A STITCH IN TIME.

The dastardly and fanatical attempt to take the life of Colonel Roosevelt arouses the indignation and scorn of the entire nation, and will win for the third-term candidate a storm of sympathy, and, no doubt, a deluge of votes, for such sympathy and political support are apt to go hand in hand.

While the attack in no wise emanated from any organization, there is little reason to doubt that one of the things that chiefly aroused it was the vast amount of bitter and infamous material that has been published and spoken regarding Colonel Roosevelt. A disgraceful instance of this species of criminal mud-slinging was the blasphemous broadside distributed in Portland at the time of the Colonel's visit, which vilified defamed him in language that was as indecent as it was treasonous.

BEND AS A MARKET.

(Redmond Spokesman.)
Allen Wilcox, the well known Powell Butte farmer, last Friday shipped his second carload of oats to Bend from here, and stated that he had another carload contracted for.

The above clipping contains a rare tribute to the position that Bend is coming to occupy in Central Oregon. For few developments can be a matter of greater satisfaction to Bend people than to realize that this town is becoming a market place for the interior territory, and few matters are of more real importance to the farmers than to have a cash market for their products close at hand.

Elsewhere in this paper is published a digest of the ballot as the voters will find it on November 5. As regards the candidates, there is little to say, other than that each voter will choose the man he thinks best qualified for the office.

The Pioneer Telephone Company now comes forward with a promise of improved service for Bend.

to be hoped that this promise will become a reality, and speedily. The present manager is doubtless up against a hard proposition, and it is evident that the Pacific States Company has no interest in the local situation other than to get its accounts paid, and has no desire to improve the existing equipment, which, for the most part, makes adequate service impossible.

WHO'S A LIAR?

(Redmond Spokesman.)
Mr. Springer, democratic candidate for county judge, who is being supported for that office by about half a dozen people in Redmond, was here last week. He manifested surprise that his candidacy had been advocated in Redmond and said it was gratuitous on the part of the one boomerang him. The person boosting him said the "dope" was paid for. Some one is a liar, evidently.

RAILROAD BUSINESS BIG.

W. C. Wilcox, assistant general passenger and freight agent of the Hill Oregon line, who was here Friday, reports an excellent season on the Central Oregon line from the railroad standpoint. The increase of wheat shipments, this year over last, is between 300 and 400 per cent, and all other importations and exportations are almost correspondingly improved.

GOOD ROADS WILL BUILD UP BUSINESS.

They Will Increase Population and Benefit Local Tradesmen.

To no one more than the business man is the question of good roads a vital issue. The spreading of the doctrine of good roads will mean a large increase in the volume of business, will lead to great leaps in the development of this already rich country and will make money for every man in mercantile lines.

Good roads will increase the productivity of the land because they will give the farmers a better outlet for their marketable stuff and will lead to such an increase in population that there will be more workers per square mile than there are under the old road system.

ROADWAYS AND WATERWAYS.

Good Roads Advocates Should Get More Money.

If it is sensible for the federal government to issue bonds to improve water transportation facilities then it is equally sensible to do so for the improvement of highways. The millions expended on waterways may be of advantage to some of the people, but a few dollars for highway improvement will benefit all the people.

Good roads advocates in congress should organize at once and get at least as much money for roads as goes to waterways.—Jesse Taylor in Good Roads.

NEW CROOK COUNTY MAPS.

The Bulletin has in stock a number of the new Crook county white print maps, showing all roads, rivers, irrigated lands, towns, township and section lines. The maps are bigger and more comprehensive than any other maps and are carefully printed on heavy white paper.

CLOSE RACE IS SURE

hope to elect him. He has been a successful business man and is one of the heavy taxpayers of the county, which fact, together with the fact that his is a case of the office seeking the man, will cause his candidacy to appeal to the thinking voter who wishes to see the office of judge removed from politics.

Redmond is Bitter.

In view of the general interest evidenced in the county campaign, and because they are regarded as humorous masterpieces, the following extracts are reprinted from last week's issue of the Spokesman of Redmond, where the assertions that McFarlane is out of the race cut painfully deep: Carefully gleaned reports from the different sections of the county assure the election of G. A. McFarlane of Redmond for county judge by a large majority.

The ridiculously false statements appearing in the Bend Bulletin in regard to the support which is being received by Dr. Coe, is certainly very amusing to anyone who will stop to consider the situation. It is also amusing to note the

October 16, 1912 Dear Friend:

Prunes, when you stew them, are a mighty nice thing to begin breakfast with. Don't you think so?

There is lots of difference in the kinds of prunes you get though. If you want to get real nice prunes you must go to a grocery that carries good prunes and other fruit.

Prunes are nice and healthy too. They make a good economical breakfast fruit, because you can get a whole pound for 7 cts.

Your friend, Jacob.

attempt on the part of the Bend Bulletin to stir up some of the smaller towns which heretofore it has wholly ignored, and will continue to ignore after election, regardless of results.

We also note the fact that Mr. Springer, not being an attorney, is losing the support of many Democrats who are advocating the election of Mr. McFarlane.

It is now a foregone conclusion that Mr. McFarlane will receive the unanimous support of all decent Republicans in the county, and indications now are that he will carry the Bend precinct by a good majority.

While commiserating with The Bulletin for being called a liar by the discerning Redmond editor, the men who are working for Coe and for a business administration of county affairs are jubilant over the stand evidenced through the above clipping.

"We wish McFarlane all the luck in the world," was the way one of them put it. "Every vote that Mac gets is a help to Coe, for it's a vote that might have been Springer's. A. J. Springer is the man Coe must look out for. When they say that Springer is losing votes to McFarlane we are tickled to death."

As regards the mudslinging to the effect that The Bulletin suddenly has awakened to an unaccustomed interest in neighboring towns, several farmers and visitors from the towns in question have been interested enough to call attention to the fact that The Bulletin devotes four times as much space to the news of other communities and of other sections as any paper in the county, and that in this respect this paper's policy is now exactly what it always has been, and always will be—to print every bit of interesting news concerning any locality, and never to "knock" any section or any town.

U. C. COE of Bend for COUNTY JUDGE.

Independent and non-political candidate.

A competent business man pledging a competent business administration. Dr. Coe stands for a square deal for all sections, economy and efficiency in county expenditures, wise road construction and full publicity in all matters that concern taxpayers.

From a county-wide experience of eight years Dr. Coe is thoroughly familiar with the needs of all parts of Crook County. He is also a heavy taxpayer and understands the importance of economy. A vote for Dr. U. C. Coe is a vote for efficient, honest administration.
