

VETERANS COME BACK IN GAME

IMPROVED PLAYING IS SEEN SUNDAY

With Exception of One Inning When Chet Springer is Batted From Box Contest is Interesting—Good Line-Up for the Fourth Game.

With the exception of half of the fifth inning the ball game Sunday afternoon between two local nines was the best ball dished out here this season. The fifth was an awful affair, not because of errors, but through a batting bee which the "Scrubs" enjoyed at the expense of Chet Springer, who occupied a position in the box from which he sent balls in the direction of home plate. Four two base hits, two three baggers and a couple of singles gave the batters six runs in that inning.

The final score was 3 to 6, in favor of the "Scrubs." Some of the players on the other team had played against Prineville and so it was called the "Regulars." However, the two teams matched up about even by discounting the one merry-go-round. After the fifth Norval Springer replaced his brother in the box and pitched fine ball, shutting out any tallies.

The game proved again that there isn't any such thing as a has-been on the diamond. For six innings Frank Kulp, who has been out of the game for some seasons and isn't half as young as he was forty years ago, did great execution from the mound. And as for catching! Well, if anyone thinks Mont O'Donnell is out of the running he has another guess coming. For the veteran backstop did his work in the old sure way; perhaps a mite slower than five years ago, but as steady and sure as the rise in meat prices. Nick Weider and McReynolds, of the Old Guard, also showed lots of pep. Estes, who shared the pitching with Kulp, gave a good account of himself, making it evident that Bend now has three very fair pitchers—Norval Springer, Kulp, and Estes.

It's a cinch that a first class nipe can turn out for the games this week. The pitchers above named probably will alternate. According to fans, the rest of the line-up will be about like this, so far as the infield is concerned: Van Matre, catcher; Steidl, first base; Sprout, second base; Stover, shortstop; Johnson, third base. In the field there is excellent material in Paul, Hunter, McReynolds, Weider and the pitchers off duty.

WEATHER FOR JUNE

Month Shows Variety of Temperatures—Rainfall is One Inch.

The "rare" days were in evidence in the month just passed and a few others that were not altogether as pleasant. Taken as a whole, however, the month showed up well with the high standard of Central Oregon weather. There were 19 days of cloudless sky, six on which the sun shone a good portion of the day and only five cloudy days. The total rainfall was one inch, over half of which fell on the 23rd.

The highest temperature recorded at the local weather station was 93 degrees on the 16th and the 17th, the lowest, 22 on the 5th, when a frost nipped some of the more tender garden truck. The mean maximum temperature was 72.3 degrees, the mean minimum 59.1 and the mean 55.7 degrees.

ROADS NEED SIGNS.

After making a tour of the country roads in the vicinity of Bend with an auto, County Road Supervisor Jack Knotts of Klamath County says that one of the great needs to the visitor and autoist is a system of signs at the intersection of all roads. These signs are needed to direct those that are not familiar with the country and will be a means of adding much to the pleasure of an auto trip in any direction from here, Klamath County, under Judge Worden, has looked after this matter in such a way that it has no road without the proper sign with the correct distance upon it. Mr. Knott came in his machine to meet Judge Worden who has been in Portland on business.

DARING BASEBALL PLAY.

Three Steals Bases and a Run on a Scraton Infield Hit.

"The greatest baseball play I ever saw," says a writer in the American Magazine, "occurred in a game between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers in Shibe park, Philadelphia, June, 1912.

Ty Cobb, his first time up, hit a nasty grounder toward the first base. The ball had a deceptive bound and stuffy McInnes had some trouble reaching for it and keeping hold of the ball when he got it. But he managed to scramble over and touch first just as Ty raced over the bag. Connie Mack's loyal boosters declared the "Georgia Peach" out by a mile, but the umpire had ideas of his own and Tyrus rosted safely on the initial sack.

This unexpected usually happens when this star swatsman is running bases, and on this occasion he did not disappoint his admirers. After the pitcher had thrown the ball Ty, having a fairly good lead, decided to amble along down to second, figuring, no doubt, that Lapp (the Athletic catcher) would be taken off his guard and throw wild. To try for second after a catcher of Lapp's ability has the ball requires nerve of a high order. He is usually there with the perfect peg, but the sight of Cobb jogging along was too much for him and he heaved the ball into center field. Cobb saw Barry crouched in front of the base waiting as if to receive the ball, so, gathering speed, he made one of his best leg slides and landed behind the bag. Then seeing that the ball had gone to center field, he started for third base at top speed. Some one, I think it was Collins, made a beautiful throw to "Home Run" Baker, who grabbed Cobb with the ball as that well known gentleman was in the act of sliding head first for the third haven of rest.

The crowd groaned when the umpire motioned Cobb safe at third. While admiring his nifty exhibition the fans really wanted the dangerous fellow disposed of, and he had reached third by the closest kind of a margin.

Ty slipped the dust from his toes and, as usual, ran several feet up the path toward home each time the pitcher started to wind up. The batter had now gathered two strikes, and with the next wind up Cobb raced for the plate at full speed, sliding with great force against Lapp, who was waiting for him with the ball. But the throw had been a little too high, and the catcher was taken off his feet before he could touch the daring base runner. Cobb therefore stole three bases after having reached first by a lucky scratch hit and made the first run of the game before the next batter up had hit the ball."
