

TO FINISH STREET WORK

Council Votes to Defend Suit Brought by Adams and Complete Work.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held Monday afternoon, Councilmen Allen, Collins, Steidl and Miller being present. On recommendation of City Attorney Forbes, several resolutions were passed to deal with the situation created by the default of the contractor on the street work. The city attorney was authorized to defend the suit brought by Contractor Adams and it was voted to have the city finish the work under the supervision of the city engineer. Steps were also taken to have the necessary repairs made on the Catholic church where a blast damaged the front of the building. The meeting adjourned to Friday, when plans for the new city building will be taken up.

Following the meeting of the Council, City Engineer Young made arrangements to begin on the street work at once and yesterday a crew of men and teams in charge of Tom Murphy commenced operations on Oregon street. The first effort will be to finish the streets where work is uncompleted and after that to clean up the remaining loose ends of the job.

FORECASTER BEALS HERE.

E. A. Beals of the United States Weather Bureau at Portland was in town Saturday on a visit of inspection of the government weather stations. Among other things, Mr. Beals expected to see what could be done about establishing a system of frost warnings at Stanfield and also to attend to the river gage at Weiser, Idaho. From here he went to Burns. Although Mr. Beals is district forecaster of weather for Oregon and as such is supposed to be responsible for the weather, he declines to assume responsibility for the heat of the past week in Oregon. Saturday the mercury in the local government thermometer went as high as 96 degrees, and the nights have also been warm.

MARRIED AT DESCHUTES.

The people of Deschutes were given a surprise last evening when a couple of young people from nearby towns stepped off the evening train with a minister and, going to the hotel, were married. They were Frank Phoenix of Redmond and Miss Mabel Windom of Prineville. Rev. Frederick Harvey of Redmond was the minister. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Phoenix spent the night at Deschutes and this morning went down to Redmond to explain how they had escaped their friends for the occasion.

MUSICAL CLUB'S PROGRAM.

At the meeting of the Musical Club last Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. Putnam's, the following program was given: Paper, "American Composers," Miss Dolson; vocal, "Song of the Heart," Tunison, and "A Necklace of Love," Nevin, by Mrs. Todd; piano, "On the Sea," Farrow, by Mrs. Putnam; vocal, "His Lullaby," and "Longing," Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "Five Little White Heads," Bishof, by Mrs. Brinkley. The next meeting will be on September 3 at the home of Mrs. Robert B. Gould.

DR. GORBY AT GOLDESDALE.

Rev. I. I. Gorby, who recently resigned the Presbyterian pastorate here, has been engaged by the Presbyterian church at Goldendale, Wn., says the Goldendale Independent, and preached his first sermon there on August 3. "He is a forceful talker and comes highly recommended as a man and minister," says the Independent. Dr. Gorby is staying in Portland, going up to Goldendale to conduct services on Sunday.

SPECIAL RATES TO FAIR.

J. T. Hardy, in town today, announces that the Oregon Trunk will sell tickets to Redmond from various points at one and a third fare on account of the Prineville fair, minimum of $1 for round trip; and on account of the fair at Salem, at the same reduced rates. The Prineville rates will be on from September 22 to 28 inclusive, and the Salem rates from September 25 to October 4 inclusive.

SUSPECT IS NOT CURSEY.

The man who has been held at Deer Lake, Wash., on suspicion of being W. D. Cursey, the Bend absconder, has been able to establish to the satisfaction of the authorities that he is not the fugitive from here, and has been released.

BAPTIST FOLKS HAVE SOCIAL.

The members of the Baptist church and invited friends had a pleasant time last evening at the Ellis home, the occasion being a lawn and house social. The band was on hand and played, and there were games and refreshments. The lawn was given a festive appearance by the use of Japanese lanterns.

COURT BEGINS NEXT TUESDAY

About 50,000 feet of timber was destroyed.

An investigation of other matters that cannot be given out at this time, it is understood, will also be placed before the grand jury by the prosecuting officers of this county, District Attorney W. A. Bell, of The Dalles and Deputy Prosecutor Willard H. Wirtz.

Crenshaw Starts Libel Suit.

Another matter of considerable interest at this time of court is a suit brought by Rev. J. M. Crenshaw of Redmond, Methodist minister at that place, against seventeen of the most prominent residents and business men of his city, for $50,000 damages for libel, and a suit for $17,500 against Editor Palmer of the Redmond Spokesman.

The suits rise out of the difficulty precipitated at Redmond a year ago when, at the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Crenshaw, a detective was employed and the former mayor, H. P. Jones, was convicted of gambling. A petition was circulated and sent to the governor by the defendants in these cases, and published in the Redmond Spokesman declaring Crenshaw to be an unscrupulous citizen and reflecting otherwise on his character and reputation, so he alleges. The cases will not likely be tried at this time for the reason that some of the parties will without doubt ask for a postponement.

Owing to a change made in the terms of the state Circuit Court at the last session of the Legislature by a bill introduced by Representative Forbes, which went into effect June 3, court convenes in Crook county on the first Mondays in September and December and the second Monday in March instead of as formerly on the third Monday in October and the first Monday in May.
