PRACTICAL BAKING LESSONS

CAKES
I often hear housekeepers attribute their success or failure in cake baking to luck. Others have the idea that cake bakers are born, and that unless one is naturally adapted to it, she cannot succeed. In reality anyone can bake the nicest of cakes if she will follow closely the few simple rules which are given below in full detail.

Nevada Briggs

The Right Materials
Bear in mind that the best materials make the best food.

A soft winter wheat pastry flour is as necessary for cakes as for biscuits. In fact, it should always be used with baking powder, as it absorbs moisture more readily than hard spring wheat bread flour, which contains much slow dissolving gluten. If bread flour is used for cake, one must use at least one-third more moisture than is called for by the recipe, for all cake recipes are written for pastry flour.

A great deal of the uncertainty of cake baking is eliminated by using a double-raise baking powder such as K. C. The batter need not be hurried into the oven, nor need one be careful about slamming the oven door, or jarring the stove. K. C. is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which commences to raise as soon as moisture is added; the other is inactive until heat is applied, so that the raising is sustained against all danger of falling until the cake is baked.

Cane sugar is always to be preferred for cakes, because beet sugar is hard to dissolve and is likely to sink to the bottom or stick around the edges of the pan, making an imperfect cake.

If impossible to get granulated cane sugar, then as the next best thing, buy raw sugar. This is very fine and easily creamed.

Measure Everything

It will save time and many steps if you will get everything required by the recipe on your mixing table before starting. Everything should be measured correctly. If the recipe calls for sifted flour, sift it once before measuring. Measure flour by filling the cup with a spoon. If you dip the cup into the flour, it will pack and there is danger of over measuring. Measure the baking powder carefully, using level, rounding or heaping teaspoonsful, according to the recipe. Sift the flour and baking powder together three times in order to get them thoroughly mixed, so that the cake will raise evenly; also to loosen up the flour.

Mixing

The flour and baking powder having been measured and sifted, measure out the sugar and butter and cream together. If the butter is cold and firm, warm the sugar slightly in the oven. After creaming the butter and sugar, separate the yolks from the whites of the eggs and with a rotary egg beater, cream the yolks until light lemon colored and very creamy. Add this to the butter and sugar, and blend all together. Now add a little of the water or milk and stir it in thoroughly; then a little flour, stirring it in thoroughly; then more moisture and more flour alternately, stirring each time until all the flour and moisture are in the batter, when it should

Orange Cake
1 cup butter 1 cup sugar
1 cup sugar 1/2 cup milk or water
1 1/2 cups sifted pastry flour
2 level teaspoonsful K. C. Baking Powder
Yolks of 2 eggs, beaten light
Whites of 2 eggs, beaten dry
This makes two small layers.

Filling for Orange Cake
The unbeaten white of 1 egg, add to this 1/4 cup orange pulp and juice, with the rotary egg beater gradually beat in 1/4 cups powdered sugar, beating it in slowly. When stiff enough to hold its shape spread upon the cake. Long beating makes this icing spongy and white.

Cream Cake
1/2 cup butter 1 cup sugar
Yolks of two eggs beaten light
1 1/2 cups sifted pastry flour
2 level teaspoonsful K. C. Baking Powder
1/2 cup cold water
Whites of two eggs beaten dry
Flavoring to suit.

Cream Filling
1/4 cup sifted flour 1/4 teaspoonful salt
1 cup hot milk 1/4 egg beaten light
1/4 cup sugar 1 ounce chocolate
1 teaspoonful vanilla extract
Mix flour and salt with a very little cold milk; stir into the hot milk and cook ten minutes, add the chocolate and stir until it is melted and evenly blended with the flour mixture; then beat in the egg mixed with the sugar, and lastly the vanilla.

In the next lesson other recipes for Cakes and Icings will be given.
