

SAYS CRAWFORD RESEMBLES 30C

SETTLER INVITES HIM TO DEBATE

J. J. Ellinger of Redmond Calls Candidate Crooked Politician too Long at Public Trough and With No Sympathy for Oregon Settlers.

REDMOND, May 11.—That Attorney General A. M. Crawford, candidate for Republican nomination for Governor, has not made any notable hit with the settlers in this vicinity is pretty generally felt after the recent visit of the would-be governor. But no one has voiced the anti-Crawford sentiment quite so strongly as J. J. Ellinger, who has written the following spicy letter to Mr. Crawford:

"In view of the fact that your recent trip to Crook county was a miserable failure so far as the voters being interested enough to turn out to hear what you had to say to them. I make you the following challenge: I will meet you in a public discussion in Redmond, Oregon; you to set the date. I will pay all the expenses of the hall and guarantee to furnish you a full house of interested voters, to hear what you have to say to them. The time to be two hours, divided 30 minutes alternately. You may either open or close the discussion as you choose.

"I now make to the voters of the state of Oregon the statement that your record as a public servant for the state of Oregon proves you to be unfit for public trust of any kind. That you have been the right bower of Carey Act promoters during your term as a member of the state Desert Land Board, using the influence of your office in their behalf and against the interests of the Carey Act settlers.

"Now do not consider this as a joke on my part. I am in dead earnest. I want to get a whack at that 'poor old defenseless head' of yours in a meeting where you are not the chairman of your own meeting.

"Don't hesitate to put on your fighting clothes. Although I am only a clodhopper with no education, I can spot a crooked politician in a jiffy, and I have had my lamps on you for the last five years. You look like the proverbial 30 cents to me.

"Come back to Redmond and meet me in a public discussion regarding your qualifications for the office of governor and I will make it worth the time of the voters to leave their work and come and hear us. Then, if you have the goods, perhaps you can sell them another gold brick.

"It is indeed a sad thing to contemplate a faithful old carpetbagger, like yourself, after years at the public feed trough, being turned out to hustle on the bleak and dry rim rock of private endeavor.

"Yours for good citizenship, and the elimination of all dishonest politicians.

"J. J. ELLINGER, Carey Act settler."

When the Minuet Was the Vogue.

In the days when it was the vogue the stately minuet carried with it its responsibilities. Thus, for instance, Austen Leigh on the eighteenth century minuet: "It was not every one who felt qualified to make this public exhibition, and those ladies who intended to dance minuets used to distinguish themselves by wearing a particular kind of tippet on their heads. I have heard also of another curious proof of the respect in which this dance was held. Gloves immaculately clean were considered requisite for its due performance, while gloves a little soiled were thought good enough for a country dance, and accordingly some prudent ladies provided themselves with two pairs for their several purposes."—London Standard.

A Pleasant Moment.

"I am told," said a beautiful woman to a dub of a man the other day, "that my lovely cousin, Miss X., has made a deep impression on you."

"Is Miss X. your cousin?" burred the dub excitedly. "Indeed she did she is one of the loveliest girls I ever met. I'll tell you just what kind of a girl she made with me. I met her at the 'Ladies' dinner, and she sat on the other side of me, and I talked with her the whole time, and I can't even remember who my dinner partner was."

"I thought not," said the beautiful woman dryly. "I was your dinner partner."—New York Globe.

A Boston Cook.

"Cook," said the head of the Boston household, "I think you use too much salt."

"I assure you," was the polite rejoinder, "that I restrict its use to the absolute minimum compatible with culinary exigencies."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Wrong Interpretation.

"I think the baby has your hair, ma'am," said the nurse girl, looking pleasantly at her mistress.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the lady, glancing up from her novel. "Run into the nursery and take it away from him! What will he do next?"—Stray Stories.

Discords.

"The very sound of some people's voices is exasperating."

"Quite true. Especially when they say 'Move on' or 'I'ay up.'"—Birmingham Age Herald.

REGISTRATION TOTALS 3,938

INCREASE OVER 1912 IS 985

Republicans Outnumber Democrats and Only 95 Admit Progressive Faith—Bend Precincts Register 359, and Deschutes Has 181.

PRINEVILLE, May 11.—Figures showing the total registration for the county, issued from Clerk Warren Brown's office, show a gain in registration over that of 1912, of 985. No figures are available showing how many women registered. But with the feminine ballot and the increase in population of the two years, it is safe to estimate that proportionately to the present voting strength far fewer have registered at this primary than at the last regular election, as is usually the case.

The total registration is 3,938. Of these 2036 are Republicans, 1420 Democrats, 127 Prohibitionists, 162 Socialists, 95 Progressives and 98 Independents, etc. The total for the two Bend precincts is 359, as against 331 in 1912. Deschutes precinct, which is really a part of Bend's voting strength outside the city limits, this year shows 181 as against 175 at the last election. Prineville total is 471.

LOCATING AT CRESCENT

L. F. Wakefield took in 22 From Seattle Last Week.

L. F. Wakefield passed through Bend Monday, returning to Seattle from Crescent, in whose vicinity he had located 21 homesteaders whom he took in from the "outside" some ten days ago.

"On Saturday, when the lands were opened," said Mr. Wakefield, "more than 50 claims were located near Crescent. I myself took 22 landseekers in from Seattle, and all of them except one took up land and will reside upon it." Despite the withdrawals by the Reclamation Service, Mr. Wakefield says much good land was open, although adding that for the present as many settlers are on hand to take them as there are claims open to entry.
