IT HAPPENED.
(Bend Times-Herald.)
The Bend Bulletin suggested to their local Commercial Club that they invite Mr. Strahorn to come to Bend and tell of his plans and what he desires in the way of co-operation in the building of the railroad through Central Oregon, thus securing first hand information and getting on common ground. The suggestion is a good one and while they are at it let the local railroad get busy and second the Bend invitation by inviting Mr. Strahorn to Burns and thus kill two birds with one stone.

A CORRECTION.
L. C. Roberts, president of the Central Oregon Farmers Creamery, calls attention to the fact that an error was made in last week's issue of The Bulletin in the report of the price paid at the local creamery for butter fat. According to Mr. Roberts the price has been from 23 to 24 cents and not from 33 to 34 cents as stated.

ROOM IN EVERETT.
Ray E. Koon, the engineer in charge of the construction of Bend's sanitary sewer, is now making surveys and plans for the new municipal waterworks system to be installed at Everett, Washington. A bond issue of $1,700,000 was recently voted by the city for the purpose. Mr. Koon writes to friends in Bend, "The work is interesting but I much prefer the Oregon-east-of-the-mountains climate to the almost continual rain we have here."
