NEW LAW PROVIDES FOR THE RECORD OF CATTLE BRANDS

Measure Advocated by Stockmen Becomes Effective May 22—Provides For Inspection of All Shipments.

A law passed by the last legislature of special interest to the stock men of Central Oregon, is that requiring the registration of cattle brands. The Cattle and Horse Raisers Association of Oregon was active in obtaining its passage and County Commissioner Blanchard, as an officer of the association, is now distributing copies of the act.

The law takes effect May 22. It provides that any person, firm or association desiring to adopt any brand shall sign a certificate setting forth a facsimile and description of the brand, giving definitely its location on the animal, together with a statement of the desire to adopt the same, and shall file the same with the state veterinarian, who shall keep a record and issue a certificate to those entitled to a brand.

It is provided that all applications to have brands recorded shall be held by the state veterinarian for the period of 60 days after the act goes into effect before the same are recorded, and that in the event of two or more make application to have the same brand recorded, the one who has had his brand recorded the longest time in any county of the state shall be entitled to have the same recorded with the state veterinarian.

The evidence shall be furnished by the county clerk. In case a brand has already been recorded, the veterinarian shall return the fee and facsimile to the person making application.

Inspectors on Duty.
It is provided that the governor shall appoint a stock inspector in each county of the state, and such inspectors must be experienced stockmen recommended by the Cattle and Horse Raisers' Association of Oregon. The inspectors shall be appointed for the term of two years, which shall start June 1, 1915, and biennially thereafter. The inspectors shall have authority to appoint deputy inspectors in various parts of their respective counties.

The duties of the inspectors are to inspect all shipments of horses and cattle and satisfy themselves before permitting such shipments, that the animals are in the lawful possession of the person desiring to ship them.

The inspectors are to be paid 10 cents per head for the first 25 head or less number included in any lot inspected, and the sum of three cents per head for all over and above 25 head, and in addition, 10 cents per mile one way for the distance he must travel in order to make such inspection.

Certificate is Required.
Every owner or shipper of cattle or horses shall furnish the common carrier over which it is proposed to ship the animals, a certificate in duplicate, fully describing them and certifying that he is the owner and entitled to their possession. One copy will be filed by the common carrier and the other shall be attached to the bill of lading and delivered to any duly authorized brand inspector at the point of destination.

Common carriers are liable to a fine of from $250 to $2500 for violations of this law, as well as to the person damaged in treble the amount of damages.

It is provided that the governor shall, upon request of the Cattle and Horse Raisers' Association of Oregon, appoint a stock inspector or inspectors for any stockyard or yards in the state, the compensation to be agreed upon and paid by the association.

A fine of from $50 to $250 or imprisonment of from 30 days to one year in the county jail is provided for those not regularly engaged in the slaughter of cattle who fail to retain the hides with the ears attached, without any alteration of the same of disfigurement of the brand, for a period of 30 days.
