

BEND'S NEW $20,000 BANKING ESTABLISHMENT

FIRST NATIONAL BANK - BEND - OREGON

The new home of the First National Bank, on the corner of Oregon and Bond streets, is now practically completed, and will be occupied by that institution January 1.

The new building will be the finest built and occupied by any Oregon bank in a town of less than 5000 inhabitants. Its cost is $20,000. The building is 50 by 70 feet, of grey pressed brick trimmed with Indiana limestone. The architects are Bee-zer Bros. of Seattle. The interior fittings of the banking room, now being installed, are of mahogany and marble, and set a high standard in luxurious and attractive appearance.

AROUND THE COUNTY

WAR ON JACK RABBITS.

(Metolius Central Oregonian.) The ceaseless war on jack rabbits is having the desired effect and in a short time the long-eared pest will be scarce, if not extinct, in this section. Local nimrods report that over in the canyon west of town, where formerly a lone hunter experienced no trouble in bagging down 40 or 50 rabbits on an afternoon's tramp, is now lucky to get one-fifth that number. The remaining rabbits are becoming wild and show more of a disposition to keep out of shot gun range than formerly. The farmers will shed no tears over the complete extermination of the jacks.

SCHOLARS DRIVE TO SCHOOL.

(Metolius Central Oregonian.) The Metolius school board will build a shed near the school house for use of the country pupils in protecting their horses against the wintry weather. This action will be much appreciated by scholars residing in the country and who drive to town each day, and is in keeping with the policy of the board to look after the needs of the rural population.

TERREBONNE CREAMERY OPENS.

The Terrebonne Creamery Association's plant has been started. The equipment is the best. Every person patronizing the creamery will have a voice in its management, on the co-operative plan.

SCHOOL NOTES

(Reported for the Bulletin.)

The net enrollment of the Bend public school at the close of last week was 248 as opposed to 244 on October 4; the enrollment on November 1 had been reduced to 222. The past month has therefore witnessed a net increase of 26 pupils whereas the preceding month showed a net loss of 22. The enrollment at the corresponding time last year was 214, the net gain for the year being 34.

On October 4 of the present year, with a total enrollment of 244, the enrollment of the first five grades was 146; at the present time enrollment in these same grades is 163—that is, during the past two months the enrollment of the school as a whole has not changed very materially, while the enrollment of the first five grades has been increased by 17. The enrollment of the first five grades on December 1, 1911, was 118; therefore, the net gain of the first five grades during the past year has been 45, while the net gain of the school has been only 34.

The books purchased for the school library with the apportionment money reserved for such purposes have been received. Fifty-three volumes were procured this year.

There were over 60 visitors to hear the Thanksgiving program of the third and fifth grades last Wednesday afternoon. The fourth grade had a party and lunch. The other grades having exercises were the first and second, the eight, seventh and sixth.

Clyde McGilivray, a member of the junior class in the high school, left last week. The family intends to go to California this week. But Ivan, who is a senior, will stay in Bend to who is a senior, will stay in Bend to graduate next spring.
