RABIES CASE AT POWELL BUTTE

COYOTE ATTACKS DOG IN NIGHT

Hydrophobia Epidemic Spreads From Eastern Oregon—Young Man taken to Portland Hospital—Landfare Ranch Visited by Mad Animal.

The hydrophobia epidemic which started in eastern Oregon a few months ago has slowly worked its way westward until now it is apparently only a few miles from Bend. For the most part coyotes have carried the disease. They have been so affected by it as to cause them to attack farm animals and even settlers in the homestead country.

Several weeks ago a dog which had presumably been bitten by a coyote near Prineville had to be killed because of his condition and in the last two weeks two new cases of rabies have been found at Powell Butte. As reported in the Bulletin last week, Henry Dobranti was bitten by a dog suffering from rabies and had to be taken to Portland for treatment and on Monday of this week a mad coyote appeared at the Landfare ranch. According to the report from a Bulletin correspondent in the neighborhood this latest case was particularly bad. The correspondent writes: "About 3 o'clock Monday morning Mr. Landfare's family was awakened by a commotion in the yard and on the porch, which proved to be a desperate attack upon their dog by a rabid coyote. On account of the darkness, it was with the greatest difficulty that Harold and Beryl Landfare succeeded in killing the crazed animal. The boys had a rifle and a shot gun and the coyotes desperate fighting ceased only when its back and two legs were broken.

"The coyote badly wounded the dog, bit some of their faces, and everything in its way, trees, fences, etc., until killed. Mr. Landfare will not send away the head for examination as he and the neighbors are perfectly satisfied as to the cause of the animal's bold attack."

CHRISTMAS IN BEND

Usual Observance of the Day Last Friday—Poor are Remembered.

Bend had a white Christmas in that there was some snow on the ground last Friday but the setting of a year ago, when there was a snow storm the night before, was lacking. The day was observed by special services at the Baptist church; the other churches having had services the night before. All mail was distributed at the post office without delay Friday morning.

Following its usual custom the First National Bank saw to it that none in town should want for a Christmas dinner, well filled baskets being distributed to all in need.

Christmas night a dance was given at the Emblem Club, attended by about 75. A large Christmas tree was placed in the center of the banquet hall, adding to the general decorations. Music was furnished by Mrs. MacLaurin and Joe McKay.

THE AGRICULTURIST.
The question whether or not Crook county will continue the support of the county agriculturalist will be determined by the county court at its meeting next Wednesday, January 6. All farmers and others interested are urged to attend in support of the cause.

JOURNAL IS SOLD

Guy Lafollette Becomes Owner of Prineville Paper.

Announcement was made in the Crook County Journal of December 24 of the purchase of the paper by Guy Lafollette of Prineville. J. H. Gray, the present owner, turns the property over to Mr. Lafollette on January 1.

Guy Lafollette is well known all over Crook county, having visited nearly every section in the performance of his duties as fruit inspector which office he has held for several years. He has been connected with the Journal in the past, having had a half interest for three years. From 1906 to 1910 he was postmaster of Prineville, resigning in the latter year to take up the Journal work.

Mr. Lafollette was one of the most active supporters of the county division movement in "old Crook county" in the recent campaign.

NEW ORDER MADE

Desert Land Board Acts Again Concerning Settlers' Notes.

(Oregon Journal.)
SALEM, Dec. 25.—The State desert Land Board adopted an order yesterday that $29,000 in notes for the Central Oregon Irrigation Company be returned to the company and that the company refrain from the sale of land in excess of 28,525 acres. An order of a week ago was rescinded.

It was the opinion of a majority of the members of the board that the company had made good the conditions under which the notes were deposited with the State, although State Engineer Lewis insisted on keeping the notes.

Governor West evinced the proceedings by charging Lewis with spiteful motives in opposing the return of the notes to the company. Lewis insisted that the notes should be retained until the time $7,000 acres in the segregation be reclaimed.

THAT MCKAY FISH.

Clyde M. McKay took second prize in a special class in the 1914 prize fishing contest conducted by Field and Stream with the trout caught in the Deschutes last summer. In the January number of the magazine the winner's for 1914 are announced. Mr. McKay's name appearing in the class, rainbow trout, special honor prize for fish caught on fly with fly tackle. His fish weighed seven pounds. First place went for a fish caught in Pine River, Michigan, and weighing eight pounds.

BISHOP PADDOCK COMING.

Robert L. Paddock, Episcopal Bishop of Eastern Oregon, will be here Sunday evening. Bishop Paddock will arrive on the evening train and will conduct services in the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. He will leave on Monday.

CULVER IS SELECTED.

According to reports from the first meeting of the Jefferson county court Culver has been selected as the temporary county seat of the new county. The appointment of the different county officers has been postponed to a later meeting of the court.

DESCHUTES SURVEYS COMPLETED

State and Federal Authorities Agree on Plans and Estimates of Cost for Irrigation Projects in Crook and Jefferson Counties---Cover 200,000 acres

A summary of the conclusions reached by the State and Federal authorities with reference to irrigation possibilities in the upper Deschutes river basin has just been given out by State Engineer John H. Lewis.

