PRIMITIVE ARAB LIFE.

Desert People Still Have the Customs of Abraham's Time.

In the wild deserts Arab life is as primitive as in Abraham's time. Sheep are still slain to seed a vow. The salt or bread covemnut is observed, and when a man dies his tent is toru down and destroyed.

Old names such as Joseph. Moses. and Alexander are still in common use among Araba, though pronounced "Yusuf," "Musa" and "Skandar." To divorce his wife a man may repent the formula Ent telek three times. Usually saying it once makes the woman behave, and its repetition is not

The "evil eye" superstition is common, and the first injunction given a visiting foreigner by experienced Arabian travelers is that he must not point at animals or persons in Arab settlements.

Arabs say a man gifted with this malign power can look at a bird flying in the air and that it will drop dead: that if he chooses to cast his wicked spell on a camel it may go lame or a child so selected will be struck blind. None of the lower class can read or write, but the Arab is noted for his ready wit and his habit of speaking in
