SPRIT OF CO-OPERATION.

Central Oregon will have more railroads. That was definitely decided at the meeting in Bend, when Robert E. Straborn announced definitely that he will pursue the matter to a successful conclusion. However, all Central Oregon people are to be asked to lend a hearty support.

A noticeable feature of the meeting was the fact that all seemed to realize that internal improvement must come as the result of our own people, co-operating together, and thus securing the hearty support of other people who are vitally interested.

The minds of all the delegates were centered upon the necessity for irrigation. They realize that they have waited too long for some one else to solve their problems, and are centering their attention upon the question of forming irrigation districts. This state is about to duplicate the work of other western states.—Deschutes Valley Tribune.

That Crescent is situated in one of the scenic spots of Oregon is admitted by all who have visited this section. Just at present if the traveler would drop in on us, he would be more than pleased with the climate. Cool nights with bright, warm, sunshiny days reminds one of spring. As a rule those who are not familiar with this country imagine that we are having Klondike weather, and "bucking" snow, but such is not the case. With no snow, the temperature ranging around 60 and the grass still green, it is no wonder it appears like spring.—Crescent News.

Some fellow, either through malice or with malicious aforethought, this week removed a large rock from the road north of town. The same fellow evidently, had cut out several large roots and filled in many holes with dirt. The County Court should offer a reward for this fellow, because if he continues the work already started, some auto driver may fall asleep and let his car knock the bark from some unsuspecting jack pine, and thus mar the scenic beauty of our public highway. We have very good proof that G. W. Waitman is the guilty party—but then, we don't like to accuse him openly.—Crescent News.

The rabbit drive last Saturday like the previous drive, was a grand success. A total of 1884 were killed, not counting those slaughtered along the lines. The crowd was not as large as the previous Saturday, but there were 23 persons on horseback and between 30 and 40 on foot. Another drive will be held Saturday, November 20th, at the same place. The crowd is again requested to meet at the homestead of Sam Hill, three miles north and a half mile east of Fort Rock.—Fort Rock Times.

THE TOMES PROJECT.

The Tomes Brothers, bankers at La Pine, Oregon, and interested in several banks in Nebraska, have taken over the Pringle Falls power project near La Pine and will start immediate operations. The Tomes' are people of very strong financial backing, and they are not triflers with hot-air methods. In the published field of their power line operations they propose to cover also the Silver Lake and Fort Rock valleys. We will all hail with delight the coming of these power lines, but it reminds us that they will cover territory which should be operated from power sites on the Chewaucan in our county. We hope our own capitalists will not sleep over the development of the water powers on the Chewaucan.—Silver Lake Leader.

THE FEMINE GROWTH.

The organization of the Silver Lake Ladies Civic Improvement Club and the communication from Mrs. John Hayes which appears in this issue, show the women of north Lake county are far more alert than the men. A few years ago woman was a delightful courade, standing side by side with her masculine helper, but through her life of freedom from booze and other vices she has grown past her affinity in briskness of intellect, clearness of vision and exemption from bias. The average man is like the bear in his winter lair, if you prod him and try to arouse him from his snooze and the licking of his palm he will growl and grumble.—Silver Lake Leader.

DEVELOPING PRINGLE FALLS.

In an interview with representatives of the Oregon Journal, C. W. Riddell, of the Pringle Falls Power Co., stated that the company intended to reclaim 250,000 acres of land in the La Pine Basin.

It is planned by the company to immediately sink a number of wells and install electric motors, and work the system of reclamation out on a large and profitable scale. The first wells will probably be sunk in the vicinity of Pringle Falls.

The construction of twenty miles of electric line, to connect with the Shevlin-Hixon road now building south from Bend, will also be one of the immediate steps of the new company.

U. S. Biologist and County Agriculturist Will Co-Operate in Crook County.
(By County Agriculturist A. E. LOVETT.)

R. A. Ward, of the U. S. Biological Service, arrived in Crook county this week for the purpose of assisting the citizens in eradicating the jackrabbit as a farm pest. The county agriculturist has been working toward this end throughout the past year. The two, co-operating, will hold a series of meetings in the county at once and work will be done where communities will co-operate with them. Meetings at Hemstad valley and Paulina will be held this week. Watch the papers for poison recipes, etc.

The new syndicate has abundant financial resources which obviate the necessity of selling stock. It is strictly a closed corporation.—La Pine Inter-Mountain.