The work which has resulted in this report has been carried on under what has been variously known as the Deschutes survey, the co-operative survey and the Oregon Co-operative work, financed by contributions of $50,000 each from the State of Oregon and the United States.

The projects covered by the report lie to the east and north of Bend, those closest to the town being the South Unit and the East Side Unit, hitherto known as the Benham Falls Project, and the North Canal Unit, respectively. The others are the West Side Unit, adjoining the Tumalo Project, which has been under discussion in connection with the expected allotment of $450,000 from the Reclamation fund, and the North Unit, covering the Agency Plains country. Most of the country east of Bend enclosed by the lines of the new survey is already under irrigation, the Arnold ditch and the Central Oregon canal supplying water for it.

The report is signed by John T. Whistler, E. G. Hopson and John H. Lewis. Mr. W. L. Powers of the Oregon Agricultural College prepared the chapter on agricultural conditions and possibilities under irrigation. This report including numerous maps and drawings is now in process of publication. It will not be available for distribution for several months.

According to the summary this area can be reclaimed in four separate units, all of which depend upon water to be stored in two proposed reservoir sites, one on the Deschutes river at Benham Falls, 15 miles south of the town of Bend, the other at Crane Prairie on the west fork of such stream.

DELEGATES TO IRRIGATION CONGRESS LEAVE TUESDAY

Over 100 Representatives From Central Oregon Will Attend Portland Gathering Next Week.

The third meeting of the Oregon Irrigation Congress will be held in Portland on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Delegates from Central Oregon to the number of 100 are expected to be in attendance, the various commercial bodies and irrigation companies in both Crook and Jefferson counties having selected representatives at recent meetings.

As was the case last year the largest single delegation is expected to go from Bend. Delegates will also go from Deschutes, Laidlaw, Sisters, Redmond, Prineville, Culver, Madras, and elsewhere in the Deschutes valley to urge the claims of this section for recognition in irrigation matters.

Arrangements have been completed by J. T. Hardy of the Oregon Trunk to have two extra sleepers on the night train to Portland for the accommodation of delegates to the congress and it is expected that all who can get away on that day will go down Tuesday night in order to have a full day before the congress to confer and agree on a program. For the round trip one and a third fares will be charged, the certificate plan being used.

"NEWS" OUT AGAIN.

The Prineville News has gotten out of its financial difficulties and is making its appearance again. Under the caption "Misinformed" it says in a recent issue: "Several papers, evidently prompted by a 'bum steer' last week published a statement to the effect that Mrs. Mina Kennedy had taken over the News and would look after its future destiny. The party mentioned was not in lawful possession of the News and we desire our friends to know that Mrs. Kennedy has no interest or lien upon this plant in any manner. Her financial claims have been fully satisfied and her receipt is in our possession."

DESCHUTES GENERAL STORE DESTROYED LAST WEDNESDAY

Fire Starting From Defective Fuse Takes Building, Owner is Away. Loss Amounts to About $7,000.

Fire starting from a defective fuse destroyed the general store building in Deschutes last Wednesday afternoon. Only a portion of the contents of the store was saved including the mail in the office.

The property was owned by Fred H. Ayer who purchased it early this year and was situated on the main road opposite the railroad station and diagonally across from the C. O. I. Co. office building. Besides a general stock of goods, the building contained the Deschutes post office and the C. O. I. telephone exchange. In the rear and connected with it were quarters occupied by the stockkeeper which were also destroyed.

The fire started about 4 o'clock during Mr. Ayer's absence in Redmond. All the mail was taken from the post office but little else was saved. It is understood that the loss amounts to about $7000 partly covered by insurance. So far as known, no decision has been reached as to rebuilding. The Deschutes telephone business is being done through the C. O. I. office.

GIFTS APPRECIATED.

A sale of fancy work was recently held at the Grange Hall for the benefit of the second Union church. Donations to the sale and for the benefit of the church were made by a number of business men of Bend to whom the church has extended its thanks. It is the purpose of the church to erect a new building as soon as sufficient funds are secured.

NEW YEAR'S EVE DANCE.

J. C. Jensen and Ray Beaver are giving a dance in Sather's Hall on the 31st, to which everyone is invited. Dancing will start at nine o'clock, and music will be rendered by the orchestra of the Dream Theatre. At 11:15 supper will be served at the American Bakery.

SWALLEY DITCH DELEGATES.
Delegates to the Irrigation Congress have been elected by the Deschutes Reclamation & Irrigation Co. (the Swalley Ditch) as follows: C. S. Benson, L. A. Brandenburg, Chas. Swalley, H. N. Abbott and George S. Young.

MADRAS DELEGATES.
The Madras Commercial Club has elected the following delegates to the Irrigation Congress: H. F. Dietzel, F. W. Ashley, Wade Siler, L. H. Irving and Howard W. Turner.

