THE BEND BULLETIN (Published Every Wednesday)

GEORGE PALMER PUTNAM Publisher ROBERT W. SAWYER Managing Editor

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 16, 1914.

It would be most unfortunate if the appropriation for the agriculturist should not be continued by the county court for another year. county court for another year. He brings the agricultural college to the farmer's door. Hy his practical advice and angkestion he can often turn defeat for the farmer into victory,

The county once operated a demon-stration farm for a time and then lot go, losing a large part of the value of the experiment. Will it repeat its folly and cut off the agriculturist just when he has got in touch with his field, and become acquainted with the people? We hope not, and to insure that it does not do so we urge that all who are interested in the agriculturist's work write to the court protesting against any back-

The weekly news letter of the U. Department of Agriculture speaks the county agent as follows:

'The county agent is a part of a great agricultural movement. This movement has for the ultimate purpose the building up of a country life that shall be wholesome, attractive, try today that have one or more of these conditions, but the sections to do with a hunger strike. It is the comparatively few. The description of the headline in The Oregonian.

"Corhan not to be Fed," has nothing to do with a hunger strike. It is the comparatively few. The description of the headline in The Oregonian. are comparatively few. The desire of those who are thinking on rural problems is that rural communities everywhere shall be wholesome, attractive and cultured, and that each individual shall receive a fair reward for the labor done and the capital invested. The county agent has one dominant part in this program. While he may take other parts, his primary function is to help make agriculture efficient and profitable. In propor-tion as agriculture is made profitable will the community become attrac-tive, cultured and a place wholesome and desirable to live in.

A CONSISTENT COURT.

Renewed evidence of the regard of the county court for the town of Bend is to be found in the report of court's proceedings at its last fon. A sudden access of regard for the letter of the budget law is also shown. In view of the way the court has conducted its affairs hith-erto it seems clear that it now seeks the cloak of the law for its unfair treatment of the city.

Investigations made last summer disclosed the fact that the county owed both the city and School Dis-trict 12 for taxes collected and not turned over during the years 1905 to 1913. The county court had the figures checked up by its own expert and at the last session of the court he reported that they were correct, and that the money was due.

Did the court thereupon order payment? It did not. It referred the question of whether or not the county should pay interest to another official and made an order that the principal should be paid—in a year. This on the ground that no provision for the payment had been included in the 1915 budget

With the court in this temper we suppose it is uscless to ask the question but nevertheless we ask-"Why did the court in March order paid in city of Prineville the sum of splendld magazines. $1,694.48 due just as the present sums are to Bend and School District 12?" That amount was not included in the 1914 budget.

In refreshing contrast to this action is the recent payment by the City of Bend to the county for work done by the county crew on roads within the city limits.

Whatever the final outcome of the $450,000 episode—and we sincerely hope it will be a happy one—there is no doubt that the tangle blundered into by the Reclamation Service and the Interior Department's as harmful as it is unfortunate. It has seriousdiscredited the national adminisly discredited the national adminis-tration of irrigation affairs. Certain-ly if the present attends of the Sec-cretary is persisted in, Oregon will have good cause to feel that it has been treated worse than shabbily. Even had no promises been given, the state has so often been bilked out of her just dues in Federal funds that this last action, should it stand, is like adding insuit to injury. There is no need to give up hope yet. Indeed, the new situation makes it more than ever apparent that if we are to get much from Washington we must go after it, persistently, unitedly and strenuously. So let us prepare for a long siege, if seeds be, remembering the signal unfairness of the present action until opportunty offers to square accounts with those respons-

In its recent budget Harney County has provided for payment of a jack rabbit bounty. Now it begins to wonder how it will stand the inof rabbits from neighboring counties and wishes that they would provide bountles also, as this from the Harney County News indicates: "The act of the Malheur county court in providing a fund in its budget for a bounty on jack rabbits is quite commendable, as it would have been a hard task on Harney county to pay for its own as well as those bred and raised in adjoining counties and would happen across the line. Now, if Grant, Crook and Lake will get just as magnanimous, the pests will probably soon cease their rav-ages in this section."

with all the turmoil about extravof each $100 he pays in taxes, only about $8.00 goes to the state. The rest is consumed in county, school and city administration. No doubt in all of these there is room for econ omy, but in the final analysis the most productive field for economy logislation, and economy administration, is in county affairs. In every county in the state most of the tax tinue to insist that the state make a new appropriation of $450,000 before the Federal fund is available, in the showing him how to deal with an unexpected crop situation, or how to save something from the wreck of a damaged planting. He acts damaged planting. He acts, too, in his territory as a clearing house for ideas and, as is being done now, he helps the farmer in his buying and selling.

That was the original intention. That was the understanding from the beginning. All the evidence, all of what the lawyers call the "res selling." all of what the lawyers call the "res gestae," proves it. It will take con-siderable hardihood to argue other-

The county court has been in ses sion the past week waiting to receive the state tax levy in order that the levy for Lake county can be made." This quotation from the Lake County Examiner indicates a somewhat different method of doing things from that practied by our county court. The Lake county way is better since If does away with all guess work and insures a levy in accordance with the needs of the county.

WANTS LOVETT RETAINED.

In your last issue you state that the county court failed to appropriate their share of the county agricultur-ist's salary. Is there no way this can be brought up again? I am sure the farmers in this section of the county went this man's assistance next year and if the matter is brought before them they will make an effort to have this appropriation made.

If this $1500 was cut out for economy's sake I for one think it a very poor way to economize.

Yours very truly, GEO. A. JONES.
