The directors of the Madras Amateur Athletic Club met on Monday night to make arrangements for the repairing and fitting up of the Sanford block for their quarters. They have engaged Mr. Shutt to do the work, and hope within a short time to it ready for occupancy.

We would like to see every man in town and from the adjoining country become a member of this club. It will do them all good in more ways than one. And now is the time to join, before the next regular meeting, while the charter is still open, as it will cost less now than after the charter closes. Applications for membership may be handed or sent to the secretary, Ora Van Tassel, accompanied by the present membership fee of three dollars. Don't delay, but get in "on the ground floor."—Madras Pioneer.

At the meeting of the Commercial Club Saturday night, several more new members were taken in, and considerable business of importance was transacted, the most important of which was in the matter of the resolution which was sent to the Highway Engineer, in connection with the resurfacing of the road from La Pine to Bend. The resolutions committee was authorized to take the matter up with the Bend club, explaining in detail, the plan of this body in regard to the road—La Pine Inter-Mountain.

While clothes don't make the man, whiskers have a lot to do with the identity. Hiram Gibson, who is well known here, is now prepared to testify. He has worn a beard since the year of the big wind and when he shaved clean last week and went home his son invited him to leave the house. No one knew him. At the bank, where he had done business for 35 years he met a cold gaze and his checks were refused until the barber who removed the spinach from his map of Ireland made solemn affidavit to the fact. He is now wondering if it was really the thing to do, and figuring out how long it will take them to grow out again.—Crook County Journal.

The Crescent Commercial Club held its annual election of officers at the Hotel Crescent last evening. J. H. Elkins was re-elected president, J. L. Ringo, vice president, Fred LaFollette, secretary and treasurer, and E. G. Rourke chairman of the Executive Board.

After the Commercial Club had adjourned the Ladies Civic League gave a whist party to the members which lasted until 12 o'clock, at which time a dainty luncheon was served. Dancing was then the order until 2 o'clock. During the evening Messrs. Ralph and Guy LaFollette rendered several selections on the mandolin with guitar accompaniment, which were highly appreciated. Those who were unable to be present missed a rare treat.—Crescent News.

Thco. Hartnagle's well is completed and pumping apparatus installed. Monday the event was celebrated by a large number of neighbors assembling and enjoying a sumptuous feast. The well is 675 feet deep and yields an abundance of water—about 400 gallons per hour. The Record congratulates Mr. Hartnagle's success.—Jefferson County Record.

A number of the young people of the city are trying to organize a Junior Commercial Club, such as has already been organized by a number of cities in the state. It is proposed to fit up a reading room where the young people can hold their meetings and pass their evenings. One object of the club would be to boost the town and local high school among the younger generation in other places.—Redmond Spokesman.

Judge Boegli officiated at the first wedding ceremony which took place at the court house of Jefferson county last Friday. The happy couple was from the Warm Springs agency.

the contracting parties being Wm. Sooksoit and Effie C. Miller. Quite a number of those attending the county court and all the county officials were present, the officials having provided a present for the bride. Walter M. Eaton made a fitting speech of presentation and cleverly remarked that the assumption of the holy bonds of matrimony was fittingly consummated at the court house.—Deschutes Valley Tribune.

Last Sunday's rabbit drive was the most successful one that has been held so far this winter. The final count showed that 1654 rabbits were killed in the pen. The drive was held south of the Lakeview ranch. Another drive is planned for the coming Sunday and all who intend to go are asked to meet a quarter of a mile south of the Hopkins ranch at one o'clock. No guns or dogs will be allowed. This makes 8000 rabbits that have been killed so far this fall in the drives, and with more drives as successful as the last, a great amount of good will be done the west side.—Lake County Examiner.

Don't chase the rabbits with clubs or dogs, or shoot at them, but make friends with them. Pet them and make them think you are their best friend, but at the same time place the poison where Mr. Rabbit will get it.—Silver Lake Leader.

Because of the deep snow it was deemed necessary by the stage company to carry the northern mail on horseback a few days the first part of the week. The deepest snow reported is at Summer Lake station where it is about 30 inches deep.—Chewaucan Press.

Between Friday afternoon, January 7th and the following morning, one foot of snow fell in Fort Rock and the entire valley experienced a heavy fall though the depth varied in different parts. An additional two inches fell between Saturday morning and noon, and with four inches of old snow already on the ground, there were in all about eighteen inches. This is the deepest snow that the oldest residents of the valley can recall and weather records which have been kept since November, 1909 show that in that time the deepest snow was on the 17th of January, 1913, when there was twelve inches on the ground.—Fort Rock Times.
