

A HINDU IDOL.

Its Strange History Caused Mrs. Carnot to Order it Destroyed.

When Mrs. Carnot, widow of Rudl Carnot, died and her will was read a clause in it caused considerable comment. This was to the effect that a certain small Hindu idol carried from a hard stone which would be found among her property must be taken out and crushed until completely destroyed.

The idol had been presented to Rudl Carnot years before he had ever thought of the presidency of France by a friend who had brought it from India. Later he learned that there was a legend attached to it which asserted that whosoever would retain it in his possession would rise to the fullest height of power in his chosen profession, but die of a fatal wound when at the zenith of his career.

Mrs. Carnot traced the history of the idol and found that for 500 years the emperors who had possessed it had all died either in battle or by assassination from stab wounds. Yet he laughed at the story, called the facts adduced by his search a mere chain of coincidences and retained the idol. He died by a dagger in the hands of an assassin; hence Mrs. Carnot's strange request.

LURE OF THE MISTS.

Curious Experience in the Clouds in an Aeroplane.

It was at Manchester. Aeroplanes were sweeping the skies in the circuit of Britain races. Vedrine had landed, and impatient at the rules that made him wait ten minutes before taking up the race, went about jabbering in French. One of the officials asked him what kind of a trip he had had. Vedrine's answer was to hold up his hands expressively.

He was quiet for many seconds, then he said:

"I was blanketed in clouds so that I could not see ten meters before me. Below me was nothing but rolling mist that gradually took on all fanciful shapes and colors. I caught myself wanting to descend, to drop suddenly into it and see what it was like. To escape this feeling I flew higher and higher, until, venturing to look down again, I saw wonderful lights and shadows that never before had been revealed to me from the sky. I saw a dreamy city, a wonderful mirage, and I believe I would have forgotten everything but these exquisite colorings, re-leased my levers, and" — (He laughed.) "But I was fortunate, for I became sick — as sick as a dog — away up in the clouds." — Edward Lyell Fox in Harper's Weekly.

Cheapest Hams Ever Sold.

Sometimes an error creeps into the published announcement of a big store, due to the negligence of the proofreader or to the compositor in the printing office of the paper. It is rarely funny in its results, although it may make humorous reading when first issued. One day a department store in New York advertised "Sugar-Cured Hams at 4c a lb." Rather cheap, you say? Well, 130 odd persons thought so too, for that was the number that asked for the ham at this ridiculously low price the morning the ad appeared. It transpired that the printed proof O. K'd by the grocery buyer and sent down to the newspaper office for insertion in the day's issue read "4c a lb." The first numeral had simply dropped out of sight; 125 sales were made at a loss of 10 cents per pound. — Woman's Home Companion.

Poetry and the Child.

Read poetry to the child. Read easy, simple verse, read nonsense verse, read real poems, read sometimes such poems as "Thalantos" and bits of "Paradise Lost." Of course the child will not understand the thought, but he will enjoy the sound, and he will unconsciously learn the words. Poetry was never meant to be read to oneself, but always to be read aloud or recited. It is harder than prose. The order of the words is often like our everyday speech and the words themselves are frequently different. Here especially children need help. If they find it they learn to love poetry, and there are few things that so sweeten life as a genuine love for poetry for its beauty and for the helpful lines that come to one's mind in hard places. — Home Progress Magazine.

A Good Stove Lining.

A good stove lining, one that will last two years or more, can be made from blue clay. Brick clay or one that does not contain much sand, is good also. Clay found in salt water marshes is one of the best for stove linings. The clay must be reduced to a paste about like putty. The best for lining should be brushed clean and moistened before the clay is applied. Put on with hands, smooth with a trowel or thin piece of board. — National Magazine.

The Way It Goes.

"I want a new book for an invalid." "Something religious, madam?" "Er, no, he's convalescent." — Boston Transcript.

NOTICE OF CONTEST. Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, The Dalles, Oregon, May 16, 1913.

To Dan M. Smith of Bend, Oregon, Contestee:

You are hereby notified that Earl L. Powers, who gives Bend, Crook County, Oregon, as his post-office address, did on May 8, 1913, file in this office his duly corroborated application to contest and secure the cancellation of your homestead, Entry No. 69956, Serial No. 69956, made Feb. 12, 1912, for N 1/2 Section 7, Township 20 S., Range 16 E., Willamette Meridian, and as grounds for his contest he alleges that said Dan M. Smith has failed to establish his residence upon said tract; that said entryman has not resided on said land or improved it in any manner since making his entry therefor; that said entryman has abandoned said tract for upwards of six months last past and that such absence was not due to his employment in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States during time of war or otherwise.

You are, therefore, further notified that the said allegations will be taken by this office as having been confessed by you, and your said entry will be canceled thereunder without your further right to be heard thereon, either before this office or on appeal, if you fail to file in this office within twenty days after the FOURTH publication of this notice, as shown below, your answer, under oath, specifically meeting and responding to these allegations of contest or if you fail within that time to file in this office due proof that you have served a copy of your answer on the said contestant either in person or by registered mail. If this service is made by the delivery of a copy of your answer to the contestant in person, proof of such service must be either the said contestant's written acknowledgment of his receipt of the copy, showing the date of its receipt, or the affidavit of the person by whom delivered; if made by registered mail, proof of such service must consist of the affidavit of the person by whom the copy was mailed stating when and the postoffice to which it was mailed, and this affidavit must be accompanied by the postmaster's receipt for the letter.

You should state in your answer the name of the postoffice to which you desire future notices to be sent to you.

Your confidence is what Studebaker seeks to keep Possessing this confidence, we have never tried to produce a cheap wagon. We could, but we don't dare try the experiment. Our constant aim has been to produce the best wagon.

And in living up to this highest standard, we have won and hold—the confidence and good-will of hundreds of thousands of farmers all over the world.

Studebaker wagons are built to last, to do a day's work every day, to stand up under stress and strain, and to make the name Studebaker stand for all that is best in vehicles.

Don't accept any other wagon represented to be just as good as a Studebaker. The substitute may be cheaper, but it isn't up to Studebaker standards, and you can't afford to buy it.

For business or pleasure, there is a Studebaker vehicle suited to your requirements. Farm wagons, trucks, business wagons, surreys, buggies, runabouts, pony carriages—each the best of its kind. Harness also—of the same high Studebaker standard.
