MUCH WORK IS DONE ON ROADS

IMPROVEMENT MADE ON ROUTE EAST

Aim is to Reach the Powell Butte Country—Volunteer Work to Make Suttles and Blue Lake Accessible New Road From Fort Rock.

The end of this week will see completed the greater part of the road east of town planned to be built this spring as a link in the new route to Powell Butte. In the fall, according to present plans, the road will be pushed through to its destination, the rush of farm work making it impossible to spend more time on it this spring.

Altogether, seven and a half miles of road were included in the work to be done by business men of Bend in co-operation with the farmers living on the road to be improved. The completed portion now includes the road from the southwest corner of the Pilot Butte ranch a distance of three and a half miles north and east and the greater part of the route back toward town from the ranch.

This last section, or at least that portion of it lying between the ranch and the Deneer corner, is the most difficult of the whole undertaking, there being considerable rock work to be done on the two miles included. Nevertheless, most of the work on the mile along the north side of section 24, west from the Pilot Butte ranch has been completed. The county will be asked to assist on the remainder.

From the end of the finished road it is about seven miles to the present Prineville road, which runs through Powell Butte, and the expectation is to make the connection later in the year. County Commissioner Overturf, who is overseeing the road work on this side of the county, reports that the people of that section have stated their willingness to join in the work in the fall.

Up to Monday night the value of the work done east of town was slightly over $650. Of this amount farmers had contributed $200 in labor and the balance represented subscriptions made by Bend business

PASS NOT YET OPEN.

In the correspondence from Sisters in this issue of The Bulletin occurs the report that the first wagon of the season has made the trip over the Santiam pass. Since the item was printed word has come from Sisters that the pass is not yet open. A wagon went into Cache creek station, on this side of the mountain a few weeks ago. On its return recently it was understood that it had made the whole trip over the pass, which is now discovered not to be the case.

WHAT MORE?
(Portland Telegram)
Crook county people will have cause to feel jubilant when they get the news that the Shevlin Lumber Company is preparing to open up and market lumber from its big timber holdings in the upper Deschutes country. It means 2500 or more additional population to that county, the extension of the Hill railroad, the growth of Bend as a business center and plenty of money in circulation. What more could any county want?

CHAUTAUQUA ARRANGEMENTS TURNED OVER TO COMMITTEE

Event to Be Held on Six Days Beginning July 2—Grounds Selected are Between Bond and Wall Streets.

Following a meeting of the Chautauqua guarantors held Friday afternoon to organize in preparation for the event, a committee was appointed, from among those who signed the guaranty, to take charge of the preliminary arrangements. The committee has already had two meetings and matters are well in hand.

Friday's meeting was attended by about 20 of the guarantors. From those present a committee was appointed to select the arrangements committee, the selection being made on Saturday as follows: J. A. Eastes, chairman, H. E. Allen, treasurer, R. W. Sawyer, secretary, J. C. Rhodes and C. M. McKay. Mr. Rhodes has been appointed manager of advertising and Mr. McKay will take care of general matters.

Final dates for the Chautauqua are now announced as being July 2 to July 7, inclusive. Adult's season tickets will be sold for $2.50 and there will be special high school tickets at $1.50 and school children's tickets at $1.00. Present plans contemplate the use of the lots between Wall and Ohio streets to the south of Ohio for the erection of the tent.

TIMBERMEN HERE

Brooks and Gipson Spend Saturday and Sunday in Town.

D. F. Brooks and H. E. Gipson of Minneapolis, prominent owners of timber lands in the country south of Bend, arrived in town Saturday morning. With them came F. W. Buswell of Portland, formerly of St. Paul, and now living in Portland. Messrs. Brooks and Gipson left Sunday night for Vancouver, B. C. Mr. Buswell is staying here for a few days.

It is understood that while their visit had no especial significance matters were discussed during their stay which may have a bearing on the expected Shevlin announcement.

SHERIFF HAS FULL HOUSE.

Sheriff Knox has reached the goal sought by every boarding house keeper—he has a full house. His present patrons and the charges on them are held are as follows: McCabe and Doogan, burglary in Bend; Chas. O'Kelley and Garrett Stark, burglary in Prineville; A. E. Queen, burglary in Roberts, Oregon; Bruce Maxley and Henry Gadow, horse stealing; J. A. Bunsdage, rape.

GUERIN HOUSE TO BE HOSPITAL

DETAILS NOW BEING ARRANGED

Dr. U. C. Coe Buys Overturf-Forbes Interest in Property and Will Join With Dr. Ferrell in Conducting Institution—Sisters Coming.

In anticipation of the approaching growth of the city Dr. U. C. Coe and Dr. B. Ferrell have recently completed arrangements to open a hospital in the Guerin house on the bluff above the river. Work will be begun at once in making repairs to the building and cleaning up the surrounding grounds.

The building, which is now to be rearranged for hospital purposes, was built several years ago, and has been used at various times as a rooming house and a hotel. It was last used by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cursey as a hotel under the name, "Mountain View." The Curseys, during their occupancy, covered over the courtyard around which the house was built using the space for a dining room.

The house was sold last summer to Dr. Ferrell, V. A. Forbes and H. J. Overturf. Dr. Coe now buys the Forbes-Overturf interest.

According to Dr. Coe the hospital is planned to accommodate 25 patients and will receive non-infectious medical and surgical cases. A passageway will be cut from the court yard dining room through to the north porch and the front living room arranged as a ward.

