Local Men on Brink of Matrimony Are Merritt and Koon.
During the week news of two weddings-to-be has got abroad; just how many more are imminent dependent knoweth not. However, it is worth noting that the city recorder threatens to railroad through an ordinance prohibiting stenographers from getting married without giving six months warning. M. L. Merritt, supervisor of the Deschutes national forest, left Saturday morning for Dexter, Iowa, where he will be married tomorrow at 11 a. m. to Miss Nellie I. Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt will come to Bend in October and expect to reside in one of the West bungalows. The other local man on the brink of matrimony is R. E. Koon, sewer construction engineer. On October 22 he will be married to Mrs. Adele E. Schopf at Portland. After the completion of work here Mr. Koon expects to open an office in Portland, where he will make his home.