DESCHUTES DELEGATES.
DESCHUTES, Dec. 29.—Delegates from the Deschutes Commercial Club to the Irrigation Congress were elected yesterday as follows: C. M. Redfield, K. P. Madsen, A. Behrens, F. B. Ayres, W. A. Nannay.

WATER USERS' DELEGATES.
Delegates to the Irrigation Congress have been elected by the Water Users' Association of the Central Oregon Irrigation Company as follows: Dr. P. H. Dancer, P. J. Young, Charles W. Hoech, Earle Benton and A. O. Walker.

NEXT COUNCIL MEETING

New Members May Be Sworn in During Day Tuesday.

Because of the departure on Tuesday evening of the delegates to the Irrigation Congress it is planned to hold the first council meeting at which new councilmen will be sworn in some time during the day on January 6th. Under the city charter the new councilmen take office on the Tuesday after the first Monday in January. The suggestion has been made that a short meeting should be held on that day for the swearing in of the new members and the appointment of a recorder as provided by the charter and that all other business be taken up at a later date. It is understood that this may be done.

As delegates to represent the city at the Congress Mayor Miller has appointed Vernon A. Forbes, Chas. W. Erskine, J. A. Eastes, H. C. Ellis and Anton Aune.

DIRECT TELEPHONE LINE

Long Distance Service to Outside Points in Effect in Few Days.

Direct telephone service to Portland, Seattle, Spokane—in fact all outside points reached by long distance wires—has been established, and will be open to public use by the end of the week. Connections were completed by line men who were here on Saturday.

Hitherto all long distance conversations have gone through the Prineville office of the Pioneer Telegraph & Telephone Company. With the new arrangement service will be direct, the line following the railroad lines from Bend. The long distance wire has been tested out this week and found to work perfectly. As soon as the head office in Portland has given out the rates to apply on the new service and informed its various agents of them it will be opened for public use.

DISTRIBUTION FROM BEND.

In reporting the amount of freight since April 6, 1914, the statement is made in the Chewaman Press that about 60,000 pounds have come from Bend. Exports from Paisley have been made through Lakoview, Klamath Falls, Merrill and Bend and amount to about 3,000,000 pounds of beef or 3600 head, 40,000 head of sheep or 4,000,000 pounds and 1800 head of hogs or 36,000 pounds.

AUTO OVERTURN INJURES FOUR

PRINEVILLE LADIES IN ACCIDENT

Were Returning From Christmas Party When Car Tipped Over on Grade Near Town—Miss Wagner Seriously Injured—Others in Party

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PRINEVILLE, Dec. 26.—Four well known Prineville women were injured, one of them severely, when an auto in which they were coming down Cemetery hill about a mile north of town, overturned late Thursday afternoon.

Those in the party were, Mrs. M. R. Biggs, Miss Statira Biggs, Miss Claudia Wonderly, Miss Edith Wonderly and Miss Goldie Wagner. They were returning from some Christmas festivities in a car belonging to J. E. Wagner, the brother of the last named and were rounding a corner on the hill at considerable speed, when the accident took place. Miss Wagner, who was driving, received the most serious injuries, having her right arm broken in the shoulder joint and the bone badly crushed.

Of the others in the car, Miss Claudia Wonderly and Miss Biggs were severely injured about the face and head but no bones were broken. Mrs. Biggs, who is just recovering from an operation for appendicitis, had her arm dislocated and was badly shaken up, but otherwise uninjured. Miss Edith Wonderly was unharmed.

Miss Biggs is the secretary of the county court and Miss Wonderly was the Republican candidate for county clerk at the last election. She was to have been married to Mr. Wagner, the owner of the car, on Christmas day. All the injured ones are reported to be improving.

JEFFERSON IS APPEALED

Matter is Taken to Supreme Court From Bradshaw Decision.

The attorneys for the petitioner in the writ of review case in connection with the formation of Jefferson county have perfected their appeal from Judge Bradshaw's decision and are having the necessary papers printed to bring the case before the Supreme Court. In the ordinary course of events the argument would not be heard by the Supreme Court for some six months, but it is expected that the court will advance this case for speedy hearing.

SALEM, Dec. 29.—An appeal from the decision of Judge W. L. Bradshaw in upholding the county court of Crook county in the case brought by A. D. Russell, in which the latter attacks the validity of the proceedings in calling an election for the purpose of creating a new county of Jefferson has been filed in the supreme court.

Little Talks on Banking

Drafts

A convenient way merchants and others have of collecting their accounts is by means of drafts. These may be made out in either of two ways; payable "at sight" or at a stated time in the future.

A sight draft is simply a written demand on a person or persons to pay at sight the certain sum mentioned. They are usually sent to banks for collection and are usually made payable to the bank.

In the case of the time draft it is customary for the collecting agent, usually a bank, to have the drawee write his name, the date, and the word "accepted" across the face of the draft and thus "accept it." This acceptance constitutes a formal promise to pay. The drawee of a draft is not a party to it unless he has accepted it.

In some states "days of grace" are allowed on both sight and time drafts but this custom has gone out of vogue in the majority of states.
