregon, and believe, as the Great Northern expresses it in their Oregon booklet, "that Bend will be the center of a great farming community, and will itself become a great manufacturing center because of the enormous waterpower in the Deschutes River." They thoroughly believe in the town and in the great future which lies before it.

They have just issued a very attractive illustrated folder on BEND, which they will mail upon request.

They still have a large number of highly desirable lots, at prices ranging from $150 to $300, which they will sell on the basis of $10 down and $10 per month per lot. Upon receipt of a remittance they will pick out the best unsold lot they have and send the contract for the same.

Those interested in the great future of BEND and Central Oregon can address any of the following offices.

16 innings. The last game went only seven innings by agreement.

Aside from the hard hitting, there were not many features. In the Redmond game Metke, in the first inning put the ball across the irrigation ditch for three bases, scoring three runners. Tetherow made five trips to the plate and got a hit every time, two of them for two bases. Of Redmond's 16 hits, four were two-baggers.

Two of the visitors pitchers were used up, Kerney lasting less than two innings, Brownlow caught a good game behind the bat for Bend. The following is the score:

Kit Carson's Team Beaten.
After the circus Saturday Kit Carson's team crossed bats with Bend. The show boys had such illustrious names as Bender and Collins in the lineup, but this did not give the locals stage fright and they won handily, score 10 to 8. Immele pitched again and was hit harder than in the morning game. The main features of the contest was a three-base hit by Gale of the circus bunch and a one-handed catch by Brownlow of a hard hit fly to left field.

EASTERN CROOK COUNTY

The following article unfortunately was crowded out of last week's Development Number:

To the Editor of The Bulletin:

Will write you in regard to resources of east Central Oregon for your special edition. The weather to date has been ideal for growing crops and I never saw better prospects than there is in this part of Oregon for bumper crops where the land has been cultivated as it should be. It is surprising to drive through this new country and note the changes and the crops that are growing where there was nothing but sagebrush two years ago.

I can truthfully say that wheat, rye, oats and barley look as good as in any country I have ever been.

We have had more than enough moisture to date to make any of the small grains, and when people speak of this part of Oregon as the "high desert" they are certainly mistaken, and I think they would change their mind if they were to happen through this way. It is not only a grain country but one of the best stock countries in the United States and there are great possibilities here for the small ranchman and stock raiser. We have worked our horses harder on bunchgrass and grain once a day, and it kept them in better shape than we could on all the grain and hay they could eat in eastern Nebraska.

I think there is no better place for the man of small capital to make money and the climate is hard to beat. Have plenty of the best fuel, fine water and post timber and stock can range out all winter.

About the only thing we lack is better railroad facilities and we will have them in the next year or two. "SETTLER."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank all those who so kindly helped us during the time of our sorrow when we lost our little girl last week, and especially the ladies who sang and rendered us other services.
MR. AND MRS. K. H. BOYD.

DISORDERLY HOUSE BROKEN UP.

Friday Police Chief Roberts and Deputy Sheriff Fox arrested three women at the Merich building in Center addition, on the charge of conducting a disorderly house. All pleaded guilty. Ada Hunt, who was in charge of the place, having rented it, was fined by Recorder Ellis $25, on condition that she immediately sell her furniture and leave town, sell her furniture and leave. Frances King and Grace Johnson, who had arrived Thursday night and were arrested soon after they got here, were fined $15 and $10 and were ordered to leave town at once.

BEND WINS TWO OF THREE GAMES

METOLIUS CAPTURES CONTEST ON 4th

Tetherow Strikes Out 18 Batters, But Errors Cause Defeat—Redmond and Kit Carson Aggregations Easily Beaten Saturday.

running threw the game away for five innings he had the Metolius players feeding out of his hand, fanning 11 of them in succession. He had two bad innings, the first and seventh, in which four runs each were scored. At the beginning of the seventh, the score stood 7 to 4 in favor of Bend, but hits and errors bunched gave the visitors the lead and stupid base running in the ninth cut off the local hope of tying the score.

Pope, a southpaw, one of the five Prineville men in the "Metolius" lineup, started in to pitch, but lasted only three innings, being replaced by Lottman, who pitched good ball the rest of the game.
