Woman suffrage carried 818 to 728 and single tax was defeated by a 3 to 1 vote. The graduated tax amendment also lost, 434 to 1291. The amendment to abolish capital punishment lost 604 to 884. The highest vote polled in the county for any one candidate or measure was 1816, for Warren Brown for county clerk. The total vote cast for the presidential candidates was 3152, while the registration was but 2953, showing an unusually lively interest in the contest.

Last Wednesday Van Allen was conceded the county assessorship, leading Foster by 45 votes, with about 75 per cent of the votes counted. However, final returns from the remaining eastern precincts finally gave Foster the victory by 41 votes.

For State Representative V. A. Forbes of Bend polled a very high vote, as did his running partner, W. O. Smith of Klamath Falls.

Single tax was defeated in the county by an overwhelming vote. By a margin of less than 1500,

Harry Lane, Democrat, won the race for the senatorial toga over his nearest rival, Ben Selling, Republican. Bourne, on the independent ticket, was a poor third. Oregon went to Wilson by over 12,000 plurality. Nick Sinnott of The Dalles, Republican, goes to Congress from this district, defeating Graham handily. Lafferty and Hawley won in the other districts.

The detailed county election returns by precincts will be found on page six.

SIX FEET OF FOWL NECK FOR MAN WHO LOVES 'EM

Lee Davenport Decides Guest Who Wants Delicacy Shall Have His Fill, and Sends Necks of Swans.

For the first time in his life, it is reported, W. E. Scott has all the chicken necks he can eat. At least, they are nearly chicken necks. The total combined length of the delicacies in question is six feet three inches.

It happened this way. Mr. Scott recently visited the Lee Davenport ranch, where chicken was served for dinner. Mr. Scott is particularly fond of chicken necks, and kicked because that particular part of the hen's anatomy was omitted from the menu. In fact, he is quoted as saying that he was good for a mile of chicken neck any time. So Monday, when Mr. Davenport came to town, he brought Scott the biggest collection of fowl neck ever gathered together. There was exactly six feet three inches of neck. Only it wasn't chicken neck, but instead was the combined necks of three swans. When last heard of, Mr. Scott was wrestling with his big contract.

The swans were killed Sunday by Bert Powell, who winged the three with five shots, from a blind on a pond on the Davenport ranch. Bert Randall, the ranch foreman, also killed three swan some days ago. So far as is known, these are the only swan killed in this vicinity for a couple of years. One of the birds weighed over 15 pounds, and measured 7 feet and four inches from wing tip to wing tip, being pure white.

CALIFORNIA MAN LIKES BEND.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Davis of Los Angeles arrived Monday, and will make Bend their home. Mr. Davis says he will erect one or more houses at once. He shipped his auto by water from San Francisco to The Dalles, the final stretch of the journey being by freight car. "Bend," says Mr. Davis, "sounded good at long range, but it looks even better than it sounded. One thing that struck me was that apparently about 90 per cent of the passengers on the train got off here."

Article Concerns Orrin Miller, Who Crossed Plains in Fifties.

In the Portland Oregonian of Monday there appeared a picture of Orrin Miller of Bend, and the members of his family, accompanied by the following brief article: "Recently one of the pioneer family reunions for which Oregon is noted was held here, when Orrin Miller, who came to the Pacific Coast in the early fifties, gathered four generations of his family about him. "Mr. Miller is 77 years old, and is still able bodied, for last winter he sold his own as a huntsman, killing deer and bear with the best of the young men. He came to California in 1854, by oxcart across the plains, starting from Council Bluffs. The members of his family shown in the picture are Mrs. M. F. Hawthorn, Mrs. F. M. Carter and the latter's three children."

BOND ISSUE IS BEING PRINTED

NO POSSIBILITY OF ANY HITCH

Expected That Contract Will Be Signed up With Portland Firm Within Week and Construction Be Commenced at Once.

"The bonds are now being printed and I expect shortly to have them ready to send to you."

Such is the welcome paragraph contained in a letter to City Recorder Ellis, received this morning from the attorney for Farnon, Son & Co., the Chicago bonding house that has purchased Bend's $60,000 sewer issue. Now there remains only the final adjustment of a few minor matters, the receipt of the bonds, their return to Chicago and the receipt of the money.

At last night's council meeting the contract and bond from the contractors, the South Portland Crushed Rock Company, were examined. They were returned for some slight revision. With this effected, there seems no reason why the contract should not be signed probably within a week and actual construction be in progress before December 1.

