LADIES OF TOWN PLAN EVENTS

PLAY, "SAMPLE SALE" AND DANCE DUE

Library Club to Conduct Vigorous Campaign For Institution During July and August—Sale Will Be Something Unique.

That the Ladies' Library Club is embarking upon an active summer is apparent from the many plans it is making. At least three important events are to be "pulled off" by the women in the very near future.

The play which was to have been given on the night of July 3, and was abandoned because of the fire, will be presented probably during the last week in July, with a dance following. Because of the delay, a more carefully prepared performance will be offered, perhaps by the addition of some vaudeville acts. The ladies particularly desire that holders of tickets understand that they are good for the performance, and should be held.

A big "sample sale" is scheduled to take place within ten days. The exact date will be announced next week. Already the ladies have either received or been promised several hundred dollars worth of samples from houses all over the country. The articles that will be sold include as diversified things as wackers, grape juice, breakfast foods, cloth materials, etc. A booth that will particularly interest Bend women is being stocked through the courtesy of a noted San Francisco Chinese and Japanese import house; every kind of fancy Japanese article will be sold, ranging from fans to kimono.

The annual flower show will occur in August, the exact date to be announced later. This year an even better and bigger display of locally grown posies is expected than was seen last August. In addition to the cut flowers, there will be a special effort to get a large exhibit of potted plants. Many of these will be on sale.

SISTERS MAN A SUICIDE

Miller Mason, Dependent Over Ill Health, Hangs Himself.

SISTERS, July 16.—Driven to desperation by ill health, it is believed, Miller Mason of Sisters hanged himself here Sunday evening. He was about 45 years old and leaves wife and two step-children.

Mason had a number of times made threats of self-destruction. Sunday evening, while his wife was at the Hotel Sisters where she worked, he took a common rope and going to a tree near his home here hanged himself. He left a note to his wife, and searchers found the lifeless body about 9:30 o'clock. Death had takin place several hours before. The county coroner was notified but did not deem it necessary for him to come to hold an inquest. This was conducted Monday afternoon by Justice of the Peace D. A. Bowman. Interment was made in the cemetery near town.

SEWER SYSTEM DATA

Maps of Proposed System on View at Various Places.

Several maps showing the location of the proposed sewer system for whose bond issue an election is to be held Saturday, have been placed on view about town, with some data explanatory of the work to be undertaken.

A rough synopsis of the expenditures involved shows that the estimated $74,000 will be spent about as follows: Materials, shipped in, $20,000; materials, Bend product, $4000; labor, $28,000; engineering, advertising and incidentals, $5000; contractor's profit, $7000. Any surplus from the proposed bond issue of $60,000 and amounts raised by special assessment will become a part of a "sewer fund" and will be used only for future extension and maintenance of the system.

MILLION TROUT FOR LAKES

Paulina and East are stocked with Fry by the State.

J. G. Redmond and Chester Hollushead, representatives of the La Pine Commercial Club, were in Bend Saturday to receive a million trout fry which State Game Warden Finley sent in to be placed in Paulina and East lakes, some 50 miles south of Bend. There were 20 cans of 10 gallons each.

These two lakes have heretofore been fishless as it was impossible for trout to jump the high falls of the streams that drain them. Both are large and beautiful lakes and in a few years will become a great resort for the angler.

The Federal government will also supply young fish with which to stock these lakes this summer, Supervisor Harvey of the forestry service having been so notified.

"ARNIVAL COMPANY STRANDED"

Redmond had no celebration or amusement company on the 4th, but they unexpectedly got the Frank Miller Amusement Company that were in Bend during the celebration last week. They became financially embarrassed and stopped at Redmond where they are giving four days' performance in order to raise money to continue their journey west.

HOTTEST DAY YESTERDAY.

Yesterday at 3 o'clock the government thermometer registered 100 degrees, the highest this year. On Monday the maximum was 93. On July 16 last year, the temperature recorded was 99 degrees, the hottest day of the summer of 1911.

RE-ELECT OFFICERS.

At the annual meeting of the Arnold Irrigation Company last Thursday, the board of directors and all officers were re-elected. On unanimous vote, it was decided to issue 6 per cent bonds, to an amount not to exceed $12,000, for the purpose of paying off all the company's present indebtedness.

Comment by Exchanges and Others on Special Edition

A Good Paper.

Redmond Spokesman). Last week The Bend Bulletin got out an issue of 44 pages containing many illustrations of places and scenes in that city and vicinity, and a large amount of descriptive reading matter. The paper was a credit to Bend and to the publishers.

"A Credit to Any City."

