

MORE SURVEYORS BUSY

Party Running Line Toward Bend From Salem.
SALEM, March 10.—Railroad surveyors who refused to say for whom they were working were said by Salem residents last evening to have been running lines from this city toward Mill City and Minto's Pass, which is in the direction of Bend.
One report has it that the Hill interests have something to do with the survey.
Charles H. Jones, a local resident, was told by one of the surveyors that a round house and machine shop, which would give employment to many men, were among the possibilities.

E. T. LUTHY IS CANDIDATE

Rancher Will Make Run for Office of County Commissioner.
Ernest T. Luthy, a rancher of the Bear Creek district, this week announced himself a candidate on the Democratic ticket for the office of county commissioner subject to the May primaries.
Mr. Luthy has been a resident of the county for the last six years, during most of which time he has been engaged in farming. Before coming to Bend he was a resident of Salem for a number of years. He was employed for some time there in the office of the county clerk of Marion county. Mr. Luthy has been strongly urged by many farmers of the county to make the race for commissioner.

GILMAN HERE YESTERDAY

President of Oregon Trunk Spends Day in Town.
L. C. Gilman, president of the Oregon Trunk and connected roads of the Hill system, spent yesterday in Bend. With him were W. C. Wilkes, assistant general freight and passenger agent and J. T. Hardy, travelling freight and passenger agent.
According to Mr. Gilman his visit had no especial significance. He came up here, he said, merely to look things over and see what was going on. When asked for his opinion of the Strahorn roads he said that he hoped to see Mr. Strahorn succeed. The proposed line from Salem Mr. Gilman said was a mystery to him.
Mr. Gilman spent a large portion of his time at the new mills and in the timber. He returned to Portland last night.

RANGERS TO MEET.

A joint meeting of the rangers and officials of the Deschutes and Ochoco national forests will be held in Bend on March 27 and 28 at the office of the supervisor of the Deschutes forest. Matters that will come before the officials for the coming season will be discussed. An official of the district office of Portland will be present at the meeting.

PICTURE IN ON DISPLAY.

An enlarged color print of East Lake taken by H. R. Riley of La Pine is on display at Reed & Horton drug store this week. The photograph was taken from a cliff more than 800 feet above the water's edge, and is considered by persons who have been at the lake a remarkable reproduction.

A most complete list of seed for spring sowing has been obtained by the Bend Flour Mill Co. Every sack thoroughly cleaned so as to leave nothing but the large plump berry. See our advertisement.—Adv.

CENTENARIAN JOURNEYS.

John Dowd, 104 years old, the last survivor of the original territory, who has been visiting with relatives near Bend for several weeks left yesterday for Yamhill county. Mr. Dowd is enjoying good health and expected, when he left, to make the trip without difficulty. He has been a resident in Oregon since 1841.

PROGRAM WELL ATTENDED.

The program given by the pupils of the public schools assisted by the Library Club last Friday evening in the Bend Theatre was well attended by the people of the town. The proceeds will be devoted toward the purchase of children's books to be placed in the library.

country in the vicinity of Bend, Crook county. A couple of weeks ago a crew of surveyors started out of Salem, via High street and Bush's 'pasture' in a due easterly direction. Last week they were reported as having passed through Stayton and on their way to Mehama. They were 'saying nothing but sawing wood' but it is known that they were headed for Mill City and it would not be at all surprising if their objective point were Bend, by way of the celebrated Minto pass, the easiest and most direct prospective railroad route to get into the rich country of Central Oregon. It may be that Jim Hill, while the Harriman line is tied up on the Natron-Klamath cut-off, is trying to beat him to it.

eration, such as it was, with rural credits".

Some of the Objections.
Mr. Kay's objections to state aid for irrigation, or bonding or bond guaranteeing, were published in The Bulletin two weeks ago. Billed down he thinks the state oughtn't to bond and oughtn't to encourage irrigation further, at this time.

One of the Treasurer's chief points—and his stand is of interest as echoing the sentiments of some of the ultra-conservative conferees in that there isn't any demand for irrigated or drained land.

He stated that little land had been sold on the Tumalo project since completion, using this as an argument to show that even if more irrigation is undertaken no one wants the land. But just there Lair Thompson of Lakeview climbed into the arena and reminded the pessimistic guardian of the treasury that the big reason lands haven't sold is because the State deliberately has refrained from trying to sell them pending the satisfactory mending of the reservoir.

Further, Kay quoted the petition of Central Oregon water users asking that no further extension of contract be extended on the Benham Falls unit, arguing that this meant the settlers themselves opposed further irrigation development. Thompson properly answered this by remindng the conference that the Benham Falls unit had been turned down by the co-operative state-and-federal survey, and that no one except those interested with a view to possible private profit gave a hang what became of the project which is admittedly unfeasible.

No One From Bend.

Bend was not represented. Fred Wallace of Tumalo was chosen secretary, labored hard and did all he could, as usual. Bill Hanley was in the forefront of the irrigationists' "thin red line" of I. W. W.'s—which means "I Want Water."

Jay Upton of Prineville was also on the job working for the sagebrush country, while President Brewer of the Irrigation Congress (and once of Redmond), did his level best, and even John Bell, now moved from Prineville to Eugene, kept his alliance with the sunshine country when the Willameters unfortunately insisted upon breaking up the conference upon geographic lines.

The biggest and most effectual and best respected of Central Oregon's friends was Robert E. Strahorn. "Uncle Bob" was THERE. That is all that needs to be said. And even if he didn't get entirely what he hoped for, he accomplished a whole lot.

A. L. Mills, chosen chairman of the conference, with C. C. Chapman as efficient henchman, strived for united action, and everyone knows that Mr. Mills is for the state-aid plan enthusiastically. Incidentally, it may be added truthfully, that Mr. Mills is a first class friend and believer in Bend and Central Oregon.
