BEND AND THE FAIR.

"What do you know about that big mill going in at Bend?" This was a question asked recently of the attendant at the information booth in the Oregon building at the San Francisco fair, according to the press bulletin just received. The question was one of nearly 100 listed to show the variety of inquiries made at the booth.

If the Commercial Club cares to have anyone know about "that mill," which by the way, should be revised to read "those mills," it ought to get busy and make it possible for the attendant to point to a pile of circulars and say, "You can read all about Bend and the saw mills in those leaflets. Take one."

War purchases are taking the best of Central Oregon's horses, and at attractive prices. As already pointed out, there is excellent profit for those who will raise sheep upon a small scale, with limited acres, as well as for the bigger sheepman. And those who have handled hogs with good judgment have found them profitable. In these three industries then—raising of horses, sheep and hogs—Central Oregon certainly has most excellent opportunity to prosper, and every encouragement should be given the man who devotes himself to such four footed crops. Our best line of farm development lies in this direction, with dairying added.

The interest rate on our German notes is high—compounded in the losses of the Lusitania, Gulfight, Cushing, Hesperian, Arabic and the others. When will they fall due?

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

District Forester George H. Cecil of Portland was a visitor in Bend on Wednesday and was taken over parts of the Deschutes Forest by Supervisor M. L. Merritt.

F. T. Parker left last night for Portland and Astoria where he will spend his vacation. Mrs. Parker went to Portland with him and will return later this week.

George S. Young went to Suttle Lake Saturday, returning Monday. He brought back with him a Dolly Varden caught in Blue lake, weighing four and a half pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Stapleton, who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Eastes for the past two weeks, will leave tomorrow morning for their home in San Francisco.

Rev. E. C. Newham, pastor of the Prineville Methodist church and formerly of Bend, and Mrs. Newham, were visitors in Bend Sunday. Rev. Newham occupied the pulpit of the local Methodist church Sunday evening.

Mrs. H. C. Ellis left on Thursday evening on a visit in the east during which she will attend her parent's golden wedding anniversary in Hooker, Oklahoma, on October 6. She will also visit friends and relatives in Denver and Chicago before her return.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Eastes entertained at dinner last Friday evening complimentary to Mrs. S. J. Davis of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Stapleton of San Francisco. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gould and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. De Armond.

John Cunningham has rented the Tansy frame house in Kenwood and with Mrs. Cunningham has moved up from Tumalo in order to be nearer his work. He has nearly finished the Pringle house on Greenwood avenue and is just beginning on the Lara house in Pinelox.

George McElroy, one of Portland's talented violinists, is visiting with Chester Catlow this week, and has been playing at the Bend Theatre. Mr. McElroy's father is director of the well known McElroy's Park Band in Portland.

Tent houses have been put up on the bank of the river above the Boy Scout lodge for Norris L. Hardy, the son of George L. Hardy, manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Hardy is expected to arrive soon to visit her son who is here for his health.

Construction was begun this week at the Davis Lake ranger station in the forest reserve on the government's 19 mile telephone line to the Wickup ranger station. When this line is completed the local forest office will be in touch with every station on the reserve and can communicate with them over its own lines.

Those liking a wholesome drama, replete with human interest concerning the lives of two young New England youths, will have this desire satisfied in witnessing "The Wishing Ring" at the Bend Theatre tonight and Thursday night.—Adv.

Mrs. G. W. Shriner, who has been seriously ill for the last week, left Sunday for San Francisco, being accompanied as far as Portland by her husband. Mrs. Shriner was dangerously ill last Wednesday and it was expected for a time that she would not recover. She recovered sufficiently, however, to make the trip to California where she will remain until her health is restored.

George McElroy of Portland will give one violin solo tonight and Sunday night at the Bend Theatre. Tonight, "Serenade" by Franz Drdla and Sunday night "Liebesfreud," by Fritz Kreisler.—Adv.

PLANNING A MODEL BATH ROOM

Is not what many plumbers do, they usually do what work there is to be done, without any thought of the best arrangement. In this we are an exception. If desired we will plan the bath-room throughout, and submit same for your approval before beginning work. We do plumbing work of all kinds, and should be glad to have you call on us when you need any such work done.
