CHARGED WITH CHILD MURDER

REX SHELDON NOW IN COUNTY JAIL

Infant is Smothered by Its Father Few Hours After Birth and Remains Burned in Heating Stove at Saw Mill Near Grizley

Rex G. Sheldon, 32 years old, is in jail at Prineville charged with the murder of his infant son. The child was born about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Compton & Dee mill near Grizley and was smothered to death by its father within a few hours of its birth or before 6 o'clock the same morning. Its remains were burned in a small heating stove.

Mrs. Mary Pitzer and Mrs. Nellie Compton, the nearest neighbors, were present at the birth of the youngster and pronounced it as fine a lad as ever drew breath. They left the home of the Sheldon's at 4 o'clock and at 6 o'clock heard that the child had died and had already been buried.

Mrs. Pitzer at once notified county physician Edwards, who with the coroner and district attorney went at once to the home of the Sheldon's and demanded to see the child.

In the meantime, Mrs. Pitzer and Mrs. Compton had returned to the Sheldon home and asked to see the child and were informed that it had been buried and upon demanding that the child be taken up from its grave were ordered off the place. Shortly afterward the coroner and district attorney, with the county physician, arrived and upon request of the coroner to see the child, Sheldon took the county authorities to a shallow grave under a large pine stump in the brush about 150 yards in the rear of the house.

There Sheldon said he had buried the child but pretended to be much perturbed by what he saw there. A portion of the dirt had been taken from the grave and he intimated that someone had disturbed it. While taking out the dirt he pulled out a piece of charred cloth. He did not work rapidly so Coroner Poindexter took his place at the hole, excavated all the earth and revealed a part of the child's skull, burned pieces of flesh and bones which the county physician identified as portions of the anatomy of a human child.

An examination of the heating stove in the house, in which there had been a hot fire, revealed more bones, which Dr. Edwards pronounced to be the small bones of the hands and feet of the child.

Sheldon was taken into custody and brought to Prineville and will be placed on trial for murder in the first degree at the September term of court. He made many incriminating assertions during the course of the proceedings leading up to the discovery of the remains of the burned baby and the district attorney considers the case against him as certain.

"A Woman is as Young as Her Figure"

Never was this saying so true as today.

The newest gowns depend entirely upon the lines of the natural figure to give them style. So every woman must be so cleverly corseted that she looks as though she wore no corset at all.

PARISIANA CORSETS

Marveis of Skill

These new models will mold the form, correct defects, and at the same time give the desired corsetless look.

Though soft and elastic the new Parisianas maintain their shape so well that they require very few bones. Their secret lies in the way they are cut.

There is so wide a range of styles that every woman will find the model which will bring out the best points of her figure, give her the correct fashionable lines. These new Parisiana corsets are most reasonable in price, $5.00 to $1.00.
