Chef on J. P. Rogers' Car Has Been "on the Job" for 14 Years,

Deep sea mariners may boast of their craft, but anyone who has voyaged on the S. P. & S. or Oregon Trunk right of way knows that the craft with a real gilt-edged record is the good ship "B2," the private car of J. P. Rogers, superintendent of

About 24 days out of every month the "Bl" voyages somewhere over the 600-odd miles of main lines under Mr. Rogers' jurisdiction. Mr. Rogers, perhaps more generally known just as "J. P.," is skipper, but the initiated maintain that the man at the helm is none other than Randall, who presides over the destinies of the kitchen, incidentally serving time in such other capacities as bottle opener and entertainer for such guests as require it. The handle to "B2's" dusky chef's name is Ernest-Ernest Randall, He has been with Mr. Rogers some 14 years, the first employment being in Alas-ka after Randall left the U. S. Army White Pass & Yukon Raifroad. Be-fore that Randall had seen service To the Honorable Mayor and Com-th Cuba, not to mention the fact that mon Council of the City of Bend: he also had survived employment by the Pullman Company. The third member of the "B2" 'crew is Hermann Plantenberg. Mr. Rogers' sec-
