CATTLE MEN DO BUSINESS HERE

SILVER LAKE VISITORS PLEASSED

Shipment of Cattle From Bend Means $43,000 Comes to Country and Good Trade for Merchants and Railroads—Visitors are Pleased

Last week a dozen cattle men from Silver Lake came to Bend. They brought 575 head of cattle. Most of them stayed two days, a few longer. They left the cattle and took back with them about $43,000. Incidentally, they had—so they said—the time of their lives.

That is the visitors' side of it. From the Bend standpoint a dozen prosperous good fellows from the south gave us a chance to entertain them and show them that it's wise business and good fun to ship and trade here. They left a lot of good will, they gave the town much trade, and they deposited a goodly portion of those $43,000 locally, not to mention what they will spend later.

The men were J. H. and W. G. Lane, William Kirtledge, W. C. Houck and his son, Charles Pitcher and son, L. C. Hamilton, Gus Schroeder, P. L. Gruber, Ralph and Guy Jamison and F. E. Hoagland. They drove 575 cattle from Silver Lake, these being bought by Carsten's Packing Company of Tacoma through their buyer, Henry Larkin. The cattle men received a top price, they got fine treatment from the railroads, the drive was successful and they were royally entertained here. Altogether, said they, the trip was the biggest kind of a success from all standpoints.

First Shipment North. This is the first important movement of cattle from the Silver Lake country to a northern shipping point. In the past all buying has been from California, and shipments have been made from Klamath Falls and Lakeview. The change means much to Bend; it means a lot of money spent here during the shipping, it means continued trade here by the cattlemen who buy supplies in large quantities, it means large bank deposits here and good business for the railroads.

For three years efforts have been made to get this business headed north instead of south. In these efforts C. S. Hudson of the First National Bank has taken a leading part. To celebrate their successful conclusion, the cattlemen were given a dinner here, at the Hotel Wright, Friday night, and at noon were lunched at the Emblem Club by Mr. Hudson. The price paid for the cattle was 4 1/2 cents for steers and 6 1/4 cents for cows. This is the best price recorded this season, and better than the prices of last year. Moreover, the selling weights were at Silver Lake, the purchasers standing shipboard during the drive to the railroad. As the average steer weighs about 1150 pounds this means a total shipment of about 661,250 pounds of beef from Bend, valued at about $43,000. Nineteen cars handled the shipment.

BEND WINS FOOTBALL GAME WITH 3 TO 0 SCORE

Arthur Vandevent Kicks Goal From The Field in Third Quarter—Pratt Shines For Redmond at Left End

Through a successful place kick by Arthur Vandevent in the third quarter Bend scored three points in the high school football game here on Saturday. This was the final score—Bend 3, Redmond 0.

For the first quarter Redmond's heavier team had slightly the better of the going, chiefly thanks to good forward passing. However, no tallies were made in this period. Then the Bend boys tightened up. Once they held their opponents on the three yard line.

After plunging down the field in the third quarter Bend tried a kick, but the ball went wild. A few minutes later a second try from about the twenty yard line resulted in the winning score.

Throughout the game Redmond's left end shone. He was in practically every play, and broke up the majority of the plays of the home team. Claude Kelly, and Arthur Vandevent also played stellar games, and with a little more interference from the line, the former would have probably been able to score on an end run.

In the last quarter Bend almost scored again, but with the ball on the ten yard line, Corley ran back too far and lost about nine yards. This seemed to put life in the Redmond team and Bend had a hard time holding the visitors during the last five minutes. Next Saturday the Bend team will again clash with Redmond, at Redmond. The line-up was as follows:

Redmond Bend
Shivley R. E. Young, H. Young
Mullarky R. T. Vandevent
Ordway R. G. Fox
Doyal C. Moore
Steinkopf L. G. Bozell
Pratt L. T. Fritzell-Hunnell

Perry Q. B. Kelly, C. Perry

SOCIETY TAKES UP WORK HERE

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN STARTED

Oregon Social Hygiene Society Has Exhibit Showing Dangers of Social Evil and Methods of Combating It—Two Meetings Next Week.

The Oregon Social Hygiene Society whose work throughout the state has accomplished great good, has turned its attention to Central Oregon, and Bend and other communities of this section are to have an opportunity to join in the work.

The mission of the Society is to replace misinformation and ignorance with correct, clean knowledge of the facts of life, sex diseases and the multitude of evils resulting therefrom, through a campaign of education. The work was made state wide through an appropriation of the last Legislature and the Society is officered by the leading physicians, business men and educators of Portland and all Oregon.

Field Secretary Earl J. Cummins arrived Friday to arrange for a campaign of education here. An exhibit is now in progress, a mens' meeting will be held next Wednesday and a gathering of mothers will be addressed, probably Wednesday afternoon.

