

MOORE DESIRES AN EXTENSION

WANTS SIXTY DAYS MORE

Attorney General Brown is Now Considering Question Whether State Land Board Can Give More Time $25,000 Bond is Due Today.

(Oregon Journal.)

SALEM, May 17.—Whether the State Land Board can grant an extension of 60 days in which to file a bond of $25,000 to replace one for $10,000 to Jason Moore, who has leased Summer and Abert lakes with a view of extracting the minerals from the waters, was a question that Attorney General Brown was considering today.

Moore made application for an extension of 60 days from May 19 on the ground that the power company which had promised to furnish him with electricity for use in his plant had refused to sign a contract because of the war scare, and it would now be necessary to negotiate with an independent company. Investigations to ascertain how much power would be needed and where the sites would be located and other matters would take some time, according to Moore.

Moore submitted a certified check for $10,000 when he made his bid for the lakes last December.

In case the attorney general holds that the board can grant an extension of time in which to file a bond, the board will take such action, it is stated.

If Brown rules adversely on the plan, Moore must put up $25,000 bond by Wednesday or his certified check for $10,000 will be forfeited and the lease of the lakes will be void.

GUNPOWDER.

Some in Which the Perforated Grains Are Three Inches Long.

The bigger the gun the bigger the grain of powder. For the rifles the men carry the grains are half as big as a pinhead. For the largest guns they are three inches long and three-quarters of an inch thick. Every grain is perforated lengthwise. Small grains have a single hole, while the largest sizes have seven.

These holes regulate in a wonderful way the rapidity with which the powder will burn. If you light a scrap of paper all round the edge it will burn toward the center and the burning surface will steadily decrease. If, however, you made a hole in the center of the paper and start the conflagration there the flame will steadily grow, and the most rapid burning will take place just before the fire has reached the outer edge. This is the exact principle which governs the arrangement of the perforations in big gunpowder. The burning starts along the surface exposed by the perforations and spreads always faster as the hole is enlarged, burning fastest at the instant it is consumed.

It is not intended that the charge in big guns shall exhaust its force instantly, says William Atherton Dupuy, writing on "Powder For the World's Guns." The beginning of the explosion starts the projectile on its way. The explosion continues, and as the projectile gains speed the force behind it continues to push. The powder is burning fastest and pushing hardest at the instant the projectile reaches the mouth of the gun. At that instant also it burns out and exhausts itself. Its work is done.—Pearson's Weekly.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

The Pleasure That Came With a Little Act of Kindness.

"I am one of your new neighbors. Mrs. Estabrooks," said a cheerful voice at our door in the very middle of our first attempt at moving. "No, I can't come in. I just brought you a bit of lunch, knowing you would be too busy to fix any. Please call on me—just next door—if I can be of any help. Goodbye!"

My husband and I glanced at that tray with its two bowls of hot soup and steaming little pot of coffee and then at each other in dumb surprise.

We had just reached that dreadful state in moving when nothing is in place and the things wanted first are underneath the things wanted last—that awful moment when a sense of helplessness, weakness and homesickness combined swoops down upon you. We had not realized that we were hungry and physically exhausted, but after sitting down at an improvised table and sampling that delicious soup and drinking the stimulating coffee we suddenly knew what had been the matter with us. Courage returned.

"Blessings on our neighbor!" cried Ben.

"Yes," I answered. "She's the jolliest caller I ever received. She has taught me how to introduce yourself to new neighbors and win their everlasting gratitude. Whatever happens in this neighborhood I'll stand by Mrs. Estabrooks—see if I don't!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Witepskie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra

An event of the greatest interest to music lovers of this community is the coming of this company of artists. They are among the best in the entire United States, and the booking arrangements made by the Ellison-White Chautauqua System permits them to be here for two days, an extraordinary musical engagement. This is a striking group of musicians, every one a soloist of exceptional ability. The great music of various nations will be presented by this organization, and it will thrill and interest and stir you if there is any music in your soul at all. So don't miss these great concerts.

CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM IS NOW DEFINITELY ARRANGED

Lecturers and Entertainers Will Appear Here for Six Days Beginning July 2—Col. Miller a Speaker.

The program for the coming chautauqua is definitely arranged. Lecturers and entertainers of unexcelled worth are to appear here for six consecutive days, beginning Friday, July 2. The talent is the best obtainable either in the United States or on the continent. Never before has such an opportunity been afforded Bend citizens. Nothing remains to prevent the entire city from taking advantage of these educational and inspirational offerings brought to its very door.

Bringing a message fraught with the wisdom of the seer and the wit of a Mark Twain, Colonel William Hamilton Miller, the renowned Illinois lecturer and realistic humorist, is to be one of the leading speakers. He is heralded as the man who delivers the message of community development with a smile. He pours forth his mighty truths in a terse, quaint manner, alternately keeping his audience under a spell of humor and thought. A rapid lecturer, he hits straight from the shoulder with speeches that bristle with epigrams and show only too plainly that the lecturer fills the part of community philosopher and optimist.

Marion Ballou Fiske, heroine in many human interest tragedies in that part of the tenderloin of Chicago the smoky city, made famous by Upton Sinclair, as the "Jungle" is coming. A student of human hearts, she plays upon the strings of emotion and sympathy and implants a message in the mind of her hearers as her fingers cartoon the greatest pictures of life and her ready wit, her versatile humor and crisp word painting keep her hearers engrossed. She unconsciously shapes their thoughts about the higher things in life.
