The Bulletin has been designated by the County Court of Crook County to publish officially all the proceedings of the court.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1913.

MR. SPRINGER AGAIN.

Elsewhere The Bulletin publishes one of the periodic epistles from the fluent pen of County Judge Springer. In passing, it may be pertinent to remark that judging by the gleams of reason visible here and there in this communication, we are inclined to entertain the belief that if His Honor keeps at the letter writing game he will be passably accomplished in the authorial art if he has the good fortune—or the misfortune—to retain his office for a year or so more, and continues to exercise his talent as assiduously as hitherto.

Of course we should be entirely squelched by the judicial outburst. But we are not. Truth is, not only the children, but the grown ups, whom His Honor craves for his exclusive audience, are amused.

The main theme of His Honor's effusion is that The Bulletin referred to his cash valuation assessment scheme as chimerical. Ignorant as we are (see His Honor's letter) we nevertheless do realize that there is a great measure of virtue in the plan. What we did condemn, and do again hold up to ridicule, is the manner in which Judge Springer introduced his hobby. He tried to force it down the throats of a gathering of the taxpayers who had met for another purpose. He could not champion it so that his listeners could see the good that was in it. He refused to listen to their reasonable requests for a reasonable support of an eminently reasonable enterprise—that of bonding the county so that some respectable road building can be undertaken. He went on record as being opposed to a progressive and wise development, unless, forsooth, those interested in it made a cheap "swap" with him; there was no logic, no common sense and no political sense in him.

True, there is much that can be said favoring the cash valuation assessment plan. There is also a deal to be said against it. But one thing is certain: it is not a plan that can be forced through at once. As one county official said: "It is easy to propose these things, and hard to work them out." It is folly to start such a movement, with any idea that it can be put into operation immediately.

When Judge Springer maintains that the cash valuation assessment would be any more universally just to the taxpayers of the county than a 50 per cent valuation, he talks twaddle. It is just as easy, just as equitable and just as universally fair to assess property on a 50 per cent basis as on a 100 per cent basis. When he raises his voice championing this move as one for "the benefit of the poor man, the small taxpayer," he is simply employing that time-honored and threadbare political balderdash that has been pandered to the "common people" by men of his stamp since Ada presided over the first republican convention.

DRY METOLIUS.

One who has no direct interest in the matter cannot consider the situation as regards the liquor question at Metolius without some measure of surprise. It is quite probable that the municipal election held there, so far as it concerned the selling of liquor, was illegal; but the legality, as worst, was of a purely technical kind.

The broad facts of the matter seem to be that Metolius went ahead with entirely honest intentions. The incorporation was voted practically unanimously, and the previous almost-vote of the precinct to be "dry" was reversed about two to one. There is no doubt that today Metolius is as clean and orderly as could be. But now, suddenly, the technical mistake in the election is dragged out and Metolius must remain "dry" despite the desire of its citizenship and despite the fact that the moral condition is most excellent.

It is possible, and perhaps very probable, that the election was technically wrong. If so, the Governor's action is grounded on right, so far as the right of living up to the letter of the law is concerned. But when one remembers that before Metolius was incorporated, a half dozen saloons were running there wide open, although it was in a "dry" district; and that there was no interference from either state or county authorities, one can't help feeling that altogether it's playing it pretty hard on poor Metolius, to land so heavily and so suddenly on it now.

One of the most touching sights in Prineville was to see Denton Burdick, the popular city attorney of Metolius, humming "How dry I am, how dry I am, West only knows how dry I am," etc.

BALL GAME AT REDMOND

Bend Business Men Will Visit Neighboring Town Sunday.

The Redmond business men have written Bend for a baseball game to be played there next Sunday, and the local business men are going to get together a team and go down on the train.

Every business man in town who can play ball is urged to be out on the ball grounds this (Wednesday) evening at 6 o'clock for a practice workout and again on Friday evening to get the soreness out. Such stellar (?) players as Dick Smith, Clyde McKay, Doc Connarn, Harry Skuse, Jimmy Sawhill, Fred VanMatre, Donald C. May, R. H. Brownlow, John Carmody, J. P. Keyes, F. Ewing Martin, Vernon A. Forbes, Guy Reynolds and H. J. Overturf are expected, out for tryouts. There will no doubt be a position for everyone as it will likely require several nines to play nine full innings of ball.

Some of the tennis sharks are also going down to Redmond and in the morning games will be played with the Redmond players on the tennis court. Anyone who wishes to have some fun should join the crowd and go down to the neighboring town. All aboard for Redmond Sunday morning!

TENNIS MATCH SCHEDULED.

A team of Prineville tennis players will be over from the county seat on Saturday, May 31, to play Bend. Probably several matches will be played Saturday but most of them will come off Sunday. The two local courts, one belonging to the Bend Tennis Club and the other at the Putnam residence, will be used. It is expected that at least five players and probably six will participate in each team, and while the visitors are here it is planned to form a Central Oregon tennis association, so that rotation tournaments can be arranged with Prineville, Metolius and Redmond.

PUBLIC LIBRARY AND PARK.

(Madras Pioneer.)
Madras will have a public library and a public park. The work has been taken in charge by the Y. W. C. T. U. and plans are rapidly being matured. Work on the park will be begun at once, Mr. and Mrs. John McTaggart having donated ground for the purpose.

REMARKABLE MEDICAL CASE.

(Sisters Herald.)
The operation recently performed on P. J. Lelthausen in Portland was not only a very delicate piece of surgery, but revealed a case that has baffled the medical fraternity in Portland and they have been unable to find a record of another case like it anywhere. Mr. Lelthausen first felt the trouble coming on him 37 years ago and during the last few years it has grown worse at such a rapid rate that he became convinced that there was only one chance for him and that was to submit to an operation. Dr. A. E. Rokey performed the operation and found the stomach almost completely filled with a gritty growth that would have completely filled it within a few months. It was necessary to remove almost the entire stomach and then patch up what was left so that it leaves Mr. Lelthausen with a stomach of about 12 ounces capacity, or less than one-third its original size. One remarkable fact regarding the case is that the patient was only in bed 19 days and 30 days from the date that he left Sisters was home and able to resume work.

FEEDING POTATOES TO HOGS.

(Silver Lake Leader.)
Klamath farmers are fattening hogs on their surplus potato crops. Ten carloads of hogs have been shipped into that district from Sacramento and if the potatoes on hand can be utilized profitably in this way, other large shipments will be made.

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT.

NORTH PORTLAND, May 16—Receipts for the week were: Cattle 1819, calves 113, hogs 4312, sheep 4597, horses 55. The cattle market reached the pinnacle of this year's business last Monday. All existing Pacific Coast open market prices for beef were broken when five loads of corn fed steers went to the killers at $9. A few cows brought $7.65, but offerings were scarce. The general run of prime fed bullocks sold $8.50 to $8.75. Good calves are steady at $9, and bulls $6.25 to $6.50. The beef shortage is acute and fails to fill the constant demand from anxious buyers. $8.75 for steers, $7.75 for cows, $9 for calves and $6.50 for bulls are conservative tops in the cattle market, which is firm. Swine prices suffered one of the severest slumps of the year on Monday and Wednesday. Total loss was 45c. Tops were just steady Thursday at $8.40. A week ago hogs were selling around $9. Receipts were enormous and market was glutted. Sheep house had a broad business and a lower price level. A firm mutton demand absorbed the sheep and lambs offered but the trade was uneven. Prime ewes at $5.25, wethers $6.25 to $6.50 and lambs $7.00 to $7.25 are best grade sheared prices. Wool and spring stuff one dollar higher.