The local committee that has taken hold in co-operation with the society is composed of J. P. Keyes, J. A. Eastes and R. M. Smith. The meeting will be held at the Commercial Club rooms, and every family man interested in the betterment of hygienic conditions in Bend will be asked to be there and co-operate in an effort to spread a better understanding of the necessity of sex education, and to get suggestions of ways and means.

Meeting Next Wednesday. W. T. Williamson, M. D., of Portland, a member of the executive board of the society, will be the chief speaker. He will discuss the "Four Sex Lies" and other causes of vice, and suggest remedies. Dr. B. Ferrell of Bend will speak upon the prevalence and serious effects of diseases and H. C. Hartman will express his views regarding present conditions among boys and girls. C. S. Hudson's subject is "What can we do for Bend?"

The exhibit now open in the Fuika building on Wall street is of the greatest interest and importance. Its entire purpose is educational—a graphic reminder of what is going on about us, why it is going on, what

MANY COUNTIES HAVE DIVIDED

PRESENT MOVEMENT IS NOTHING NEW

History of Oregon Shows County Division Has Gone on Steadily From Beginning—Convenience and Economy are Served.

That county division is not a new thing in Oregon is readily ascertained by a study of the history of the state. From its earliest days as a territory the division of large areas into smaller units for the purpose of more efficient, more economical and more convenient government has been going on, and the present movement in Crook county is wholly in line with the past history of the state.

In the "In Earlier Days" column of the Oregon Journal this fact as to the Oregon counties was recently brought in a very clear and interesting manner. Portions of the article are here reprinted for their general interest and their especial bearing on the present movement in this section.

"In Earlier Days."
"Benton county is one of our older counties, having been created on December 22, 1847. It was named for Senator Thomas H. Benton of Missouri, one of Oregon's earliest and best friends. It originally embraced all the country west of the Willamette river to the coast and from Polk county south to California. Marysville, now called Corvallis, was its original county seat.

"Columbia county was cut off from Washington county on January 22, 1854. St. Helens is the county seat, and when it was founded by H. M. Keighton in 1845, it was called Plymouth Rock. Its name was changed to St. Helens and it was a serious commercial rival of Portland in those days.

"On December 22, 1853, portions of Umpqua and Jackson counties were combined to form Coos county. It is named for the tribe of Indians who made their home on Coos Bay. Empire City, now but a memory, was its first county seat.

"Crook county was taken from southern Wasco county on October 9, 1882. It was named after General George Crook, who fought Indians all over that district in the early days. Barney Prine's blacksmith shop, saloon and stage station grew into the town of Prineville and became the county seat.

"Douglas county takes us back to the Lincoln-Douglas debates and the days when Stephen A. Douglas had

THE REDMOND SHOW.

REDMOND POTATO SHOW FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Fourth Annual Exhibit in Neighboring Town Comes This Week—Many to Attend From Bend.

The Fourth Annual Potato Show and Fair will be held at Redmond on Friday and Saturday of this week. At the Commercial Club luncheon on Saturday an invitation to attend the fair extended by the Redmond club was read and it was voted that the invitation be accepted. Manager De Armond of the Commercial Club has written the Redmond club as follows:

"We beg to acknowledge receipt of your invitation to this club and the citizens of Bend to attend your Fourth Annual Potato Show and Fair to be held in your city on October 16-17.

"Besides thanking you for the invitation we are glad to advise you that Bend will have a good delegation of visitors at your fair on one or both days, and will gladly cooperate with you in any way possible to make the fair a success."

The Redmond show this year is somewhat more limited in its scope, there being no exhibits received from certain territory east of the town. The reason for this action was the refusal of the county authorities at Prineville to assist the Potato Show with a portion of the county fair appropriation which so angered the Redmond people that they drew a line against exhibits from the east. There will be no falling off in the quality of the show on account of this action because most of the exhibits from the Sisters Fair will be brought to Redmond and its own neighborhood can furnish material for as good exhibits as can be found anywhere.

No days have been set aside by the management for particular towns as at Sisters. It is expected that most of those who attend from here will go down on Saturday.

40,000 SHEEP AND 575 CATTLE ARE SHIPPED

Movement of Livestock From Bend Has Been Heavy—Prices For Mutton and Beef are High This Year.

The last ten days have been the busiest in Bend's history so far as railroad shipments are concerned. For in addition to the 575 cattle from Silver Lake, handled here, nearly 40,000 sheep have been shipped.

The sheep have all come in from the summer ranges in the adjacent mountain Forest Reserves, and mostly are returning to their winter feeding places, chiefly in the Shaniko country, which they reach from Colman, a station in the Deschutes canyon. But this year a considerable number were shipped to market for mutton. These shipments include 34 cars to Chicago, six to Seattle, and 25 to Portland. There are 300 to a car.

The price received for the mutton was $6.10 at Portland, which is about the best Central Oregon growers have yet had. So this means a lot of money coming their way, and prosperity for sheepmen and for cattlemen, for the latter also got a top price.
