

The Bend Park Company

HAVE been actively engaged in buying and selling property in BEND for the last five months, during which period they have sold upwards of 1100 lots. They are the largest owners of close-in business and residence property in the city. They have been the means of bringing many settlers to BEND and Central Oregon, and believe, as the Great Northern expresses it in their Oregon booklet, "that Bend will be the center of a great farming community, and will itself become a great manufacturing center because of the enormous waterpower in the Deschutes River." They thoroughly believe in the town and in the great future which lies before it.

They have just issued a very attractive illustrated folder on BEND, which they will mail upon request.

They still have a large number of highly desirable lots, at prices ranging from $150 to $300, which they will sell on the basis of $10 down and $10 per month per lot. Upon receipt of a remittance they will pick out the best unsold lot they have and send the contract for the same.

Those interested in the great future of BEND and Central Oregon can address any of the following offices.

"GO WEST," YET ADVICE GIVEN

CENTRAL OREGON IS GOOD FIELD

Thomas Lawson, Boston Financier,
Calls It "Modern Paradise of Happiness and Dollars" and "A World in Itself."

The advice of Horace Greeley, the great New York editor, given years ago—"Go West, young man"—is the admonition given college graduates today by distinguished and successful men of the East. The New York World on July 14 devoted a page to opinions received from men of prominence in the various fields of endeavor. Eight of these contributed articles in which five advised locating in the Northwest.

Central Oregon was mentioned by one of these as "the modern paradise of happiness and dollars." This was Thomas W. Lawson, financier of Boston, who was a Crook county visitor last summer and whose son-in-law, Henry McCall, has a ranch and magnificent home on the Crooked river.

Mr. Lawson's article, in part, follows:

"Were I graduating today from college, East, West, or South, I would head straight for the great, undeveloped Northwest.

"I would buy my ticket for Portland, Ore. I would spend my first week in that splendid prototype of our old, conservative and intellectual but withal courageous and hustling New England capital of a half century ago. While in Portland I would haunt the reportorial departments of the daily newspapers, the ever-welcoming rooms of the numerous business clubs and the booming departments of the great railroads and navigation lines centering in that superb Pacific metropolis.

"Then I would light out and into the modern paradise of happiness and dollars, the virgin interior of that wonderful state, a world in itself, containing to spare and then lots more everything that makes for health, hustle, prosperity and contentment for man, woman and child. If I were possessed of $20,000 to $50,000 capital, in a twelvemonth I would telegraph back to Bradstreet and Dun to mark my rating $125,000, and then three twelvemonths later I would wire them to make it from half to three-quarters of a million.

"If I had only my carfare, Bible, dictionary and fountain pen, I would send word to the old folks to watch out for the Christmas coming of the old home mortgage lifter and I would bet my pal dog, for of course I'd have him along, against a pouch of tobacco that when Christmas came I wouldn't be making excuses for not coming East. Details? Hosh!

"When you wake up in Galconda you should not waste time looking for a business guide. All you need is a rake and a bag."

BEND SHIPPING BREAD.

Competing successfully with Portland bakers, the American Bakery of Bend is now shipping bread regularly to towns in the northern part of the county. The bread, made of Bend flour, reaches these towns while still warm, going down by express on the morning train. To Madras 30 loaves are sent daily and to Culver 35 every other day. R. A. Puett, proprietor of the bakery, expects to add other towns to his list. He is now turning out 600 loaves daily.

METHODIST SERVICES.

Rev. J. E. Williams, the Methodist pastor, was over from Prineville Sunday and preached in the evening at the schoolhouse. There will be Sunday school at the same place next Sunday at 10 a. m. and Epworth League at 7 p. m. and Mr. Williams will preach there again on August 4. All those who have song books belonging to the church are asked to bring them in next Sunday.

GET PRELIMINARY DATA

Pringle Falls Will Be Harnessed and Power Utilized.

M. C. Donohue, accompanied by Engineer C. W. Riddell, arrived in Bend last Wednesday evening from Portland and Thursday went up to Pringle Falls, on the Deschutes river. Mr. Donohue is interested in the company that holds the power rights there and with Engineer Riddell expects to spend several weeks there getting data necessary for use in the construction of power plant at that point. Mr. Donohue stated to The Bulletin that within 18 months a plant will be in operation utilizing part of the 70,000 horsepower capable of being developed there.

SCHOOL PATRONS CALLED TO MEET

PARENTS AND TEACHERS TO CO-OPERATE

Association May be Formed and Meetings Held Regularly—Another Teacher for Bend School Chosen and One for Young's

Patrons of the Bend school are invited to assemble at the school house on Monday evening, July 29, at 8 o'clock, for an informal discussion of ways and means of effecting some improvements in the high school, in particular, for the coming year.

It is planned that a series of such meetings, occurring at intervals of a month or six weeks, shall be held during the coming school year for the purpose of furthering co-operation between parents and teachers. Possibly it will be found wise to make formal organization of a parents' and teachers' school improvement organization. At all events such meetings will afford patrons an opportunity to express their opinions concerning school matters from time to time. It is hoped that every family in Bend which sends a child to school will be represented at these gatherings.

Another Teacher Elected.
 The resignation of Mrs. R. M. Sanders as fifth grade teacher was accepted by the board at a meeting on July 11 and Mrs. A. G. Allen of Bend was elected to this position. L. M. McReynolds was employed as janitor for the coming term at $50 a month.

The Young school will be taught the coming session by Miss Edna Pyatt of Aitfalla, who was elected by the board. Miss Ida Young did not wish to be re-elected.

An election to choose a successor to Mrs. C. S. Hudson as school director has not yet been called.

NOTICE OF BOND SALE.