The Fourth of July edition of The Bend Bulletin is worthy of more than favorable comment and would be a credit to any city of many times the population of Bend. The gathering of news items and data in a comparatively new country for a 44-page edition requires much time and expense.

"Biggest and Best."

The special number of The Bend Bulletin issued July 4th is without question the biggest and best product of a print shop ever issued in the Pacific Northwest outside of the large cities. It is a 44-page newspaper containing a vast amount of information about Bend and Central Oregon, hundreds of half tone illustrations and many attractive pages of advertising. It reflects great credit upon Publisher Putnam and his force.

Seattle Liked 'Em.

One hundred fifty papers were brought from the postoffice by two men this morning and laid upon a table in one of the rooms of our general offices. One of the men took three copies to his desk with him, the other none, intending to come back for more when they needed them. Half an hour later one of the two men went out to get one. AND THEY WERE ALL GONE. Thirty minutes after they arrived there was only one copy in all of the rooms.

DEER SEASON OPENS SOON.

The season for hunting deer in this county opens August 1 and closes November 1. During the three months it is lawful to hunt buck deer without dogs. The number of deer allowed to each hunter during the season is 5. A hunting license is required of every person, whether man or woman.

BOY SCOUTS ON TRIP.

Monday morning nine of the Boy Scouts, with A. M. Lara, left for a two weeks' outing. They will camp at the Heyburn homestead on Big river. The boys who went are: Hugh Thompson, Morris Lara, Robert Jones, Calvin Smith, Earl McClure, Emil Henkle, Wilton Smith, John True and Howard Young.

PLANS PROGRESS.

Plans for the erection of a Presbyterian church are progressing satisfactorily, says Rev. E. I. Gorby. In the neighborhood of $5000 is assured for the undertaking, and complete plans and specifications for a large and handsome brick structure are being drawn. Within ten days, it is expected, the trustees will be ready to take final steps toward letting construction contracts.

Advertising Profitable.

(C. P. Judge, Dairy Cow Dealer). Please stop all ads until you hear from me again as I am getting so many orders for cows that I can't fill them for five weeks, all due to my advertising in a live newspaper. Allow me to compliment you on the splendid edition of July 4. You did splendidly. I received 29 letters up to this evening (July 7) mentioning the July 4 advertisement.

"Was a Dandy."

(George S. Teal, the Pacific Home-stead).

I wish to compliment you very highly on your edition of The Bend Bulletin dated July 3. The Bend Bulletin, in my estimation, is always a first-class, newsworthy paper, but your special edition was certainly a dandy; in fact it was one of the best gotten up special editions I have ever seen, and it certainly shows the progressiveness of Bend and vicinity and the advanced and progressive ideas of its editor.

"Sets a Pace."

(La Pine Inter-Mountain).

It remained for The Bend Bulletin, on the occasion of its special edition last Wednesday, to set a pace in Central Oregon journalism that will be hard to duplicate. The edition contains 44 pages mainly devoted to excellent descriptive articles on the resources of this vast empire. Numerous illustrations appear in each of the five sections. The mechanical part, handled by Mr. Spencer, is flawless.

La Pine and its country are given liberal space in this great edition, rarely a page being occupied.

On the whole The Bulletin issue is of such merit that all of Central Oregon can point to it with pride. Editor Putnam and his competent assistants have the Inter-Mountain's sincere congratulations.

ODD FELLOWS INSTALL.

Installation of officers of the Bend lodge of Odd Fellows took place Monday evening, after which there was a banquet at the New Hotel Taggart. The elective officers who took their seats for the ensuing term of six months are: Ralph Spencer, N. G.; Jonas Olsen, V. G.; N. P. Weider, secretary.

NIGHT SHIFT AT MILL.

The double shift at The Bend Company's mill started Monday, with about 30 men employed on the night work, making the total number of men employed at the mill in excess of 60. A new logging camp has been established on the east side of the river, about two or three miles south of town, where in the neighborhood of 20 men are working in the woods.

BRAKEMAN INJURED AT OPAL.

MADRAS, July 15.—W. S. Burnett, a brakeman on the Oregon Trunk, fell beneath a car at Opal City this morning, sustaining three fractures of the skull. While alighting from the moving train to throw a switch, his foot struck a rock and he fell and slipped partially beneath the cars. He was taken to Portland.

RAILROAD BUBBLE BURSTS

(Metolius Central Oregonian). The "stuff is off" with the Prineville-Metolius railroad so far as the building of it by the Skewes-Stanger combination is concerned.

