TERREBONNE HAS GRIEVANCE
A Redmond paper recently told with considerable pride of a shipment of cattle that had been made from Redmond to Tacoma, the record time of the trip being a feature as well as the fact that the shipment had been made from there. It now appears that the shipment was actually from Terrebonne and the people of that town are justly indignant at having the credit taken from them in this manner.

PLUCKY GIRL FIGHTS FIRE.

Miss Elizabeth Davis, chief operator in the Bend telephone exchange, had a busy time on Saturday morning when an oil stove which she was moving about in the telephone office turned over, spreading burning oil over the floor of the room. With the aid of a rug Miss Davis was able to smother the flames but not before her dress had been burned. When the stove tipped over she called for help and was heard by the janitor working in the basement. He thought she was joking and did not come to her help.

SCHOOLS HAVE 50 NEW PUPILS

the top, which lacks much in grace. Interior Scientific Model.

However, the interior of the building is a model of scientific school planning, and redounds to the credit of Sweet, Levesque & Co., of Spokane, the architects. On the first floor is the large furnace room, which, to eliminate fire risk, is entirely shut off from the rest by stone walls and a metal lathed ceiling. The heat used is hot air, distributed with an electric faning system, which also cares for the scientific ventilation of the various rooms, all of which are provided with ventilation flues at the top as well as heat intake flues near the floor.

On the first floor is also a class room, the tenth in the building, which at present is utilized only as a store room. There are model toilets for girls and boys, also.

At the top of the broad stair, on the second floor, one faces the principal's office, on the south side. On this floor there are four commodious rooms, now accommodating three grades, the first, second and third. A notable fact about the opening this year is that 42 children are in attendance who never went to school before—youngsters just at the entering age.

Correct Lighting Methods.
In all the rooms the pupils either sit with their backs to the windows or with the light coming over their left shoulders, thus insuring the best effect upon their eyes. The walls are of white, but in no wise bright, plaster, giving a cheerful clean appearance most grateful to the eye, and the woodwork is finished in a light golden color.

A feature that will appeal to all parents is the fire escapes, which connect directly with every room on the south side. Electric songs are being installed on all floors, and drills will be undertaken soon. Electrically controlled clocks are also being installed in all rooms, controlled by a master clock in the principal's office. Drinking fountains are also to be placed in the halls, and one in the yard.

A large double room is on the east end of the top floor, with dimensions 23 by 56 feet, with a stage or platform at one end. This room will be most useful for various exercises, and on occasion can accommodate comfortably considerably over 200. Two grades occupy it, and a small adjoining recitation room is provided for the class which is reciting.

Excellent arrangements are provided for space for hanging clothing, each room having its own closet for this purpose. The rooms for the smaller children also have individual toilets, so that the little tots will not have to use the general toilets.

A cement sidewalk in front of the school house is nearly completed, and when the Shireman buildings are removed from the adjoining lot recently purchased by the district, an attractive lawn will be made surrounding the school, making it a real landmark.

Windows Only Criticism.
Probably the only serious criticism that can be directed against the building as it now is is the condition of the windows. For some reason the style selected is one hung on hinges and with only one fastener at the middle. The result is that nearly all the windows have warped at the top and bottom so that a pencil can be inserted in the crack. Further, as the system now stands, teachers cannot control the heat and temperatures of their own rooms, which necessarily will require individual attention according to their exposures. With these defects cured the entire structure will be a model of excellence and good workmanship.

A Lame Back—Kidney Trouble Causes It.
And it will give you even worse if not checked. Mrs. H. T. Straygo, Gainesville, Ga., was fairly down in her back with kidney trouble and inflamed bladder. She says: "I took Foley Kidney Pills and now my back is stronger than in years, and both kidney and bladder troubles are entirely gone." Patterson Drug Co.—Adv.
