At a mass meeting of the citizens of Crescent, held at the school house February 21, for the purpose of deciding upon the location of a cemetery, an acre was given by Elmer Tyler for this purpose. The land is a part of the Tyler ranch and lies one mile south west of Crescent. The name decided upon was the "Mountain Pine Cemetery." All present were appointed Board of Trustees.

B. G. Stevens acted as chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Walter Smith as secretary. F. M. Cleaves was elected clerk for the ensuing year. A vote of thanks was given Elmer Tyler for the donation.

A. J. Wilson and John Smith, two Cottage Grove men, arrived in Crescent Thursday after a difficult journey across the mountains. They left Cottage Grove February 11, intending to make the trip on foot unaided by skis or snow shoes, but they were obliged to construct a rude pair of the latter when encountering the soft snow. At one point near the summit they found the snow eleven feet deep, and here they were able to proceed only with difficulty. At another place they were obliged to wait several days for the snow to get in condition before they could go on. By reaching Crescent February 24, they made the trip in just fifteen days.
