POWELL BUTTE

POWELL BUTTE, Aug. 26.—A dreadful accident occurred last Wednesday, Aug. 21, when Farley Bussett lost his life in the mountains while on a camping trip with his uncle, E. A. Bussett and cousin, Lloyd. The two boys were climbing some of the smaller peaks about Mt. Jefferson, and were rolling rocks off the precipices, when they started an unusually large one, which took the boys close to the edge to get it over. Lloyd being used to the mountains, warned his cousin to keep back, but he was not afraid and went to the edge, when about six feet of the ledge broke off, carrying him with it. He dropped about 250 feet before striking the first ledge below. Here the great mass of rock broke and fell again, some distance down the mountain side. Lloyd then ran about four miles to the camp of S. A. Prose of Prineville, telling them of the tragedy, then going on to hunt his father, who, with Mr. Prose hurried to the place of the accident, where they recovered the broken and crushed body of the boy from among hundreds of tons of fallen rock. He was taken to Redmond and the remains sent to Oklahoma, where his parents reside, for burial. Deceased was about 22 years old and came here a short time ago on a visit to his relatives.

Henry Tweet's fine crop of wheat has already been remarked upon and when it is taken into consideration that he has 440 acres of it that will all yield well, it will mean "some" wheat.

How many Powell Butte ranchers are keeping the fact in mind that their exhibits at the county fair this fall will be the biggest kind of a boost to this, the best part of Crook county.
