Irvine is Live One.
We have on our desk, a copy of "The Spade," a little house organ from the office of C. H. Irvine, the hustling president of the Redmond Commercial Club, who spends his leisure moments in the furniture emporium conducted by himself, and sings of farming and like interesting topics. The little publication is issued just semi-occasionally, and at the discretion of the author, and circulated of course for the purpose of getting more business for its promoter. It would be impossible to keep a man of the character, disposition, and optimistic spirit of Mr. Irvine, from unqualified success.—Crock County Journal.

Why Smith's Rock.
The sharp, light colored, spire-like rocks with almost perpendicular walls at the bend of Crooked river a short distance east of Terrebonne, and known as Smith rock, is said to have taken the name from an incident that occurred away back in the early-fifties. Indians got after a man by that name and pressed him so closely that he was forced to take refuge amid these rocks, and as they could scale them at only one point, Smith easily held the fort. They laid siege and, without food or water, he held out for many days, but was nearing the end when some troopers from Camp Polk happened in the vicinity, put the Indians to flight and rescued him from his perilous position.—Redmond Spokesman.

Volume Two.
With this issue of the Record begins Volume II. We have tried to give our readers a clean, newsy paper—the best that could be done with the facilities. We have been able to secure an efficient corps of correspondents in various parts of the county, and this feature has added very materially to the success of the Record as a county newspaper. We thank our large list of subscribers for their support, and trust they will not only continue their patronage but kindly use their influence to induce their friends to join in supporting the paper that endeavors to support the best interests of the people as a whole.—Jefferson County Record.

Jefferson Candidates.
It is shown after all the petitions of candidates have been filed with the clerk, that there will be competition in plenty for nearly all of the county offices. The names of those who have filed petitions are, for county judge, M. C. Mason, Wm. Boegli, N. A. Purdick and Wm. Blair, all republicans; for commissioners, John M. King, Harry J. Chenoweth, P. Chitwood and H. L. Priddy, all republicans; for school superintendent, Lillian Watts, democrat and Mary E. Daugherty and Ethel Klann, republicans; for county clerk, W. E. Johnson and James L. Thomas, democrats, and Sidney D. Percival and H. Bruce Shaw, republicans; for sheriff Ira F. Black, T. W. Thoraburg, Jas. Wood, G. V. Stanton and Roy M. Newell, republicans and L. B. Howsley, democrat; for assessor, Ira P. Holecomb and James T. Robinson, democrats, and John T. Dimey and W. D. Arney, republicans; for treasurer, D. W. Barnett; for surveyor, Walter M. Eaton, the latter two having no competitors in the primaries.—Deschutes Valley Tribune.

Harney County.
For more than twenty years Harney county has been awaiting the coming of the railroad and now it is an assured fact and the train actually crossing the line they are jubilant and look for wonderful development forthwith. This is only the beginning and if they now push ahead with as great energy and perseverance as they have shown the past years theirs will be an achievement seldom equaled in the country. Harney county is known from one end of the country to the other and all eyes are turned that way with greater interest today than ever before.—Juntura Times

Lakeview Has Club.
The Lakeview Commercial Club has been put on a good business basis. Officers have been elected, committees appointed and a working organization formed.
At their last meeting the following officers were elected: Dr. E. H. Smith president, Harry Bailey, vice president and L. F. Cronmiller, secretary. Nine directors were also elected. These will have power to transact any business that may come up at any time outside of regular meetings. In this manner it will be possible to handle all business in a prompt and efficient manner without the necessity of calling a meeting of the entire club. The club meets the first Friday in every month at the court house. Permanent quarters will soon be fitted up for the organization elsewhere so that they can have their own rooms.—Chewaucan Press.

Wants One Road at Least.
It may seem a long time to the citizens of Crescent to wait for a railroad to build into the country and many will become discouraged and move away. However, to the citizen who has resided here for a dozen years, the prospects become brighter as time passes. When one considers the vast timber resources adjacent to the town and the demand for lumber which will be made on the United States as soon as conditions right themselves in the far east it is a certainty that mills will be established in Crescent and railroads will come to haul away the product. We have the same resources that Bend has; we have more timber, as much water power and the soil is just as fertile. It is a down hill haul to seaports and every advantage is ours that any other town has in Eastern Oregon. Then why can we not reasonably expect one railroad while the other town is getting three or four. Our resources have not been brought to the attention of the public is the only reason.—Crescent News.

Taxes are Paid.
By the way the 1915 taxes are coming into the county treasury, the county will be out of debt by May 1st. While most of the citizens are paying only the first half of their taxes some are paying for the full year. Not only will the county be out of debt, but it will be about $15,000 to the good.—Madras Pioneer.

Tourists Coming.
Tourists are coming rapidly these days. Automobile traffic so far this spring is greater than it was at the height of the season last year. The roads are in excellent condition throughout the country, this attracts tourists through this way rather than by muddy roads along the Willamette.—La Pine Inter-Mountain.

Silver Lake Looks Clean.
Practically all of the people in Silver Lake got busy last Saturday morning and in a few hours great heaps of refuse appeared on every side which were soon carried away in wagons. Most of the work was performed by women and school children. The clean up was inaugurated by the Women's Civic Improvement Club, and hereafter will be an annual town event.—Silver Lake Leader.

Surveying Reports.
The Strahorn surveying crew which has been working in the northern part of the Fort Rock valley for some weeks, has discontinued its work in that territory and left for the Milliken valley. The crew now working toward the direction of Klamath Falls is expected to complete the work of surveying through this valley.—Fort Rock Times.

HEAVY TRAVEL EXPECTED DURING SUMMER MONTHS
Crater Lake and Central Oregon, Will Be Rendezvous For Pleasure Seekers Is Belief.
Despite the fact that there is not a San Francisco exposition to lure autoists through Oregon, travel in Central Oregon during the coming summer months is expected to be more than normal. Crater Lake, and Central Oregon promise to be a rendezvous for pleasure seekers. Regardless of the fact that the Central Oregon highways have gained most unfavorable publicity through motorists, travel both from the north and south is expected to be heavy this year.
Crater Lake is being more widely advertised than ever before, and according to publicity men who are encouraging travel, the Central Oregon highways will be traversed by thousands of people. Many who enter southern Oregon via the Pacific highway will return over the Central Oregon highway, and those who come this way from northern points will return, for the most part on the west side.
The roads now are reported to be the best they have been for years. Practically no section of the roads either to the north or south of Bend is in bad condition. Remarkable time is being made from The Dalles to Bend by automobile and from Bend to places to the south and south east no trouble to speak of is being encountered by motorists.

MYSTERIES IN HOLES.
What Becomes of the Earth Rodents, Dig From Their Dens?
I have found two weasels' dens on the margin of a muck swamp in the woods that presented the same insoluble problem as the chipmunk's hole—what has become of the bushel or more of earth that must have been brought to the surface? Both the weasel and the chipmunk have several galleries and one or more large chambers or dining halls, and how each manages to hide or obliterate all the loose soil that must have been removed is a question which has long puzzled me.
If we had an American Fabre or a man who would give himself up to the study of the life histories of our rodents with the same patience and enthusiasm that the wonderful Frenchman has shown concerning the life histories of the insects he would doubtless soon solve the mystery.
I used to think that the chipmunk carried away the soil in his cheek pockets, and I have so declared in one of my books, but I am now very certain that he does not—only his food stores are thus carried.—John Burroughs in Harper's Magazine.

Old Sol was in a good humor on Sunday and gave the ladies a splendid opportunity to display their new Easter toggery. They did. Ideal weather forced an unusual number out of doors Sunday morning.