There are now no more possibilities of hitches in the matter of the bond issue.

WORK ON O. E. R. R. SURVEY

Bend Locators Find Settlers Jubilant Over Railroad Prospects.

E. R. Post and O. C. Henkle of the Oregon Land & Immigration Co. have just returned from a 300-mile trip through Lake and Harney counties. They stopped one night with the engineers of the Oregon Eastern Railroad southwest of Wagonfire mountain. There are 15 engineers in the crew, doing the final work on the survey which they expect to have completed from Dog mountain to Odell by January 1.

They report that settlers are flocking in from Bend, Burns and Lakeview, taking up land along the survey. This company located 19 people in the last three weeks in that locality. The settlers along the survey are very enthusiastic over the immediate prospects of a railroad.

O'DONNELLS MOVE SATURDAY.

By this Saturday O'Donnell Bros. expect to have moved their meat market from its present temporary quarters to the new store room immediately north, in the other half of the handsome brick building, that portion of the structure being about completed. After the move the temporary frame store room will be removed and the south room completed.

BISHOP PADDOCK HERE SUNDAY.

The Rev. Robert E. Paddock, Episcopal bishop of Eastern Oregon, will arrive Friday from the south and is expected to conduct services on next Sunday. Through the courtesy of Dr. Gorby, the regular Presbyterian morning service at the Star Theatre at 11 o'clock will be turned over to Bishop Paddock, who will at that time announce any other services which he will hold while here.

DEVELOP POWER IN CASCADES

HILL BELIEVED BACK OF WORK

Engineers Plan Extensive Operations to Last Two Years—Camp Supplies Probably Go up Through the Sisters Country.

(Sisters Herald). It has been a well known fact for some time that the Oregon Electric or Hill interests owned the power sites at Clear and Fish lakes.

The Oregon Electric has had a corps of about 25 men engaged in making examinations at the headwaters of the McKenzie during the past season and having completed their task returned to Portland via Lebanon about ten days ago.

Engineer Edmonstone, who has had charge of the hydraulic development work for the past nine months, passed through Sisters Monday bound for Portland where his family reside. The object of Mr. Edmonstone's trip through Sisters at this time was to determine the advisability of getting supplies from here for the extensive work that will no doubt be started as soon as possible in the spring.

There is a good road from Sisters and Mr. Edmonstone thinks it can be kept open through the winter with very little difficulty.

In conversation with Mr. Edmonstone he stated that he had no doubt but that the work will be started at an early date and rushed to completion.

It will require a force of several hundred men and two years time to complete the undertaking, which will be one of the most extensive hydro-electric plants in this country.

Two engineers have been left at Clear lake and will remain all winter studying meteorological conditions. They have been supplied with everything necessary to last them a year.

It will be remembered that when recently The Bulletin published the statement that the Hill engineers were active in the mountains near the Clear lake district, denial was forthwith made by railroad officials, in Portland papers, of any such activity. While the reason for the power development that evidently is planned is now given as being the acquisition of power for the Willamette valley electric lines, it is firmly believed by many familiar with the territory affected and the general railroad situation that the fundamental reason for the development in progress is in connection with the construction and operation of the trans-mountain railroad that will lead across the Cascades through the Sisters country to Bend and eastward.

LADIES PLAN GIFT SALE

Library Club Makes Financial Report For October.

The gift problem has been solved by the Ladies' Library Club, which will hold a bazaar all day Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7. They will have a large assortment of Japanese articles, Mexican drawn work and so forth. These will be sold more cheaply than one can purchase material and make gifts, say the ladies.

The treasurer's report for the month of October shows receipts of $45.25, balance from September of $52.70, and disbursements of $73.05, making a balance of $24.90 on hand. The expenditures included librarian's salary, wood, books, first payment and interest on note for labor on library building.

The following is an endorsement of Prof. A. L. Nelson of the lecture of George Gilbert Bancroft, to be given here November 29 under the auspices of the Library Club:

"So thoroughly did the audience enjoy Dr. Bancroft's lecture on 'Hoodoo' that it became the talk of the town and the next night the college hall was filled to listen to 'The Ups and Downs of Matrimony.' His lectures are full of meat as well as sauce and seasoning, and he has more over the remarkable power of holding and conserving the energies of his audience. He will repay careful study and attention. I consider him a master mind."