It is understood that arrangements are being made to have one of the nursing orders of the Catholic church establish a branch here and that when this is done the hospital will be turned over to the Sisters for operation.

MULES ARE SHIPPED

Kilgore Brothers Make Sale to Walla Walla Man.

The first of a number of shipments of mules and horses for use in the wheat fields of Washington will be made from Bend this week. John Woods, of Walla Walla, Washington, is the purchaser and sellers are various stockmen in the neighboring county, chief among them being Kilgore brothers, who have a ranch in Lake county, southeast of town.

Mr. Woods was in this section last winter and at that time made the bulk of his purchases. He came in again on Friday to make arrangements for shipment. The first carload will include a number of mules from the Kilgore ranch, a pair from the Pilot Butte ranch and two mares. Other cars will be made up later from the Kilgores.

IRRIGATION IS TO BE HASTENED

SO CHENOWETH SAYS OF PROJECT

President of Suttles Lake Irrigation District Here on Saturday—Will Hold Bond Election Soon—Geo. S. Young Retained as Engineer

That the Grandview people in Jefferson county are going ahead with their irrigation plans was the word brought to Bend by H. J. Chenoweth on Saturday. Mr. Chenoweth is the president of the irrigation district and was in town on business connected with the prospective development.

The general plan for the irrigation of the Grandview country was outlined in The Bulletin last fall. One of the first pieces of business to be attended to by the Jefferson county court, after the final decision of the Supreme Court in favor of the county, was to order an election on the question of the formation of an irrigation district as provided under the laws of the state. The election was held about two weeks ago, resulting in an overwhelming victory for irrigationists. They are now proceeding with their plans.

According to Mr. Chenoweth, the estimates made by George S. Young, of Bend, are now to be submitted to State Engineer Lewis and, following action by him, an election will be held to vote bonds for the project. Then, as soon as the bonds can be sold and the money made available, construction work will begin. Some 12,000 acres are to be reclaimed. Mr. Young has been retained as construction engineer.

In addition to his position with the irrigation district, Mr. Chenoweth is president of the Suttles Lake Improvement Co., and of the Metolius Irrigation & Power Co. He formerly lived in Walla Walla county, in eastern Oregon, being prominent in irrigation affairs there where he helped to put through the Alder Slope Irrigation Ditch. Mr. Chenoweth was opposed to county division last fall but, as he puts it, since his defeat as a county commissioner of Jefferson county, he has become a firm convert.

MASONS VISIT PRINEVILLE.

A party of Bend Masons went to Prineville Saturday afternoon to attend a meeting of the lodge there that night. Those who made the trip were George S. Young, J. C. Rhodes, C. M. McKay, H. E. Allen, E. M. Thompson, J. H. Corbett, F. O. Minor and R. V. Poindexter. Following the meeting supper was served, the Bend men starting on their return trip early Sunday morning.

MRS. ELLIS INJURED.

While hanging a cloak up in a closet last night Mrs. H. C. Ellis turned her ankle and fell against a shelf suffering painful injuries. Two ribs were broken and a third torn from its fastening, necessitating her confinement to the house for some time. Mr. Ellis was at his office at the time of the accident and had to be summoned by telephone.

HELP THE CAUSE OF EDUCATION

LOCAL MEN DONATE TO COUNTY

Carl Holscher and C. W. Walker Financed by Justice of The Peace Eastes—Friday and Saturday are Busy Days in the Local Court.

Proceeding on the assumption that the more education there is the less law breaking there will be, the Oregon statutes provide that all fines levied in the justice courts shall be paid into the county school funds. In this manner, it is observed, crime becomes self effacing, since the payments it makes for temporary existence go toward the support of the permanent discipline of the schools.

On this theory there ought to be in Crook county some $35 worth more education and less misbehavior during the coming year, this amount, unexpected in the December budget estimates, having been realized by the county as fines which were levied in Justice Eastes' court last week. The patrons of education were Carl Holscher and C. W. Walker, who conduct a bakery and a restaurant, respectively in the Myers building on Bond street.

The first contribution, $10 in amount, was made by Walker on Friday. In a way it has a double educational value. In addition to its service to the county, it taught the contributor that once Judge Eastes has said what the fine is you cannot argue him out of it. Or putting it another way, you can argue all you please with "Jim" Eastes, but you cannot with Judge Eastes unless you want to pay for the conversation. What the judge says, goes.

Holscher joined Walker as a county benefactor on Saturday, paying $10 for the privilege, already assumed, of joining in a brawl with him, while Walker, not to be outdone, chipped in $15 more, this time without argument.

The trouble which led to the two appearances in the local justice court has apparently been growing between the two men for some days. On Friday it came to a head and for a time their store resembled a battle ground in Flanders, canteen bottles, plates, pies, revolvers and other deadly weapons flying through the air. Following the fracas Holscher swore out a warrant against Walker who was fined $10 by Judge Eastes and the fine suspended. Then he learned that the suspension was not permanent, as related above, and paid up.

On Saturday the quarrel was renewed, this time both men being arrested by Acting Marshal Nixon and locked up for the afternoon. In the evening they were tried and fined, the event running a close second to the picture show so far as public interest was concerned.

LIBRARY GETS BOOKS.

The Bend Public Library has recently received the following books: The Real Truth About Germany, by D. Clayton, The Eternal Values, by Hugo Munsterberg, and in the Oregon Country, by G. P. Putnam.
