BEND ROWE'S STORE OREGON

EMBLEM CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

The Emblem Club of Bend held its first annual banquet Saturday night, 20 men participating in the affair, which everyone present characterized as the most unique and enjoyable entertainment thus far held in Bend. The host of the evening was W. D. Cheney, who came down from Seattle to entertain the present enrollment of the Emblem Club.

In addition to an elaborate dinner served by Corckets, which included a menu of seven excellent courses, there was an extensive program of speaking, singing and music which kept the banqueters busy until far along in the "wee sma' hours."

The songs that were sung at the Seattle Railroad Excursion banquet in September were again heard, reinforced with others, and throughout the evening Hunter's orchestra played. The tables and room in the Putnam residence which had been turned over to the club were tastefully decorated with carnations, several hundred having been shipped in by the host for the occasion. In addition to attractive menus, song books and place cards, the decorations provided by host, guests and caterer even included such unique details as specially designed candle shades, with translucent Bend emblems on them, "emblenized" ice cream, and a generous decoration of emblem banners on the walls.

The speeches of the evening were devoted to enthusiastic discussion of Bend's resources, possibilities and publicity enterprises, while plans for club activity for the ensuing year were considered.

Songs, Music, Speechmaking, Excellent Menu and Unique Decoration Features Make the Event a Most Notable One.

RAILROAD TO PRINEVILLE?

Another Promoter Undertakes to Build a Line. (Prineville Review.) For several days last week we noticed a little knot of Prineville citizens acting very mysterious.

They were Messrs. Baldwin, C. M. Elkins, C. Sam Smith, J. R. Stinson and M. E. Brink, and they covered the entire city for several days. They were the committee out for funds to insure the construction of a rail line between Prineville and Metolus, and we learn that they have been highly successful, securing financial help to such an extent that only $15,000 more is needed, and this amount can easily be raised. The promoter, Mr. Scheel, has been advised that Prineville and vicinity have done their part, and that it is up to him to do his.

So there is now little doubt that we will have a line to the outer world. It will be quite a convenience.

BUYS BIG CLARKE MILL.

William F. McNaught has bought the Big Clarke sawmill, some seven miles from town on the Bend-Burns road. Mr. McNaught, it is understood, intends to rebuild the mill and equip it to handle about 20,000 feet a day. The plant was partly destroyed by fire some months ago.