Mr. Skewes is reported to be in Portland. The Central Oregonian is not informed as to the whereabouts of Mr. Stanger. He may be in hades. Mr. Skewes incurred an expenditure of about $1000 in the survey and other work connected with the launching of the enterprise, and Mr. Stanger failed to "come through" with the cash—that is Mr. Skewes' version of the affair.

Mr. Skewes is reported to have said that he spent all the money he possessed in a frantic effort to put the project through, and now acknowledges defeat, unless the O. T. or O.-W. comes to the rescue, and he expresses an opinion about Stanger that wouldn't look well in print.

The engineers who put in about two weeks' work locating the line are unpaid, and a number of people at Prineville and Metolius are reported to possess checks given by Mr. Skewes and returned by the banks marked "no funds" or "no account." Two weeks ago a number of similar checks were floating around but were made good by him.

DR. COE STARTS HOUSE

Handsome Residence Will Occupy River Frontage Near Allen Home.

Excavation for the cellar of a house to be erected for Dr. U. C. Coe has commenced on the north end of the old "Drake lawn," facing the river, between the old log house and H. E. Allen's home. While contracts for the work have not as yet been let, the cellar and foundation work is being completed, and it is expected that the rest of the building will be hurried to completion.

The dimensions of the residence are 32 by 42 feet, with a porch eight feet wide. There will be two stories and cellar, with ten rooms in all, and two bath rooms. The cost will be approximately $4000.

DISCUSS FIRE MATTERS

Barney O'Donnell Appointed Fire Marshal—Hose Practice Planned.

An informal meeting of citizens specially interested in improving Bend's fire fighting system occurred Friday night at the Commercial Club. About 20 men attended.

Mayor Putnam announced that he had appointed Barney O'Donnell as fire chief or fire marshal, as the head of the department is styled in the city charter. Mr. O'Donnell's appointment will be placed before the council at its next meeting for ratification. A list of those who had expressed willingness to serve regularly was read, and some effort made to group the men under companies, with each of the three hose carts and the chemical engine. The list will be completed by next week, and foremen appointed for each hose, and the lineup published. An effort will be made to get the council to allow a small amount each month, probably $10, to be used as a bonus for the company making the best showing at regular tests, which it is planned to hold with the hose.

DEATH CLAIMS W. B. SELLERS

END CAME YESTERDAY MORNING

Was Active in the Interests of Bend, and Closely Identified with Church Work—Services Are Held This Afternoon.

Yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock occurred the death of Wallace B. Sellers, at his Bend home, after an acute attack resulting from a prolonged tubercular trouble, which had kept him a semi-invalid for a number of years.

At the time of his death Mr. Sellers was 35 years old. He was born in Chippewa Falls, Wis., where his parents now reside, and is survived by his wife, Jennie Sellers, and 8-year-old son Ronald. Since his settlement in Bend seven years ago Mr. Sellers had been prominently identified with the development of the town, always in an unostentatious way, having been a member of the City Council, in which he was always notably active. He was one of the board of trustees of the local Presbyterian organization, and was particularly interested in the project now being worked out for the erection of a handsome church. He was last outside his home at a trustee meeting last Wednesday evening. He was a prominent member of the Bend lodge of Masons.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock services will be held at the church, under the auspices of the Masons, Rev. I. I. Gorby officiating. The body will be borne to and from the church by Masons, and tomorrow morning will be taken to the station and sent to Portland for cremation, this being one of the deceased's last requests. Several local Masons will participate in the final services. At the church this afternoon all the city officials now in town will be present, as well as the members of the former council who served with Mr. Sellers.

When death came, quietly, yesterday morning, J. D. Davidson and Mrs. G. W. Hall, the nurse, alone were at the bedside. The patient had last been conscious during the preceding afternoon. Since he was confined to his bed last Thursday, members of the Masonic lodge had been in attendance at Mr. Seller's bedside every night, rendering all possible aid to Mrs. Sellers.

Mr. Sellers represented the Shelvin timber interests, of great extent in Central Oregon, being their confidential agent here. He had formerly been in their employ in Minnesota, and had had his first work with D. L. McKay, as a young man. It was about ten years ago that in crossing a lake on the ice, his team fell in and in rescuing them he contracted a cold which finally affected his lungs and ultimately brought about his death, while still a young man.

After the Fire

The next morning after the fire how natural it is to hear the loser say, "And I had $500 in currency in the bureau drawer." And the insurance policy don't cover such a loss! You can hide your money where thieves may not find it—but how about fire? For this reason alone, overlooking the many other advantages, you should keep your money in the bank. We call your attention to our fire and burglar proof vault and invite you to leave your money with us for safe keeping.
