BEND SCHOOL NOTES

A Halloween party was given by Robert Jones at his home in Kenwood Friday night. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Shouse, Dorothy and Marjorie Smith, Emma Roberts, Arvilla Murphy, Margaret Thompson, Ruth Caldwell, Hazel Thorson and Fay Devarmond. The boys were John Johnson, Carl Anderson, Arthur Vandeventer, Hugh Thompson, Lefty Fox, Lloyd and Claude Kelley. A pleasant evening was spent. A little prank was played on the party by some of the other school boys, but the jokers came out only second best.

Mrs. L. C. Young, living northeast of town, has loaned to the teachers 16 portfolios of art study pictures in connection with language exercises. Each portfolio contains 10 pictures and such artists as Landseer, Raynold, Planchard, Dupre, Lerolle, Millet, Morillo, Rembrandt, Mauve, Sargent, Whistler and Van Dyck are represented.

Mrs. Young also has a fine set of histological slides which she has offered to place at the service of the high school when it is equipped with such microscopes as make the use of these slides an advantage.

Instead of the usual Friday afternoon program a school paper was read by Hazel Thorson. It was full of interesting things.

The attendance report for the four weeks ending Friday indicates an average daily enrollment of 295 pupils in this district, with an average daily attendance of 289, or 96.7 per cent. The corresponding figures for the preceding month were 288, 278 and 96.6. For the corresponding month of last year the figures were 238, 227 and 95.5 for the three items respectively.

A Railway Across the Open Sea.
The Florida Keys railway runs from the mainland for a distance of 124 miles over what is practically open sea. Imagine a string of tiny islets stretching like the broken off piers of some Titanic bridge right out into the great salt ocean and you have the Florida keys. Most of them are only a few rods in extent. Here and there is one that reckons its area in acres, while four or five among them are islands rather than islets, covering several square miles. Big or little, however, they serve merely as stations for the railway, which runs over and upon them with the open sea on either side of it. Moreover, the viaducts and embankments that carry the trains, although immensely strong, are so narrow and steep that the passengers look out upon ocean only. There is no land whatever in sight during the greater part of the trip.—Exchange.

What Happened.

"Are you the man who writes all this joyous advice about scattering sunshine and giving everybody that seems worried a glad hand and a word of encouragement?"

"Yes," said the man with scarce hair and lanky fingers. "I am one of the professional optimists who do that sort of thing."

"Well, I'm not going to sue you for damages or false pretenses or anything of that kind. I just want to let you know that I tried to bend your lesson I went to one of our great cities and tried to speak words of cheer and comfort to the overburdened souls that I saw rushing past me."

"What happened?"
"Before I had cheered up four people I got arrested for being a confidence man."—Washington Star.

The Flying Frog of Java.

The Javanese frog is a creature measuring between fifteen and twenty-five inches. The skin of its back is pale blue and by night looks dark green or olive brown. The frog remains motionless during the day, with eyes sheltered from the light and with belly up, clinging to its support by adhesive cushions and by its belly, which is provided with a sticky covering, and it is hardly distinguishable from the objects that surround it. At nightfall it begins its hunt for the mammoth crickets on which it feeds, making leaps covering seven feet of ground. During the leap the play of lungs filled with air swells its body. To descend from a height it spreads wide its claws and, dropping, rests upon its feet.—Exchange.

Benefits of Olive Oil.

Not every one realizes the medicinal properties of olive oil. It is quite true that the machinery of the body needs oiling occasionally, like any mechanical machine which is constantly in use, and olive oil taken internally is exceedingly beneficial. A tablespoonful will aid digestion and ease liver trouble. Olive oil should be served frequently as a dressing. Taken either with salads or alone it is beneficial for catarrh either of the stomach or throat.

Making it Easy.

Man (on dock)—What in the mischief are you doing with that trunk in the bow of the boat for, Pat? Pat—Sure, an' if it was in the stern of the boat wouldn't I be rowin' uphill all the time? An' this way I'm rowin' downhill all the time.—Yale Record.
