LEASE THE LAKES.

It is earnestly to be hoped that no log-rolling at the Legislature will side track the lease for Summer and Abert lakes. The papers and the people of Central Oregon should use every influence to see that the lease is consummated.

The State received a fair offer. After careful investigation the Land Board accepted the offer. By the provisions of the lease entered into by the Board and eastern capitalists, which is now before the Legislature for ratification, the State is assured a generous revenue from the lakes. Even if no manufacture of the saline products is undertaken a heavy annual rental is guaranteed; and a goodly royalty on all that actually is produced contracted. A bond, backed by a certified check for $10,000 has been arranged. In other words, the State stands to make much from property long non-productive; at the least it gets a sure revenue, and at the best its income is proportionate to the amount of products taken from the lakes.

All this means much to Central Oregon. At the worst, again, it means that this territory becomes a revenue producer, thereby gaining commercial prestige and political power. At the best hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent here; many men will be employed; an impetus to agricultural development and an increase in the local lumber market will follow. Above all it means a wonderful encouragement to the railroads. In new tonnage, and a sure goal to spur them on to new construction; for we have no hesitancy in predicting that the extensive development of the lakes will bring with it railroad construction south from Bend.

A bird in the hand is worth a whole flock in the sage brush, and no sour-grapes hostility of Portland promoters, who failed to secure the lease in competition with the successful concern, should be allowed to influence the legislature and hold up the transaction. The men who propose actually to do something and to do it on a large scale, and have the means to put their plans in operation, deserve every encouragement.

A refreshing exception to the ordinary communication has been brought to The Bulletin office this week. It is not anonymous but is signed plainly with the writer's name. The information it contains, however, is the most sordid kind, being a report of wife-beating by a homesteader in the Whitaker valley. As our correspondent says, "If such practice is allowed to be kept up we had better have a whipping post for such cowards." No names are given but we trust that those who are acquainted with the situation are taking steps to end it.

Governor Withycombe's suggestion as outlined in his inaugural message, that the state assist in combating the growing rabbit pest, should meet with the approval of the residents of Central and Eastern Oregon.

URGES 1-MILL ROAD TAX

W. F. Walther Here on Behalf of Millage for Hard Surfacing.

W. E. Walther of The Dalles was here on Friday in the interests of the plan to obtain a one mill tax from the legislature for the purpose of hard surfacing roads put in condition for the treatment by the different counties.

According to Mr. Walther the Columbia river highway from Portland to The Dalles will be completed this spring. A recent offer made by S. Benson, the Portland hotel owner and road enthusiast, makes this possible and it is now desirable that steps be taken to insure good roads connecting with this running through Central Oregon, which the one mill tax would do. Mr. Walther expected to visit Prineville, Redmond and other points in Central and Eastern Oregon and to have petitions circulated asking the legislature for the tax.

MILLICAN ROADS

Homesteaders Offer Strip Along Section Lines for Highway.

Claiming that a road sought to be laid out by George Millican of the Millican valley runs over lands that have been fenced for three years homesteaders in the valley have been fighting the action in the county court. At the last term George Roberts, A. D. Norton, William Spencer, Lee Rooney and I. L. Owen made a special trip to Prineville to present their side of the case and later the court visited the valley to view the situation.

According to the homesteaders the road was planned to run from the Millican ranch to the Paulina mountains for the purpose of taking stock through and went right across country. They say that a road following section lines has been offered and expect it to be laid out.

HARTRANFT TO LECTURE
Rev. H. C. Hartranft announces that on the evening of February 14 he will lecture in the Presbyterian church on "Lincoln's Use of the Bible," and on the 21st he will give an illustrated lecture on "Making an American." The illustrations for the latter lecture will be from photographs taken by the late Jacob Riis and the lecture itself will follow Mr. Riis' book by the same name.

CHILDREN TO RAISE HOGS

Arrangements to Sell Brood Sows to School Children.

PORTLAND, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—A conference of far-reaching importance to the livestock industry of the Pacific Northwest was held at the Portland Union Stockyards a few days ago. As a result of this conference, arrangements have been made whereby it will be possible to send out 1,000 or more brood sows to the boys and girls of Oregon, these animals being treated for, and guaranteed against cholera. The sows are not to be given away, but are to be sold at prices ranging from $18 to $25 each, and in payment the stockyards people will accept a note running from 8 to 10 months at 6 per cent interest, the note to be indorsed by the father or guardian of the boy or girl and approved by the county school superintendent.

The family of infant porkers will appear in four or five weeks after shipment of the sow, and the boy or girl will have plenty of time before their note matures to bring the pigs to a marketable age and dispose of them to the best advantage, paying off the note with the proceeds of the sale. In the work done by the hog clubs of the Northwest last year, an eleven year old girl at Washougal, Wash., made a clear profit of $75 on one brood sow. In this instance she littered, 24 pigs in all, were produced. Local educators have expressed the opinion that this is the most important step ever taken in this line of work; and as far as known, the first movement of the kind ever started in the United States.

FERRELL-SELLERS.

Dr. Barney Ferrell and Mrs. Jennie Sellers were married in Portland on Saturday. The Oregonian reported the wedding on Sunday as follows: "Dr. Barney Ferrell, of Bend, was married to Mrs. Jennie Sellers, also of Bend, at the First Presbyterian church by Dr. J. H. Boyd yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brandt of the Carlton, witnessed the ceremony. Dr. Ferrell and Mr. Brandt being old friends and comrades in the Spanish War."

Dr. and Mrs. Ferrell returned to Bend Sunday night and are living in the Sellers house on the corner of Ironwood avenue and Harriman street where a party of friends serenaded them Monday night.

HANELINE-BYRD.

O. E. Haneline of Bend and Melissa Byrd of Memphis, Tennessee, were married by Justice of the Peace Eastes on Friday at his office. Back of the simple announcement is a story of former acquaintance in Tennessee broken off by Mr. Haneline's departure for the west, its renewal when Miss Byrd came to Bend last week to look up her old friend, its rupture when she bought a ticket for Paducah, Kentucky, and left on the Thursday morning train and its more than restoration when she returned after going only as far as Sherman. Mr. and Mrs. Haneline are living in Lytle.

MAYFIELD-SCHULTZ.

It is reported that George M. Mayfield of La Pine and Miss Elsie Schultz were married in Susanville, California on Christmas day. Miss Schultz was employed in the First National Bank here at one time, leaving late in 1913 to enter school in Colorado.
